To my loving mother,

Words can not express how I am going to miss you. You were more than just a mother to me. You were my right hand. You stood by my side when I was down and gave me comfort and support when I was in need. When I had no one to watch my children you were there. You would pick them up from school or work and attend school functions for me when I could not. If there was anything I needed I could always count on you to be there.

Your faith in God was so strong, you would share it with anyone, whether you knew then or not. For that I will always be grateful because it will help me get through this troubling time of losing you. I can remember a time when I was troubled and you told me to pray about it; put it in God's hands and He will fix it. I knew when you told me to pray that you were already praying too. I also remember the Bible Promise Book that you gave to me. You had taken the time to point out scriptures that I should read.
I will cherish that forever.

I know that you are in a better place now.
So, when I am sad and begin to miss you, all I have to do is look up in the sky and I will see you. God has called one of his angels home and I know that you are watching over me.
