Dedication

Heartache Overwhelming
Emotions Distraught
Trying to piece together
This tragedy he fought.

The painful moments we share
With love binding us all
Each one here to lift
If another should fall

A unique bond with us all
That nothing could break
Not anger, time,
Nor painful heartache.

Not to see you is horrid
Not to talk is shame
But to loose you forever
We will never do again

Nurturing and caring
Love and understanding
We've each given him
From the very beginning

We can't give anything else
After love and material things
God lifted you to heaven
And gave our angel...his wings
