FOREWARD

The History of Concord Lodge No. 58 from 1811 through 1958 was written by J. Howard Brown in 1958. The History was Published and sold during that same year.

In 1985 the Lodge felt it would be desirable to update the Lodge history from 1959 to the present. The task of compiling the history was assigned to Brothers Robert G. Brock and Hartwell H. Fuller, Jr., both being Past Masters.

The Lodge minutes were complete and in good order, and therefore the information contained in this history is as accurate as the minutes record. Because so much information was available, the information most relevant and interesting was chosen for inclusion.

The task of compiling this book took longer than anticipated so the History was extended through 1988, the year actually completed and published.

Concord Lodge No. 58 A.F. & A.M. has a rich tradition of history. It is a privilege to help to preserve and share that history with all who are interested.

REPORT AND ROSTER

This series of meeting was inter-spiced with what was perhaps that most significant event on the Grand Lodge level for the '76 celebrations. This took place in Tarboro on Saturday, March 27, 1976, with the unveiling of an historical marker on the Tarboro Commons with an elaborate program, which was state-wide in its application. The Grand Lodge of North Carolina was founded in the Town of Tarboro in December of 1787 and yet that act had never been marked or commemorated in any way in that delightful town. The '76 Committee of the Grand Lodge resolved that this should be one of the highlights of the year's celebrations and during the year 1972 it began making plans to that end. Fortunately, the committee enjoyed the wholehearted cooperation of the Tarboro Town officials and also the Historical Society without whose wonderful assistance the program never could have been enacted. Concord Lodge No. 58 deserves the utmost credit for the manner in which it participated in the formulation and in the execution of the plans for that auspicious event. The program began on that day, March 27, with a parade in which all of the Shrine units in North Carolina participated as well as the dignitaries connected with the program. A luncheon was served by the Chef Crew of Sudan Temple and the Grand Lodge opened at two o'clock in the afternoon in the auditorium of St. James United Methodist Church. After closing the Grand Lodge, the assembled Masons then formed a procession and marched to the Town Common where an appropriate program was presented. There was a program of patriotic music by the Chanters of Oasis Temple which was beautiful; there was a proclamation issued by the Grand Master; then there followed a beautiful and appropriate address by the distinguished former Senator and brother Mason, Sam J. Ervin, Jr. The ceremony of unveiling came next, a moment that had been anticipated by all and upon a given signal the Grand Master and his daughter, Miss Carol Noble, advanced to the marker and with dignity unveiled it. The marker was, and is, a joy to behold, beautiful in every respect, and worthy of all the admiration that could possibly be given to it. It represents a great achievement and Brother John Conway and his able assistants in Greenville who had charge of the construction of the marker deserve the commendation of all Masons in North Carolina. Into the marker before it had been erected there had been placed a copper cylinder in which mementos and souvenirs from each of the nine Lodges that participated in the organization of the Grand Lodge in Tarboro in 1787 had been placed. There were mementos also from Concord Lodge No. 58 of Tarboro and, appropriately, mementos from the Grand Lodge itself. All of these mementos were placed in the copper container, sealed, and deposited within the large rectangular base of the historical marker. It is hoped that one hundred years from now the capsule, or container, might be re-opened and a comparison made of conditions in the year 2076 as related to 1776 and 1776.

On that occasion - and subsequently also in the '76 Committee's report to the Grand Lodge of North Carolina presented, April 1976 to the Grand Lodge, and approved at that time - that in the year 1987, when the Grand Lodge itself will have reached its two hundredth birthday, the Grand Lodge would return to the beautiful little town of Tarboro and there it would hold a two hundredth anniversary celebration that would be worthy of the marvelous history of Masonry in North Carolina.

Also, on the Grand Lodge level, the '76 Committee prepared silver and bronze coins for sale among the brethren. There were 1,000 of the silver coins and 15,000 of the bronze coins, all of which have been received and have been distributed among the brethren.

It was announced that Brother William Joseph Bateman died April 14. Brother Rudy Allsbrook reported the signing of the lease to Volume Merchandising, Inc. with an occupancy date of July 1.

May - Brother Joe Kerman, D.D.G.L., was welcomed on his official visit to the Lodge on May 10. A motion was made and passed to have necessary repairs made to the carpet on the Lodge floor and the bathrooms. Brother Donald Sizemore, Director of Admissions at the orphanage, was authorized to investigate the home situation and determine the status of the children in question.

A memorial gift will be sent to Oxford Orphanage in his memory.

A general discussion was held on attendance and why it is so low. Several questions were raised as to how we may encourage more fellowship, and how we may obtain more support for Oxford Orphanage and the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. It was discussed that the Lodge should have a planned program for the activities to encourage and use the talents of members of Concord Lodge.
