Old Memories

There are those special memories
We cherish through the years,
The most of them are happy ones
A few are touched by tears.
They all become more beautiful
The older now they grow,
And with their age they take their place
As days of long ago.
They are the pictures of a past
For which we sometime yearn,
But which we know so well is gone.
And which cannot return.
They have no market value in
Our commerce of today,
They are not even anything
That we can give away.
And yet those memories can play
A most important part,
As they inspire and console
And help heal our weeping hearts.

Kaleena's Smiling Face

-Lashanda Lane

There is a path of disarray
That children leave behind _
A trail of toys not put away.
_Of clothes they cannot find.
Spills and spots and stains
So mysteriously do appear,
Like muddy footprints when it rains
_And "no ones been in here!"
These are the growing pains
That our family and friends must share
Until they vanish like the stains
_And are no longer there.
Then in immaculate solitude
All is in its place...
But lost somewhere in the interlude
Will be Kaleena's smiling face.
