

*In Loving Memory
Of
Mrs. Mable Louise Springs Weaver*

August 27, 1922 - November 29, 2008

Draw near to Me today. Do not be deceived, this is the day and hour that my prophets of old saw and spoke of. I am moving now like the world has never seen or dreamed before. Get on board with your whole heart and prepare for the ride of your life, says the Lord your God.

Obituary

Mrs. Mable Louise Springs Weaver, daughter of the late John and Blossom Springs, was born August 27, 1922 in Allendale, South Carolina. She departed this life on Saturday, November 29, 2008 at the Chapel Hill Rehabilitation and Health Care Center after several months of declining health.

Mable graduated from South Carolina State College in 1943. After graduating she taught Home Economics in Pendleton, South Carolina, a boarding school in Beaufort, South Carolina, and ended her career as a principal of a small private school in Frogmore, South Carolina.

She moved to Chapel Hill, NC with her late husband, James A. Weaver. She dedicated her life to taking care of her husband, children, grandchildren, and home. She was an excellent seamstress, child care provider and loved to cook for anyone who loved to eat.

She leaves to cherish her memory three sons: Clayton B. Weaver (Barbara) of Randallstown, MD, Ronald J. Weaver of Woodbridge, VA, and James C. Weaver (Jernae) of Dumfries, VA; two daughters: Sharon Weaver Davis (Oliver) of Carrboro, NC, and Lilliam Weaver-Woodard (Robert) of Los Angeles, CA. Also surviving are a sister, Jerelease S. Dupree of St. Augustine, FL; fourteen grandchildren, one great grandson, and a host of relatives and friends.

The Lord spoke to my heart and asked me, "Do you want to make a difference for My Kingdom?" I require a pure heart (a heart that reveres my name, my presence) a heart that hides nothing or withholds nothing from Me. Do you know that I am coming back for a people that are without spot, blemish, or wrinkle? Your flesh will only be made perfect when you shall see Me. It is your heart that I desire to be open and true before me.
