"There is only one way to look when the day is dark, and that is forward, where the sun is shining behind the clouds. Happiness lies in meeting each day with a smile and going ahead.

The pioneer rose with the sun and labored as it crossed the heavens. And when it sank behind a Western horizon he cheerfully headed home—tired but happy in the consciousness of a man's work done.

It is so that I like to think of Life—when a man like our father is called to his reward—with a man's work done.
