(6) An extensive survey was conducted to determine the industrial potential of Burgaw and Pender County. This information, published in booklet form, has been sent to several hundred companies seeking plant sites in the South. Copies have also been sent to the industrial departments of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Carolina Power and Light Co., and North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development.

(7) A concentrated drive was made to secure additional industry and payroll for Burgaw and Pender County. The N. C. Dept. of Conservation and Development, working with the local club has sent several industrial prospects to visit our county. A local development corporation with over $44,000 stock sold has been formed to provide buildings for rental to any company to locate in this area. This organization is at present in contact with several prospects and it appears that at least one of these companies will locate here during 1956.

(8) Leases for two vacant lots were secured and with the cooperation of town officials was transformed into off-street parking areas accomodating one hundred cars or more. This action has alleviated the parking problem in town of Burgaw and much praise has been given to the Jaycees.

(9) After 25 years without a fair, residents of Pender County witnessed a third consecutive and bigger fair than ever during October. A Jaycee project from beginning to end, we had 100% membership participation. Active committee work on nearly all phases of the fair was required throughout the year. Thousands of Jaycee man-hours were spent in planning and conducting. Attendance doubled that of the past fairs. A profit of $3,550 was realized, all of which will be used to better future fairs. Extensive newspapers, radio and television publicity. Dignitaries included Governor Hodges, Senator Erwin and Faye Arnold.

Everyone's wondering who will represent Pender County as the 1957 Dairy Princess. With the fourteen lovely contestants, it will be a tough decision for the judges as they view the Pender County "Milk-Lrinking" lassies during the Second Annual Farmer's Day Celebration to be held in Burgaw on June 6.

The contest will be one of the many events to take place during the full-day program. Each of the contestants will be presented to the general public from a stage to be erected in the courthouse square a 2:00 P. M.

Prior to the contest, all the fourteen lassies trying for the title, will grace a lovely float during the parade which begins at 11:00 A. M. Incidentally the float on which the girls will ride will be decoated by the Home Demonstration Clubs of Pender, and some of the Dairymen.

The young lady selected as Pender's Dairy Princess will represent this county in the District Contest to be held in Wilmington sometime in June. Her trip will be financed by the Dairy Industry serving this area. She will also win a tasty and beautiful ice cream cake, also donated by the Dairy Industry. Each participant will receive a half gallon of ice cream.

Agreed to invite John Wynn to address club during regular meeting in June on the dairy industry in Pender County.

WHATTA RACE — It was a close race between two youngsters as they competed in the "Ice Cream Eating Contest" held in the Courthouse during the second annual Pender County Farmers' Day Celebration. The contest, in which Carl Murray was declared the winner, was a part of the Dairy Princess event Thursday afternoon. Carl ate one pint of ice cream (without spoon) in four minutes, with little Lee Simpson giving him a hard race. Carl's reward — more ice cream. He won a half-gallon to take home. Approximately 12 entered the contest.

Assistant County Agent Speaks To Burgaw Jaycees On "Dairy Month"

John Wynne, Assistant Pender County Agent, spoke to the Burgaw Jaycees at their meeting Monday night and discussed the nationwide program of June Dairy Month. Wynne was introduced by Dr. John Dees, President of the organization, also shown in above photo.

Wynne told the group that June Dairy Month was an effort to increase the consumption of milk and milk products in all parts of the United States. He suggested that the Jaycees support the movement for both economic and health reasons. He said that Pender County dairies sold more than $500,000 worth of milk in 1956.

In a survey among approximately 500 4-H club boys and girls, it was determined that less than 10 per cent drank one glass of milk a day. Wynne suggested that milk for the school lunch program in Pender County would help the situation some. He said that some schools in the county do not serve milk at lunch time.

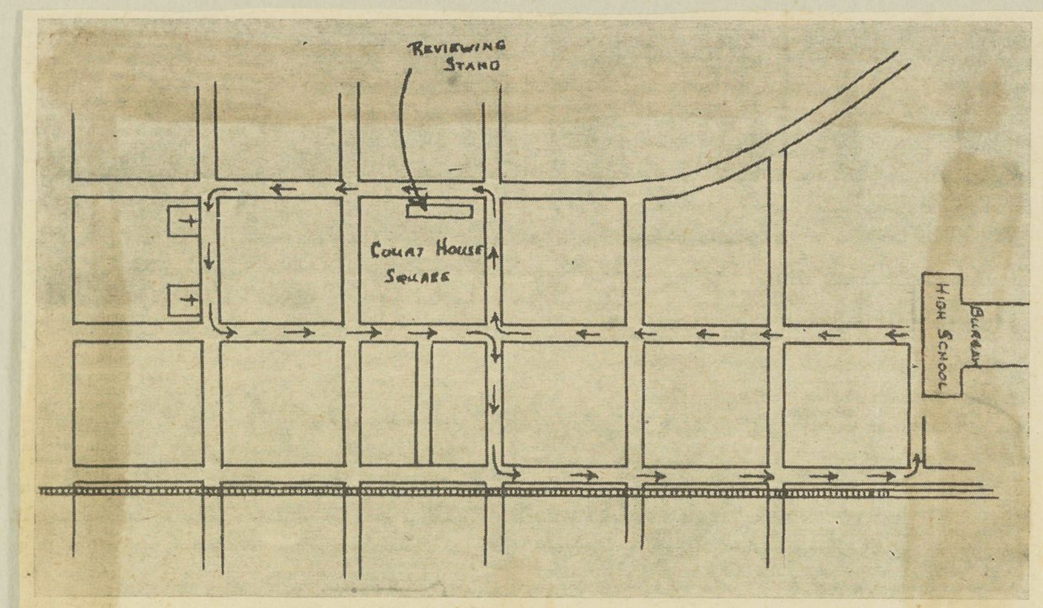
Dr. John Dees 3-58



PARADE ROUTE — Above is shown the proposed parade route for the second annual Pender County Farmers' Day parade June 6. Parade will form at the school house, move straight to the courthouse square, go up one block around square, and on up street to block on which Baptist and Methodist churches are located. It will then swing down past the courthouse square again, turning right at the bank corner and proceeding to road next to railroad tracks, which it will follow back to the school house. The parade will begin promptly at 11:00 p.m.

Final Run-down On Farmers' Day Events Given By Chairman Brown

With Farmers' Day only a week away, General Chairman R. E. Brown was busy as the proverbial bee today, but he took time off to drop by the Chronicle office and extend his heartiest thanks to local merchants and county agents, as well as many civic-minded individuals, who had cooperated with him so well to make the second annual event successful.

Chairman Brown said he hoped that the day would be an enjoyable one for visitors, in that so many people had worked so hard to make it that.

He gave a final run-down of the events of the day, which will begin with a parade at 11:00 a.m. Prior to that, he mentioned, the county offices in the courthouse are holding open house — from 9:00 till 11:00 — and all county officials are hoping to have visitors from the public on that occasion.

Following the parade a band concert on the grounds will be held.

At 12:00 special ceremonies featuring an address by Dean D. W. Colvard of the State College School of Agriculture will take place. Colvard is well-known throughout this and other sections of North Carolina, and his address should prove beneficial to the citizens of Pender County.

A picnic lunch on the courthouse square is planned for 1:00 and if past occasions are used as a yardstick, it is certain that this feature of the day will be most enjoyable indeed.

Beauty and charm will hold the attention of the guests at 2:30, when the contest to determine Pender County's Dairy Princess will get underway. Those who attended last year will recall the intense interest this part of the program generated.

Concluding event will be a street dance, scheduled to begin at 8:00, featuring the music of Billy Melton and his band.

Additional incentive to attend this occasion of Farmers' Day will also be provided, Chairman Brown said, in the form of valuable free attendance prizes, to be given away at intervals throughout the day. Prizes are being donated by local merchants.

Dr. Colvard To Be Farm Day Speaker At Burgaw June 6

BURGAW, May 30 — Dr. D. W. Colvard, dean of the School of Agriculture at North Carolina State College, will be the featured speaker at the Farmers' Day celebration in Burgaw June 6.

R. E. Brown, chairman of the Farmers' Day committee, reported Thursday that a day-long program of events are planned for this event expected to attract thousands from throughout the Pender County area.

The gala program will get under way at 11 a. m. when the big parade featuring pretty girls, attractive floats and several bands marches through the town. A band concert will be held on the courthouse lawn after the parade.

The talk by Dr. Colvard will be delivered from the courthouse square, center for most of the events, at noon.

A picnic lunch, featuring the best of Pender County cooking, will be held on the courthouse square at 1 p. m.

At 2 p. m. 14 young Pender County "Milk Drinking Beauties" will compete for the title of Pender County Dairy Princess for 1957. The girl selected as Pender's Dairy Princess will represent the county in the district contest to be held in Wilmington in June. The girls will be judged on healthy appearance, natural attractiveness, beauty, personality, poise, photogeneticity and voice. She must be a consumer of dairy products and milk.

The Farmers' Day program will come to a close with a street dance to begin at 8 p. m. The Billy Melton orchestra of Wilmington will provide the music for the street dance.

Earl Myers, chairman of the parade committee, reports that approximately 20 floats will appear in the parade. In addition, he points out two military bands, one from the Second Marine Division and one from Fort Bragg and the Burgaw High School Band will participate in the festivities.

In addition to bands and floats, a number of saddle horse, shetland ponies and clowns will take part in the parade. The clowns, Myers adds, will distribute goodies to the children along the parade route.

INVITATION

On behalf of the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, I want to extend to every citizen of Pender County a cordial invitation to the second annual Farmers' Day celebration to be held in the County Seat on Thursday, June 6th.

This event has been planned with the thought that the spirit of friendship and cooperation which is present in our county may be advanced. The time has been set with the help of the County Agents and Home Agents, in order that most of our farmers might find time to come. It is a period of much work in Pender County, but at this particular time it would be nice to get together with old friends from all over the county once more before the summer's work hits us in full stride. Not until after tobacco is sold will our citizens again have the time and opportunity to spend a day with old friends and relatives in the county. Let's make this a real Homecoming day before things get too busy.

The program is well planned. Dean Colvard of the School of Agriculture at N. C. State will make the principal address following a big parade. After the speechmaking, we will enjoy a "dinner on the grounds" which will be very enjoyable. Pender County's Dairy Princess will be selected in the afternoon. It should be fun.

We hope to see you at Farmers' Day.

Sincerely,
John T. Dees, M.D.
President, Burgaw J.C.C.

Farmer's Day Proclamation

The farmers of Pender County have made distinct progress along many lines during the recent years and they have realized the advantages occuring from cooperative efforts in many lines of activity.

The farmer has become a world citizen in that he must enter into competition with world markets in selling many of the products of his farm.

I have watched with interest and appreciation the many successful cooperative associations which afford the farmer the facilities for marketing his products at the most opportune time and in the most profitable way.

I fully commend them in their efforts, and the success they have made thus far.

Whereas, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, local merchants, Town and county officials are desiring to honor all the farmers of Pender County at the County Seat on June 6, 1957, with a gala celebration.

Whereas, I am quite sure that every citizen of our Town will be happy to join hands in this event.

In Witness Whereof, I, A. H. Davis, Mayor of the Town of Burgaw, have signed and do proclaim Thursday, June 6, 1957 to be set aside as Farmers Day.

Signed
A. H. Davis, Mayor.

Floats, Bands And Clowns; All To Appear In Farmers' Day Parade

Is there anyone who doesn't love a parade? There is something about band music, the beautifully decorated floats and the crowns that makes parade time a happy time.

That being the case, citizens of the town and county are in for a treat on Thursday, June 6, Pender County's second annual Farmers' Day celebration.

The day is to officially open with a parade, which will start at 11:00 A. M., and which will contain much to please the eye and ear. Approximately twenty floats are expected to be on hand for the event, as well as two military bands, one, the Second Marine Division band, which will be remembered from past parades, and also a band from Fort Bragg. In addition, Burgaw's own High School Band plans to participate in the festivities.

Earl Myers, parade chairman, said that in addition to bands and floats, a number of saddle horses would appear in the parade, along with a group of Shetland ponies, to be ridden by various small fry of the area. Around five cars of dignitaries from the area will lead off the event.

And, last, but first, perhaps in the hearts of the children, will be the clowns who will antic their way along the parade route, passing out goodies to those along the route.

Myers asked that anyone who had anything to do with the parade be at the Burgaw school, starting point for the parade, one-half hour prior to parade time, at 10:30. He also extends a welcome to organizations or businesses who have not indicated they would enter a float, but who would like to, despite the lateness of the hour.

"Just let us know and come on down," said Myers.

Courthouse To Hold "Open House" During Farmer's Day Celebration

A highlight of the Second Annual Farmer's Day Celebration to be held in Burgaw June 6 is "open house" at the Pender County Courthouse. All office personnel will welcome visitors at any hour during the day, and will be happy to talk with the visitors concerning the services of his particular job.

Services to the public are available from the more than fifteen agencies and offices of the Pender County Courthouse.

Many people are not aware that for most part, that the individual gets as much service here, as in any county in the state. Many people who work in the various offices of the Pender County Courthouse, serving the public, have done a wonderful job, yet, never receives recognition.

It is believed that holding "open house" would be beneficial in bringing town and county people together for fellowship, and at the same time acquaint the public with the different agencies and duties fulfilled in the various offices.

A series of news articles and pictures of the different office personnel will be run each week in this paper prior to the Farmer's Day celebration.

One of the familiar offices located in the courthouse, which is depended upon by many of the other offices for a great deal of support is the Tax Collector's office. Through taxes collected in the county, other phases of the county's work can continue to function. The county contributes partly or one hundred per cent to all agencies in the Courthouse, with the exception of the F. H. A., Soil Conservation, and A. S. C.

L. R. Bradshaw, tax collector, has served the county in this capacity for 17 years. Another of the personnel is Mrs. V. C. Bordeaux, who has held her position for the past 22 years.

Both Mrs. Bordeaux and Mr. Bradshaw deserve much credit for the many hours of service, and for their help to the hundreds who go to their office for looking up old records on back taxes, etc. As in all public work, they receive many complaints and criticisms, however, they stand ready to do their best in serving the people of Pender County.

Another first floor office that is of much interest as well as importance is that of the Register of Deeds. H. C. Walker is the Register of Deeds and assisting him in his work is Mrs. Frances Basden. Mrs. W. M. Winbourn assists part time. Mr. Walker has been employed in this capacity for 22 years, Mrs. Basden for 3 years, and Mrs. Winbourn for 4 years.

Among the duties performed in the Register of Deed's office are: recording deeds, chattel mortgages, conditional sales contracts, issuing marriage license, recording births and deaths, issuing certified copies of any record that is kept in this office, and recording federal tax liens.

Several times during a year, high school students visit the office and are shown the entire proceedure that takes place when a paper is recorded. Mr. Walker invites all schools to make a date for their students to visit his office

Public Reminded Of "Open House" At Courthouse During Farmers Day Celebration On June 6th

Beginning last week, to help acquaint the public with the various offices, personnel and functions of the different agencies located in the Pender County Courthouse in Burgaw, this newspaper began running a series of stories and pictures. This is being done in conjunction with the "Open House" of the Pender County Courthouse which is planned as a part of the Second Annual Farmer's Day Celebration program to be held in Burgaw on June 6.

Pictures and stories are of interest, however, much more can be obtained by the public visiting the many offices of the local courthouse, and getting first hand information. This will give the public a deeper realization of just how much important work is carried on as a public service in YOUR courthouse. It is hoped that you and your family will plan to tour the courthouse during Farmer's Day, at which time guides will be provided your benefit.

Following are three additional agencies of the courthouse, The County Home Demonstration Agency, the County Farm Agency, and the Pender County Public Library, and the type work carried on

Pender County Farm Day Features Lejeune Band

BURGAW — A Camp Lejeune band led a parade here yeserday that highlighted the second annual Pender County Farmers Day celebration.

At 12 noon a band concert was given by the Marine Band, following which guests were welcomed and Dr. D. W. Colvard, dean of the School of Agriculture, North Carolina State College, gave the principal address.

A picnic dinner scheduled to take place on the courthouse lawn took place in the school cafeteria when a driving rain descended just as the tables were being set for the meal.

"We are proud of the recognition of your co-operation in rural development and of the record of prograss that has characterized the forward advancement of Pender County," Dr. Colvard said.

"Pender County has provided fine leadership for the state. Farming is the most important single business in North Carolina today. We have more farm people than any state in the United States. It is true that we need industry and that agriculture is changing and that farmers depend more and more on other businessmen for certain phases of their farming operations.

Hundreds Of Farmers And Families Attend Second Annual Farmers' Day Celebration In Burgaw Thursday

1957 Farmers Celebration Considered Highly Successful

Several hundred Pender County farmers, their wives and children joined the many Burgawins Thursday in the celebration of the second annual Pender County Farmer's Day.

Despite the threating rain, which fortunately held up until after the parade, a crowd was on hand to view the gala parade which began at 11:00 A. M. Leading the parade was a Marine Corps band from Camp Lejeune, followed by many lovely local floats as well as floats representing Whiteville, Fairmont, Wilmington, Carolina Beach, etc. Adding the usual humorous touch which always appeals to both youngsters and adults alike, was "Toby" the clown, who was formerly with Ringlin Brothers Circus. In addition to beautiful floats loaded with lovely young ladies from Pender and other communities, Thursday's parade had other attractions such as a prancing poney, ridden by a local lad. More laughter rang when little Lee Simpson "horned" into the parade at the main intersection of the business district, driving a decorated cart pulled by a goat. The Simpson youngster put on a "sure enough" clown act that spiced the parade. A badly wrecked auto pulled by Russ's Wrecker gave a more serious side, as spectators read the safety warning signs placed on both sides of the wrecked vehicle.

Even though this year's parade was not as long as had been anticipated, it was considered by many spectators as "just long enough," while others could be heard saying, "the floats were prettier than ever." Many favorable remarks were heard along the streets of downtown Burgaw.

At 12:00 noon a band concert was given by the Marine Band, following which guests were welcomed and Dr. D. W. Colvard, Dean of the School of Agriculture, North Carolina State College, gave the principal address.

In addressing the crowd on the courthouse square, Dr. Colvard said, "We are proud of the recognition of your co-operation in rural development and of the progress that has characterized the forward advancement of Pender County."

He stressed the importance of farming and commended Pender on having become quite a livestock and poultry county. "In fact, since 1940, cash receipts from livestock and poultry in the state have increased 648 per cent. This may be contrasted with the 328 per cent increase of the nation as a whole," the agriculturalist explained.

By the time for the picnic dinner, rain had driven the crowd and their baskets of food into the Burgaw High School cafeteria. However, the rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd or the flavor of the food.

One of the highlights of the festivities was the "Miss Dairy Princess of 1957" contest held in the courtroom during the afternoon. Miss Lucille Allred, representing the Burgaw Homemaker's Home Demonstration Club, was selected from nine Pender lasses to bear the 1957 title of "Miss Dairy Princess." She will represent Pender at the District Contest to be held in Wilmington later on this month. The contestants were judged on healthy appearance, natural attractiveness, beauty, personality, poise, photogeneticity, and pleasing voice.

In conjunction with this event, an "Ice Cream Eating Contest" was held, at which time approximately twelve persons participated. The race was close between teenager Carl Murray, and little Lee Simpson, as Murray took the lead by eating a pint of ice cream in four minutes.

From 11:00 A. M. 'til 4:00 P. M. "Open House" was held at the county courthouse in Burgaw. Guides took many interested persons on a tour of the entire building, explaining the various works going on in the different offices. Not only was this of interest, but of much benefit to the general public who is served daily by the offices and agencies located in the Courthouse.

During the late afternoon, some out-of-town folk visited with friends, while others took this opportunity to do the shopping for household and farm supplies.

The second annual Pender County Farmer's Day Celebration, sponsored by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, was successfully concluded Thursday night with a "street dance" which the rains forced into an "indoor" event.

ENJOYS PARADE—Little Bill James, all dolled up in a red suit for the occasion, was enjoying the Farmers' Day Parade Thursday.

Big Crowd Attends Second Annual Farm Day At Burgaw

BURGAW, June 6 — Despite threatening rain, which forced a picnic dinner to be held indoors, several hundred farmers, their wives and children attended the second annual Pender County Farmers' Day in Burgaw Thursday.

A parade which began at 11 a.m. and which included local school floats, those from business firms of nearby Wilmington and other communities, was led by a Marine Corps band from Camp Lejeune.

At 12 noon a band concert was given by the Marine Band, following which guests were welcomed and Dr. D. W. Colvard, Dean of the School of Agriculture, North Carolina State College, gave the principal address.

A picnic dinner scheduled to take place on the courthouse lawn took place in the school cafeteria when a driving rain descended just as the tables were being set for the meal.

"We are proud of the recognition of your co-operation in rural development and of the record of progress that has characterized the forward advancement of Pender County," Dr. Colvard said.

"Pender County has provided fine leadership for the state. Farming is the most important single business in North Carolina today. We have more farm people than any state in the United States. It is true that we need industry and that agriculture is changing and that farmers depend more and more on other businessmen for certain phases of their farming operations.

"You have become quite a livestock and poultry county. In fact, since 1940, our cash receipts from livestock and poultry in the state have increased 648 per cent. This may be contrasted with the 328 per cent increase of the nation as a whole," the agriculturalist explained.

FOOD FOR FARMERS—Tables crowded with food and crowds ready to eat are seen at the Burgaw Farm Day Thursday. Rain drove those attending indoors but failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd of the flavor of the food.

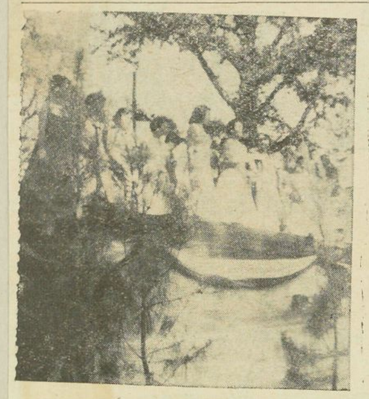
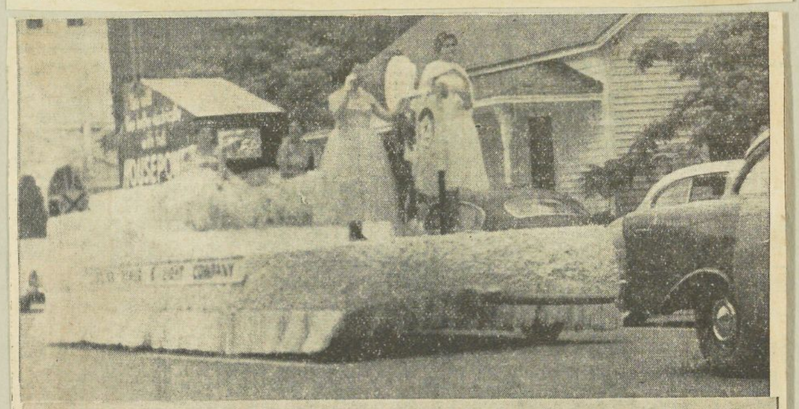
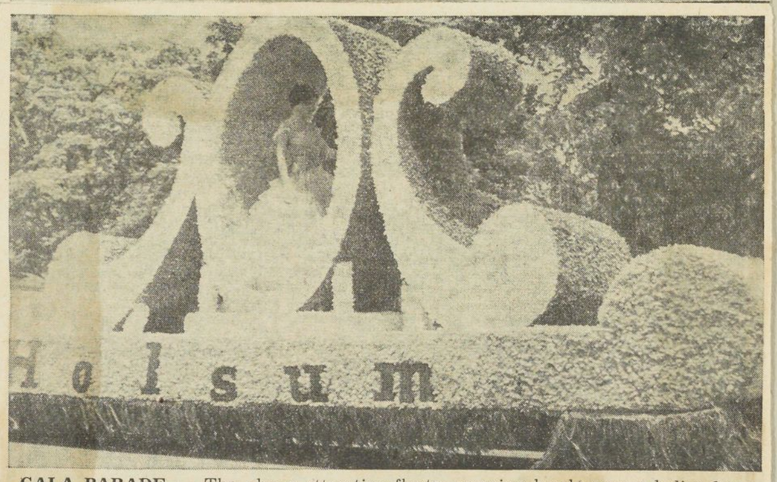
PARADE HIGHLIGHT OF FARMERS' DAY — Farmers' Day in Burgaw, the second annual such event for Pender County, will be highlighted by a parade which will include many attractive floats such as those pictured above. Floats above appeared in last year's parade. This year's promises to be even better.



TO BE REPEATED HERE — Scenes such as those pictured above will be repeated here on Thursday, June 6, at Pender County's second annual Farmers' Day gets under way. Above are shown crowds enjoying picnic lunch and bevy of beauties lined up for Dairy Princess contest. Both events will be repeated in this year's calendar of events.





GALA PARADE — The above attractive floats, carrying lovely young ladies from Pender as well as other communities contributed much to the gala parade held during the second annual Pender County Farmer's Day celebration in Burgaw Thursday: Sealtest float; Whiteville float; Carolina Beach float; Carolina Power & Light Company float; Atlantic Coast Line float; Holsum float.

Fair Planning Group Schedule Meet Next Week

Two separate meetings for planning the annual Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair have been scheduled to be held in Burgaw during next week by the Fair Association. With the Fair set for October 9-12 at the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw, many meetings are being arranged in order that some of the necessary plans might be made.

It was announced by Mrs. Herman Murray of Burgaw, chairman of the Exhibits Committee, that her group will meet on Monday, May 20 at 8.00 P. M. The meeting will be held at the Burgaw Town Hall, and all members of the Exhibits Committee are urged to be present. Fair Manager J. N. Honeycutt will meet with the group.

Several decisions concerning exhibits and premium lists must be made before the next meeting of the Association's Board of Directors. Since the catalog is to be in the hands of the printer by July 15, the Exhibits Committee feels that work on some of their duties must be started immediately.

In addition to Mrs. Murray, the Exhibits committee is composed of J. H. Sumner, C. R. Dillard and F. J. Marshburn of Willard; Mrs. Milton Chadwick and W. H. Robbins of Burgaw; Mrs. Cecil Eakins of Ivanhoe and Mrs. Lee Wright of Rocky Point.

Directors

The monthly meeting of the Fair Association's Board of Directors is planned for 8:00 P. M., Wednesday, May 22, at the Courthouse in Burgaw. All directors are asked to take notice of this important meeting and to be in attendance.

With less than five months remaining before the Fair begins, officials point out that the various committees are urged to continue with their advance planning in order to promote a more successful fair. 1957 FAIR PROGRAM TO BE GREATLY ENLARGED

Program To Be Released For Publication In Chronicle In Near Future

All reports presented at the recent Directors' meeting of the Pender County Agricultural Fair Association point toward a bigger and better Fair for 1957. The fifth annual Jaycee — Pender Agricultural Fair will open at the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw on Wednesday, October 9, for a four day run and will continue through Saturday, October 12.

Directors who were in attendance at the business session include: Howard Holly, president; A. H. Page, vice-president; Mrs. Worth Rich, secretary; John A. Carraway, treasurer; J. N. Honeycutt, manager; Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, Earl W. Myers, Dr. John T. Dees, Mrs. Herman Murray, Edward Ferrell and Charles Highsmith.

The meeting was opened with prayer, after which reports were made by each of the five officers.

The committee reports which followed revealed that many of the plans for the 1957 Jaycee - Pender Fair have been made, and various committees are now working on some of the minor details in connection with their respective group's participation.

Catalog

It was announced that all material to be included in the Fair catalog would be available to the printer by July 15. Mrs. Herman Murray, chairman of the Exhibits committee, explained that the 1957 premium list was finished. Representatives from the County Farm and Home Agents' offices assisted the Exhibits group in preparing this list which will be published in full in the catalog. The premium list will also be included in a future edition of The Pender Chronicle.

Edward Ferrell, Finance Chairman, reported the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce had almost completed their project of soliciting advertisements for the fair catalog, and these ads would be turned over to the Catalog Committee no later than July 1.

Ferrell and other Directors present were high in their praise of the many business firms of Pender County and adjoining counties who cooperated by sponsoring advertisements in the catalog. The Finance chairman said over $1300 in ads would be obtained and explained this was one of the most important means the Association had in obtaining funds for premium money and other Fair expenses.

Program

Dr. John T. Dees, Burgaw Jaycee president and Fair Program committee chairman, outlined the main activities that will be scheduled during each day and night at the Fair. The program has been enlarged and promises to be of interest to every person who attends the Fair. A detailed copy of the entertainment schedule will be released in this newspaper within a few weeks, according to Dr. Dees.

The Program committee will meet at the Burgaw Town Hall on Friday, July 5, at 8:00 P. M. to draft the final outline of activities so a full copy of the program may be included in the catalog.

In addition to the chairman, other members of the committee are: Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, vice-chairman; Mrs. Worth Rich, A. H. Page, W. T. Batchelor, Mrs. Herman Murray and the Rev. C. F. Grill.

Additional Committees Named For Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair

Much of the planning for the Jaycee Pender Agricultural Fair for 1957 has been started. Several committees have been appointed and are now working to stage one of the most successful fairs that Pender County has ever witnessed.

The Fair will be held at the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw and will begin on Wednesday, October 9, 1957. It will continue through Saturday, October 12. Every effort is being made to plan a fair which will provide much interest and entertainment for the thousands who plan to attend this annual agricultural event.

President Howard Holly today reported that most of the committees have already begun to work. He stated the Fair Association feels that this advance planning will tend to promote a more successful fair.

Holly said that many individuals and groups would be called upon to assist in staging the 1957 Fair and urged the people of Pender County to give freely of their time in helping to promote the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair.

The names of three additional committees have been announced by J. N. Honeycutt, Fair Manager. These include Grounds and Facilities; Rides and Gate.

GROUNDS — The Grounds and Facilities committee will be headed by J. N. Honeycutt, Pender Farm Agent and manager of the 1957 Fair. Honeycutt was president of the Fair Association in 1954 and 1955. Last year while serving as Grounds and Facilities committee chairman, he supervised the construction of the first permanent building on the Fair Grounds. A large livestock building was constructed and proved very helpful in housing livestock during the 1956 Fair.

Assisting Mr. Honeycutt on this committee is W. T. Chaffin, a past Burgaw Jaycee president and the immediate past president of the Fair Association; D. L. Mercer, Jr., of Rocky Point; Marion Bowen, Milton Murray and Thomas Robbins, all of Burgaw.

The Grounds and Facilities committee will plan the location of all tents, buildings, outside exhibits, rides and concessions. Members will also be responsible for securing such facilities as lighting and running water. A stage will need to be assembled. Exhibit booths, exhibit tables and livestock pens

PENDER FAIR IN OCTOBER—The announcement that the annual Pender County Fair will be held this year Oct. 9-12 insures continuance of the oldtime county fair with some modern dressings. The Pender Fair is one of those still keeping alive this institution which has meant and continues to mean so much to the people of this and other states. This year's Pender County program promises to be one of the best ever offered. It will include many exhibits and also will have beauty contests, spelling bees and numerous other activities —all of them designed for the entertainment as well as edification of participants and spectators. The oldtime fair with its exhibits of jams, jellies, preserves, quilted, knitted and sewn articles hasn't passed from the scene although some of the arrangements necessarily are modified by the considerations of the present. But the Pender County Fair at Burgaw — remember the dates Oct. 9 through Oct. 12 — is one you won't want to miss and one you should try to attend.

Fair Association Board of Directors hold one of many meetings. 7 Jaycees are present.

New Fair Building!

Construction was started Monday on a new Exhibit Building at the Pender Fairgrounds in Burgaw. Fair Association President Howard Holly said the building would be completed in ample time for the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Fair which opens on Wednesday, October 9.

The new Exhibit building will measure twenty-four feet wide and sixty feet long. Being constructed on a contract basis by Horace Murray, it is located beside the Livestock building which was built last year.

The width of the new building is to be divided into three sections of eight feet each. Eight feet of space on each side is to be used for exhibits, and a center aisle of eight feet will be provided to accommodate spectators.

The $1000 award which Pender received for being named as North Carolina's County of the Year in Rural Progress for 1956 has been given to the building project. The Fair Association will pay the remaining costs.

This construction program is under the direction of the Fair Association's Grounds and Facilities Committee, headed by Fair Manager J. N. Honeycutt.

PENDER FAIR ASSOCIATION TO CONSTRUCT NEW EXHIBIT BUILDING

A new exhibit Building will be constructed at the Pender County Fairgrounds prior to the opening of the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw on Wednesday, October 9. According to an announcement by Howard Holly, Fair Association president, this action was one of several decisions made at a recent meeting of the Association's Board of Directors.

The building will be situated on the Association's property adjacent to the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw. Last year the Fair group purchased three and one-half acres of land which borders Memorial Field on the west side.

The first permanent building constructed on this property was completed before the opening of the 1956 aFir. It is used as a Livestock Building and is well-arranged for that purpose. The building was a great asset in housing the livestock exhibits entered last year and was visited by large throngs of interested Fair-goers.

Pole Type

The Directors, which act for the fifty-three Fair Association members in conducting the corporation's affairs, approved the recommendation from both the Grounds and Facilities committee and the special planning group that the new building be of pole frame construction. Many Fairs and other agricultural organizations use this type building, and the cost of such a structure is considerably lower than when other types are used.

The proposed Exhibit building will be twenty-four feet wide and sixty feet long. To be constructed on a contract basis; it will be located within a short distance from the present Livestock building.

The width of the building will be divided into three sections consisting of eight feet each. Eight feet of space on each side is to be used for exhibit displays, and a center aisle of eight feet will be provided to accommodate spectators.

Holly pointed out that Earl W. Myers, chairman; Mrs. Emily C. Johnson and J. N. Honeycutt, who constituted the planning group for the proposed building, were asked by the Directors to continue with their duties until the building is completed.

Work will begin within the next few weeks, according to Myers, and the new structure should be completed in ample time for use at the Fair which opens on Wednesday, October 9, and continues through Saturday, October 12.

Jaycee-Pender Fair Catalog For '57 Expected To Be Distributed August

Work has begun on compiling the 1957 catalog edition of the annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair. Officials of the Fair Association today announced that members of the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce have been engaged to solicit advertisements from merchants and other business firms in Pender and adjoining counties. This marks the fifth year that the local Jaycees have secured advertisements for Fair catalogs.

Buck Ferrell of Burgaw and George Spayd, Jr., of Currie, co-chairmen of the Fair Association's Finance Committee, are in charge of the soliciting and are being assisted by several members of the Jaycee Club.

The Jaycees will also contact businessmen for the purpose of selling inside and outside commercial exhibit spaces on the Fair Grounds.

Contents

Eighty-six businesses sponsored advertisements in last years attractive catalog which was printed by 'The Pender Chronicle.' The committee plans to enlarge the catalog considerably and hopes to obtain approximately one hundred advertisements. Three different size spaces are available: one page, a half age and a quarter page.

The new Fair catalog will consist of about seventy-five pages and will outline in full the schedule of entertainment for the 1957 Jaycee - Pender Fair, which is set for October 9-12 at the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw. In addition to the advertisements and program schedule, a list of various officers and committees of the Fair Association will be provided.

Messages from several Fair and County officials are also to be included. Rules and regulations covering the 1957 Fair will be outlind ein full, and a complete premium list for all departments of Exhibits is to be furnished.

Distribution

Plans are for the catalog to be in the hands of the printer by July 15. This will enable the books to be printed and distributed by the opening date of the Pender County schools, set for August 21, 1957.

The Fair catalogs which are in great demand each year are widely distributed. Over one thousand will be printed, and these will reach practically every home in Pender County through distribution by the schools. It is estimated that several thousand residents of the county will have access to these catalogs.

Advertisements from business establishments are greatly appreciated and help considerably in furnishing premium money to be paid to various winners in departmental Exhibits entries. The Fair management expressed thanks to all firms of the county and area who have participated by sponsoring advertisements in the past four catalogs and urges a continuation of this cooperation.

New business firms are especially asked to place advertisements in the 1957 Fair catalog. If any business is overlooked by Jaycees who are soliciting advertisements, the Fair Association invites those firms to contact either Mr. Ferrell of Mr. Spayd and sponsor an advertisement.

Catalog Committee

The Catalog Committee is composed of W. C. Blackmore, chairman; Manley Blackburn, vice-chairman; John Wynne, Mrs. Frances H. Bostic, Jim Pyron, all of Burgaw; and Mrs. Norman Wooten of Maple Hill.

After the advertisements have been secured by the Jaycees, the committee will be responsible for compiling all features of the catalog, having it printed and distributed. The County Agents' offices will assist with the Premium list, and a copy of the entertainment features is to be furnished by the program committee.

FAIR GROUNDS AND FACILITIES COMMITTEE — This group's work is very important in staging the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw, October 9-12, 1957. The committee will plan the location of tents, buildings, outside exhibits, rides and concessions, parking area and the grandstead. An initial meeting was held last week, and all members were in attendance. Pictured discussing plans for the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Fair are, reading left to right, front row: D. L. Mercer, Jr., of Long Creek; County Farm Agent J. N. Honeycutt, committee chairman and fair manager; Marion W. Bowen; and Assistant Farm Agent W. T. Chaffin, Jr.; back row: Milton Murray; Association President Howard Holly; and Thomas Robbins, all of Burgaw.

Exibit Committee depends on non-Jaycee advisors for Farm and Home Exibits. 2 Jaycees here

HAVE YOUR CAKE – AND EAT IT TOO!

The old saying, "You can't have your cake and eat it too," doesn't apply to the modern farmer who practices soil and water conservation. Through soil and water conservation it is possible to get top production from the cropland NOW and in the future.

To encourage soil and water conservation practices in the Finer Carolinas, CP&L sponsors a "Finer Farms" program. As an incentative, CP&L offers $2,800 in cash prizes to the community groups which do the best job of getting these practices applied to the land. Work with your local Soil Conservation District Supervisor to keep our cropland productive.

FAIR

Complete Program For 5th Annual Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair Released By Fair Planning Group

Program Committee Says Various Attractions Have Been Planned To Appeal To All Ages; Program Includes Many Contests, Shows, Exhibits, Speeches, Concerts, Fireworks, Etc.

1957 FAIR OFFICIALLY BEGINS ON OCTOBER 9th

"School Day" To Be Observed During 4-Day Event Friday, Oct. 11th

Enjoyable and entertaining are two of the best words to describe the scheduled program of activities that will be featured during the big Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw, October 9-12. The fifth annual Fair will get underway at Pender Memorial Field with the opening of the gates on Wednesday, October 9 at 3:00 P. M. The four day event will close at 11:00 P. M. on Saturday, October 12.

Dr. John T. Dees and Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, co-chairmen of the Program Committee, reported today that most of the program had been arranged. They said various attractions have been planned that will appeal to both young and old Fairgoers.

From 3:00 to 7:15 on the opening day, visits can be made to the exhibits, midway, commercial spaces and concession stands. At 7:15, a forty-five minute band concert will be presented by the seventy member Burgaw School Band under the direction of C. A. Payne.

Official Opening

The official opening ceremony begins at 8:00, and W. T. Batchelor, principal of Topsail High School in Hampstead, will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Invocation is to be given by the Rev. C. Franklin Grill, Methodist minister in Burgaw.

A welcome will be extended by Fair Association President Howard Holly who will then introduce the platform guests. Members of the Pender County Board of Commissioners, mayors of towns in the county, and agricultural and homemaking leaders will be guests.

Congressman Graham A. Barden of New Bern and Washington, D. C., chairman of the U. S. House of Representatives' important Committee on Education and Labor, is scheduled to deliver the principal address. Mr. Barden will be introduced by State Senator Roy Rowe.

Fair Princess Contest

Following the opening ceremony is a beauty contest to choose a Pender Fair Princess. Each of the seven elementary schools in the county will furnish three representatives. These twenty-one contestants will come from the seventh and eighth grades only. They will be judged in evening dresses by out-of-county judges.

Half-Holiday

Pender County school children will get one half-holiday during Fair week! All white schools in the county will close at noon on Friday, October 11, to allow students to attend "School Day" at the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw.

This action which has been customary during previous Fairs was approved by the Pender County Board of Education at a recent meeting.

The colored schools of the county will be closed on the afternoon of Thursday, October 10 so the pupils can attend the Negro Day activities scheduled at the Fair.

Fair officials expressed appreciation to school authorities for this cooperation and said special activities were being arranged for students participation on these two afternoons.

Big Saturday Night Festival Of Country Music Scheduled At Jaycee-Pender Fair On October 12

Come one! Come all! A treat for all fairgoers' ears has been arranged! A "must" on your entertainment schedule is the big two and one-half hour Country Music Festival to be featured at the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw on the closing night, Saturday, october 12.

Dr. John T. Dees and Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, co-chairmen of the Program Committee, today reported that a contract has been arranged with Hayseed's Hill-Billy Jamboree Team for this big variety music festival. Hayseed's group will be composed of a large number of outstanding musicians from several counties in southeastern Carolina. These musicians who are currently performing on various radio and TV programs in this area will entertain Pender fairgoers from 8:15 to 10:45 P. M.

Hayseed has appeared at the Pender County Fair once before. He made a big hit here during a short program as a part of the Folk Music Festival on the opening night of the second annual Fair in 1954.

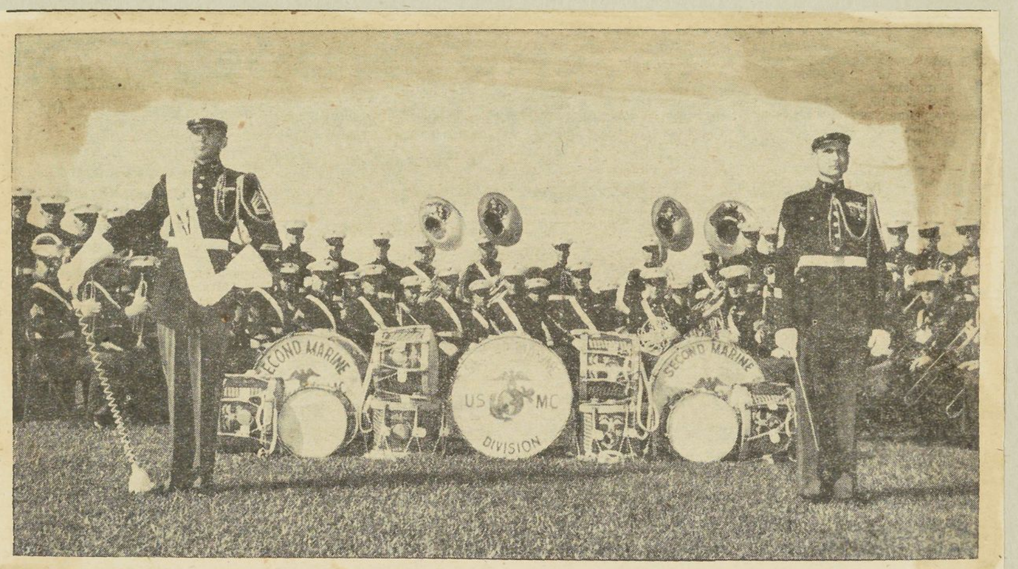
Saturday night's program will feature many musicians, several vocalists and plenty of good comedy mixed with the best in country-type and folk music.

From Far and Wide

People from far and wide are expected to be in Burgaw to attend this music festival. Several requests have been made to the Fair management that such a grandstand performance be arranged on the closing night of the Fair. Since this program has been scheduled as a highlight of "Family Day" at the Fair, all who attend are assured of a night of excellent entertainment plus the added opportunity to visit the thrilling Midway, food concession booths and the Exhibit buildings and displays.

In private life, Hayseed is C. O. Thomas of Wilmington. He is well-known in this area and will be remembered as one of the first performers on Station WMFD-TV in Wilmington shortly after it opened several years ago.

A good old-fashioned Music Festival that will remain in your memory for a long time is in store for all who attend the Saturday night grandstand performance. Country Music has that added touch which makes it appealing to everybody, so make your plans now to be present with the entire family for the final night of the Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw on Saturday, October 12!



ANOTHER TREAT for 1957 Jaycee-Pender County fair-goers will be the music of the Second Marine Division of Camp Lejeune, directed by Captain Harrison F. Burch, plus the Drum and Bugle Corps, both units totaling seventy- who enlisted Marines. A 30-minute concert will be given on "School Day" at the Fifth Annual Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw on Friday, October 11, from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Amateur Vs. 1953 County Champ In Cow Milking Contest Here Saturday

One of the most hilarious attractions at the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair here last year, as well as in previous fair years, was the "Cow Milking Contest." And, again the year the crowd of fair-goers are guaranteed a "pail full o' laughs" when Burgaw's Mayor A. H. Davis and Mrs. Beulah Giddens of The Pender Chronicle demonstrate their skill as contestants. John Wynn, Assistant County Agent, chairman of the event, stated that the contest is scheduled to get underway around 2:00 p.m Saturday at the platform on the fair grounds.

Mayor Davis is considered a veteran, as milking Bossy was one of his daily chores when a boy. He also competed against Wilmington's Mayor E. L. White during the 1953 Pender County Fair, with Davis being declared the champion of the two.

Mrs. Giddens admits that she is an amateur, and was a little reluctant about competing against Mayor Davis in the gentle art of extracting nature's most perfect food from the "victim." However, after learning that both she and the cow shared like names, Mrs. Giddens stated that she felt sure that "Beulah" and she would get along nicely together providing the cow is in a cooperative mood. "Not being as prominent as the Honorable Mayor Davis," Mrs. Giddens explains, "I doubt that I will have as much "pull" as the town official, but I'm sure I'll get results as soon as I get the hang of it."

Each contestant will have a cow at his disposal, with the common object to see who can get the most milk from his cow.

In regards to premiums for this contest, the winner will be suitably rewarded, while the loser will probably be left holding the bag.

VARIED CONTESTS FOR STUDENTS ON PROGRAM

Miss Pender County Contest To Climax Day's Activities

One of the largest crowds ever to assemble at an agricultural event in southeastern North Carolina is expected to attend the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw in Friday, October 11. "School Day" for white children in the county will be observed on this day, and the gates at Pender Memorial Field will open at 12:00 Noon. The schools will dismiss classes at noon in order to afford the students ample time to attend the Fair.

The Fair officially opens at 3:00 P. M. Wednesday, October 9, and will continue through Saturday, October 12.

In addition to the opportunity that will be given for visiting the big Midway, featuring over twenty-five separate attractions, Fairgoers can visit the large number of individual exhibits, commercial spaces, military displays and other features of the Fair. Also, it is felt that many people throughout this area will welcome an opportunity to get together with old friends and acquaintances for a friendly chat.

School Contests

A varied and entertaining program schedule has been released for School Day. A Tractor Driving Contest is to begin at 2:00 P. M., followed by such events as Fifty Yard Dash, High Jump, Broad Jump, Greasy Pig Contest and other attractions. Many students look forward to participating in these annual contests, and keen competition is always a feature during the afternoon program.

Friday's afternoon schedule is under the leadership of Warren B. Langston, principal of Long Creek-Grady High School. He will have help in arranging the various events from the following agricultural teachers: Freeman Marshburn of Penderlea, Lowell Morcer of Long Creek-Grady, W. C. Blackmore of Burgaw and Fred Foyles of Atkinson.

Many of the students particularly look forward to the presentation of cash awards to those who enter winning exhibits. These checks are to be distributed by W. T. Batchelor, Jr., principal of Topsail High School, and the Rev. C. Franklin Grill, Methodist minister of Burgaw.

Night Program

The program on Friday evening gets underway at 6:00. The Master of Ceremonies will be Dr. John T. Dees, president of the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce and Fair program chairman.

Among the first events is an old-fashioned spelling contest under the direction of W. M. Eubank of Scott's Hill, a member of the Topsail School Committee. A total of seven students, one from each of the county's seven elementary schools, are to be contestants in the spelling bee. These students will come from the sixth through the eighth grades.

The Fair Association will award cash prizes to the top spellers. Assisting Mr. Eubank in arranging the contest is W. T. Batchelor.

Voice of Democracy

The Voice of Democracy Speaking Contest plans to be a big attraction at 7:00. The contest is a national Jaycee project and is under local sponsorship of the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce. Each high school will have a representative in the speaking contest.

The five speakers will compose and deliver their individual talks not to exceed five minutes each on the subject: "I Speak For Democracy." Cash awards will be presented by the Burgaw Jaycees to the contest winners. The county winner is to be entered in state competition, and the four national winners is to be entered in state competition, and the four national winners are each to receive a valuable scholarship and a free trip to Washington, D. C.

Judges from New Hanover County have been asked to select the contest winner, according to the Rev. C. Franklin Grill, Jaycee chairman of the project.

Marine Band

A real treat is in store for the large crowd that will be in attendance! The Second Marine Division Band at Camp Lejeune and the colorful Drum and Bugle Corps have accepted an invitation to render a thirty minute concert from 7:30 to 8:000.

The Band has visited Pender County on several other occasions, and they are always welcome visitors. The seventy-two enlisted Marines and their Band officer, Captain Harrison F. Burch, plan to arrive at the Fair in time for supper on Friday afternoon.

In view of the many appearance invitations which the Marine Corps Band receives, Fair officials are delighted to obtain this outstanding group for Friday night's program.

Trophies

President Howard Holly of the Fair Association will present trophies to the elementary and high schools earning the most exhibit points under a point system. Ten points are allowed for blue ribbons, seven points for red ribbons and five points for white ribbons. Points are not allowed for exhibits that do not win a first, second or third placing.

Long Creek-Grady High School and Maple Hill Elementary School obtained the trophy honors at the 1956 Jaycee-Pender Fair. Much interest is currently being shown in who might win the coveted trophies for 1957.

Platform Guests

During this presentation at 8:00, several educational leaders of the county will be introduced as platform guests. These include: County Superintendent of Schools T. T. Murphy; the County Board of Education composed of M. S. Ellis of Willard, as chairman, W. F. Stellar of Long Creek, J. J. Smith of Hampstead, M. F. Kelly of Atkinson, and Howard Holly of Burgaw and seven school principals, namely, D. G. Shaw of Atkinson, E. M. Thompson of Burgaw, Mrs. L. L. Harvin of Maple Hill, W. T. Batchelor of Topsail, W. C. McClammy of Rocky Point, Newman Lewis of Penderlea and Warren B. Langston of Long Creek-Grady.

Home Economics and agricultural teachers to be presented are: Miss Ella McGowen and F. J. Marshburn of Penderlea; W. C. Blackmore and Mrs. C. F. Davis, Jr., of Burgaw; Mrs. Evelyn Krawetsky and D. L. Mercer of Long Creek-Grady; Mrs. Peggy Cannady and Fred Foyles of Atkinson; and Mrs. Estelle D. Batchelor of Topsail.

Dallas Herring of Rose Hill, chairman of the State Board of Education, has been invited to attend as a platform guest.

Miss Pender County

One of the biggest attractions that promises to draw a capacity crowd of several thousand persons is the elaborate Miss Pender County contest to begin at 8:15 P. M. Twenty-five beauties, representing all five high schools in Pender County, are expected to participate in this outstanding, event

Each school is currently selecting its five contestants in local elimination contests.

The contestants this year will appear in evening dresses and will not be judged in bathing suits. Beauty, poise and stage personality constitute the basis of judging to be used by five judges who will be non-resicents of Pender County.

In charge of directing the beauty contest are Mrs. Worth Rich and Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, Fair Association Directors and members of the Program committee.

Holder of the 1957 Miss Pender crown was Miss Nan Wood of Willard, then a senior at Penderlea High School. She is now Mrs. William Hurley and resides in Wallace where she is employed as a secretary in a law office. Mrs. Hurley will be present at the Fair to assist in crowning the newly selected Miss Pender County.

Miss North Carolina

Miss North Carolina of 1958, lovely Slaine Herndon of Durham, will be a very special guest at the Fair on Friday night and will officially crown Miss Pender County of 1958.

An eye-striking brunette, Miss North Carolina is a junior at Duke University. She is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Herndon of Durham and has three sisters. Elaine became the recent State Beauty Pageant's first double winner by being selected as the leading contestant in both her group's bathing suit division and in talent competition.

She represented North Carolina during the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey, on September 2-7 and was one of the ten finalists in the selection of Miss America of 1958.

Jack Sharpe of Kannapolis, president of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be presented on the program for Friday night.

Miss North Carolina, Mr. Sharpe, beauty contest judges, Fair officials and other guests are to be entertained by the Fair Association at a luncheon in the Burgaw Community Building at 6:30 Friday evening. Dinner will be served by Home Demonstration Club members.

Pender Fair Set At Burgaw Oct. 9

BURGAW—The program for the 1957 Pender County Agriculture Fair is contained in a catalogue released this week by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Fair is scheduled Oct. 9-12.

Howard Holly, president of the fair sponsored by Pender County Agricultural Fair Association, reports many months of planning by committees "has really paid off."

Guests during the fair include Rep. Graham A. Barden, Third Congressional District; Connie Hobby, "Miss Dairy Princess of North Carolina"; Elaine Herndon, "Miss North Carolina of 1958;" Jack Sharpe, state president of North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Opening ceremony, with State Sen. Roy Rowe introducing Rep. Barden, will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 9. Prior to this event, the Burgaw School Band, directed by C. A. Payne, will present a concert. At 8:45 p. m. the Pender Fair Princess Contest, featuring three girls from each of the elementary schools, will be held.

Thursday will be Negro School Day at the fair and Friday will be White School Day. Many events, including tractor driving, athletic and greased pig contests, will be held the afternoons of these two days.

A Spelling Bee, under direction of W. M. Eubanks, will be held at 6 p. m. Friday. This will be followed by a Voice of Democracy contest with the Rev. C. Franklin Grill presiding.

Prior to presentation of trophies by Holly, a program of music will feature the Second Marine Division Band and Drum and Bugle Corps of Camp Lejeune. Climax to Friday's events will be the "Miss Pender County Contest," spotlighting "Miss North Carolina" who was one of the 10 finalists in the recent Miss America Beauty Pageant.

Saturday afternoon's program will open with a cattle show and cow milking contest under direction of John Wynne, assistant county agent. A poultry show and sale directed by Assistant County Agent W. T. Chaffin will be held at 4 p. m.

Penderlea School Band directed by Mrs. Joyce Brown will present a contest at 6:30 p. m. The "Little Miss and Mister Pender County Contest" will be held at 7 p. m. Farm Youth award will be announced at 8 p. m.

Pender Fair Slated Wed. Through Sat.

BURGAW — Rep. Graham A. Barden will deliver the opening address at the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair.

He is scheduled to speak at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Other events scheduled opening day include selection of the Pender Fair Princess. This will feature 21 pretty girls from seventh and eighth grades of the county. Connie Hobby, winner of the recent North Carolina "Miss Dairy Princess Contest," will crown the winner.

Negro School Day will be held at the Fair Thursday. White School Day will be staged Friday. Program includes a tractor driving contest and field day events.

A spelling bee, with representatives from each of the white schools in the county, will be held at 6 p.m. "Voice of Democracy Contest" will be conducted at 7.

Friday night highlight is the annual "Miss Pender County Beauty Contest." Five contestants from each of the five county high schools will compete. Winner will be crowned by Elaine Herndon, "Miss North Carolina."

Events scheduled Saturday include a cattle show and milking contest at 2 p.m. and poultry sale at 4. Youngsters between three and five will compete in the "Little Mr. and Miss Pender County Contest" at 7 p. m.

Major change in the revised premium list is opening of swine exhibits and beef cattle exhibits to adult farmers. This is desirable so top-quality purebred hogs and cattle produced in Pender County could be exhibited.

Another change in the premium, Holly declared, is in the girls' clothing department. Individual award money for first, second and third place exhibits has been increased.

Fair Association will again this year award trophies to schools earning most exhibit points. Trophies include a senior trophy to schools with both grammar and high school; junior trophy to schools having only elementary grades and a trophy to the Negro school with the most points.

Dear Miss North Carolina,

Congratulations on being na med Miss North Carolina of 1958. I am sure this achievement is a well deserved one, and one of which you are sincerely proud. I hope that the coming year will be full of pleasure, excitement and wonderful experiences for you.

This letter may be the first official invitation you receive to participate in a Jaycee function. If so I hope you won't feel we are rushing you, but we like to get our bid in early for one who will be in such demand as you. Each year the Burgaw Jaycees are instrumental in producing the Jaycee-Pender Agriculture Fair in Burgaw, Pender County, N. C. One of the features of that affair is the selection of Miss Pender County from girls representing the five High Schools in the county. For the past several years we have been fortunate in having the reigning Miss North Carolina with us on that occasion to crown the winner and possibly act as one of the judges. We also have as a Judge the State President of the N. C. Jaycees and President Jack Sharpe has already accepted our invitation for this year. We sincerely hope that it will be possible for you to be with us on that occasion. The date is October 11, 1957 at Burgaw, N. C. I will contact your Manager concerning this also, and we will make all necessary arrangements through him.

Again, congratulations on being named Miss North Carolina. I look forward to seeing you at various Jaycee functions throughout the year, and especially at the Jaycee-Pender Fair in October.

Yours very truly,

John T. Dees, M.D., President

Dear John:

Thank you for your letter of July 13 inviting Miss North Carolina of 1958 to be present at the Jaycee-Pender Agriculture Fair.

It is impossible for Miss Herndon to make any commitment for appearances until after the pageant in Atlantic City in early September. She does not know now what her obligations will be until after the pageant has been completed.

Circumstances permitting, Elaine expects to enroll in Duke in September, and I am sure you will appreciate her desire to give adequate attention to her studies.

We would like very much to know what tyne of clothing would be appropriate for the occasion. Also, could you possibly send me a schedule of events.

Miss Herndon asked me to express to you her appreciation for your congratulations and cordial invitation to participate in the Jaycee-Pender Agriculture Fair.

It is Miss Herndon's hope that she will be able to attend, but I hope you will understand why she cannot definitely accept at this time.

If you choose to fly down, the nearest commercial airport is at Wilmington, and if you come there we will meet you there. We will have a caravan, police escort and the works. We have an adequate landing strip here in Burgaw if you wish to come by charter plane--and we'll have a caravan in that case too. We will of course see that you get to leave this section in whatever way you choose.

I hope you will get some idea from this letter concerning your needs and responsibilities. If there are any questions or problems I'm sure Call Smith will be glad to contact me concerning them. I would also be glad to hear from you concerning any details. We would like to know if you will be accompanied by anyone. I can assure you though that complete escort and chaperone service is locally available.

Dr. A. J. Ellington, Burlington, is an old classmate of mine at UNC medical school. When we left Chapel Hill to finish med school I went to Duke and finished in the class of 1952. I interned a year at Watts and a year at Duke, so I feel like I should know you personally. My wife and I lived at Poplar Apartments and our first son was born at Duke. Naturally, we have been interested in you since the state pageant and are looking forward to meeting you.

My best regards to the Durham Jaycees and best wishes to you.

Very sincerely,

John T. Dees, M.D.

Miss North Carolina

Dear Elaine,

On behalf of the Burgaw Jaycees I want to express to you our congratulations and our thanks. We feel that you did an outstanding job in Atlantic City for the entire N. C. Junior Chamber of Commerce. We are very proud that you were among the ten semi-finalists, and our only regret is that the judges did not feel, as we did, that you should have gone further. However, we rejoice at the thought that now you will stay with us this year.

Here in Burgaw we are looking forward to your visit with us at the annual Jaycee-Pender Agriculture Fair. I am assuming, of course, that now you will give us a more definite commitment. I will try to give you an idea of what to expect. On Friday, October 11, 1957 we are expecting you sometime in the afternoon before 6 o'clock. At approximately 6:30 there will be a dinner with about 25 people attending, including State President Jack Sharpe. This is really just a dinner to feed all our guests and to get acquainted with them, and is not a formal banquet. I doubt that you will be asked to speak. Following this dinner you will have time to change into something more formal for your appearance at the fair. However, you should take into consideration that this will be outside. You will be presented during the Miss Pender County contest which is strictly a beauty contest with 21 participants representing our 5 high schools in the county. They will be judged in evening dress only---no bathing suit or talent. We will present you and ask you for a few comments---we will not set any limit as to time on your remarks, but it would be a favor to us is you could compliment the Jaycees on local Miss N. C. preliminary pageants and aim a few remarks at parents concerning the value received by local, state and national participation. After the queen is selected we would like for you to crown her. I should point out that the Miss Pender County contest is not a Miss. N. C. prelim. During the time you are here you will have a Jaycee escort, but as yet I know not who---you can imagine the politicing thats going on for that "job". During your time at the fair, whenever possible, we would like for you to speak to as many individuals and sign as many autographs as possible. Following the fair, at around 11 PM we will probably have an informal get-together in honor of you and Jack. All in all its more or less informal and you should have a good time.

Dear Sir:

We would like to ask your assistance in securing for us the services of the Camp Lejeune Marine Corps Band for a concert on Friday evening October 11, 1957. This fair is one of the largest attractions in southeastern North Carolina each year, and annually brings in several thousand visitors. For the past two years we have been fortunate in having your band with us during our "Farmer's Day" celebration, but have not had them for the fair. When they were here in June, Captain Burch expressed a desire to return to this community at any opportunity. We were very impressed with him and his men and so are very desirous in having them with us in October.

The program calls for Band Music starting at 7:30 PM, October 11, 1957, and the performance would last for thirty minutes. Afterwards, the men would be free to visit the fair for as long as you permit. I realize that in order to be here, ready to play at 7:30, the band may have to leave the base before supper time. If such is the case, be assured that we will furnish their evening meal for them on their arrival here.

I sincerely hope that this can be arranged. An early reply will be greatly appreciated.

Dear General Greene:

We sincerely appreciate your kind letter of July 24 wherein your command agreed to cooperate in furnishing a military exhibit during the fifth annual Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair to be held in Burgaw beginning on Wednesday, October 9, 1957.

While we had hoped such a display could be furnished for the entire four day period, we accept your offer to provide an outdoor display of approximately 40 x 20 yards for one day. If your command could later decide to extend this display showing for more than one day, it would be greatly appreciated by us. Of course, the main idea in having such a display for four days is that so many of our people come to the Fair on different days. At any rate, we abide by your decision and are pleased with your offer to cooperate.

It will be about three weeks before our committee can get together. At that time, we will decide on which day we prefer your display. I will then notify you of our decision. In the meantime, if you should need any additional information, you may feel free to contact our Fair Manager, Mr. J. N. Honeycutt, who is acting as Coordinator for the Display. Mr. Honeycutt's office is in the County Courthouse at Burgaw.

We feel sure that your display will prove to be of much interest to the thousands who will visit our Fairgrounds. Again we thank you for your very kind consideration. It is nice indeed to have such a fine spirit of cooperation with the officers and enlisted men of your command, and we are grateful for your helpfulness.

Congressman Graham A. Barden To Deliver Opening Address At Fifth Annual Jaycee-Pender Fair October 9

Dr. John Dees 3-58

Congressman Barden, A Boyhood Resident Of Burgaw, Will Be Accompanied To Burgaw By His Wife; They Will Be Honored, With Other Dignitaries And Fair Officials, At A Luncheon Prior To The Congressman's Address

OPENING ADDRESS IS SCHEDULED AT 8 P. M.

Many Friends Expected To Be Among Large Number At Fair Opening

By Howard Holly

Congressman Graham A. Barden, chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor in the United States House of Representatives, will deliver the principal address at the formal opening of the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Fair at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw on Wednesday, October 9, at 8:00 P. M.

Mr. Barden who is always a welcome visitor to Pender County was invited to speak at the fifth annual Fair in early May, and a tentative acceptance was received, according to President Howard Holly of the Fair Association. Confirmation that the veteran Democratic Congressman would be present was recently received by Dr. John T. Dees and Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, co-chairmen of the Fair's Program Committee.

Boyhood Resident

Mr. Barden is a boyhood resident of Burgaw and has many friends throughout Pender County and this area who will welcome an opportunity to hear one who has distinguished himself in service to his district, state and nation as has the Congressman. Although Mr. Barnes was actually born in a neighboring county, Pender citizens still claim him as a favorite "native" son.

Many of his friends and constituents are expected to be among the large number in attendance at the opening of the Jaycee-Pender Fair.

Mrs. Barden plans to accompany her husband, and they will be honor guests, together with other dignitaries and Fair officials, at a luncheon prior to the Congressman's address.

TO SPEAK AT FAIR OPENING — Congressman Graham A. Barden of New Bern and Washington, D. C., has accepted an invitation to speak at the opening of the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair. The address will be made at the fairgrounds grandstand in Pender Memorial Field, Burgaw, on Wednesday, October 9, 1957, at 8:00 p.m. A former resident of Burgaw, Congressman Barden has served with distinction in the United States House of Representatives from North Carolina's Third District since 1934. Hon. Graham A. Barden
House of Rspresentatives
United States Congress
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Barden:

On behalf of the President and Board of Directors of the Pender County Agricultural Fair Association I want to invite you to be with us on October 9, 1957 at the opening of the annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair. We will be deeply grateful if you can attend and deliver the principal address on that occasion. As you may know, the Pender County fair has become one of the better agricultural fairs in North Carolina. We are proud of the part it has played in creating a growing community spirit in this county as was proven recently when Pender was named "County of the Year in Rural Progress" in North Carolina. Since you are a "native son" of Pender,and one who has attained great success in service to your area, state, and nation, we will be honored if you accept this invitation.

I have followed with interest your activities as Chairman of the House Education Committee this session. It is very satisfying to those of us here in Eastern North Carolina to know that a person with your experience and understanding of the problems is at the helm. Rest assured that we endorse and actively support your ideas and actions.

I realize that at this early date you may not be able to give me a definite committment concerning October 9. However, because of the many phases of our program and the necessity of printing catalogues, getting publicity, etcetera, I am writing at this early date.

With warm personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

John T. Dees, M. D.

Dear John:

I greatly appreciate your letter of May 14th advising me of the plans for the forthcoming Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair which will be held October 9-12th.

The invitation issued to me to deliver the principal address on the opening of this Fair by the President and Board of Directors of the Pender County Agricultural Fair Association is sincerely appreciated, and of course, I sincerely hope that I will be able to be with you. As you can readily understand, it is always a personal pleasure for me to visit Burgaw!

I am unable to give a definite commitment this far in advance, but would appreciate your keeping in touch with me and assure you that I shall do my best to be with you.

Yours very truly,

Graham A. Barden

October 9, with Congress still in session and Committee work for this session far from being finished. However, I want to be with you in Burgaw on the date suggested, and I have made up my mind that I am entitled to do a few things when I want to do them even if I do happen to be a member of Congress. Since I find myself thinking along that line, I am going to accept the engagement before I have time to change my thinking! So health permitting or some unforeseen emergengy arising, you may definitely expect me to be in Burgaw on the 9th of October.

You will, of course, at a later date furnish me details of the program.

Again thanking you for the invitation, I am, with kindest personal regards

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Barden:

In reference to our invitation to you to be with us for the Fair on October 9, 1957, I wonder if you could now give us a more definite acceptance. We are in the process of printing the catalogs, and will print the program pages last. However, these too must be printed in the next ten days. If it is at all possible, we would like to say that you will definitely be here.

We are anticipating our best fair yet. The people I have talked to are pleased that you are pla nning to come. I hope nothing upsets your plans.

After I hear from you I will contact Mr. Clifton Moore again about introducing you. I believe he has his schedule now for the next six months and will know if he can get home that night.

I look forward to hearing from y u soon. Best personal regards.

FAIR

'BIGGER AND BETTER'

Pender Fair Slated 4 Days Next Week

By TROY WILLIAMS
Star SENCland Reporter

BURGAW, Aug. 28 — Plans for Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair were announced Wednesday by Howard Holly, Fair Association president.

"We are pleased that Congressman Graham A. Barden, boyhood resident of Burgaw, will deliver the address at the opening of the fifth annual Fair at 8 p.m. next Wednesday," Holly stated.

Other events scheduled opening day include selection of the Pender Fair Princess. This will feature 21 pretty girls from seventh and eighth grades of the county. Connie Hobby, winner of the recent North Carolina "Miss Dairy Princess Contest," will crown the winner.

Negro School Day will be held at the Fair Thursday. White School Day will be staged Friday. Program includes a tractor driving contest and field day events

A spelling bee, with representatives from each of the white schools in the county, will be held at 6 p.m. "Voice of Democracy Contest" will be conducted at 7.

Friday night highlight is the annual "Miss Pender County Beauty Contest." Five contestants from each of the five county high schools will compete. Winner will be crowned by Elaine Herndon, "Miss North Carolina."

Events scheduled Saturday include a cattle show and milking contest at 2 p.m. and poultry sale at 4. Youngsters between three and five will compete in the "Little Mr. and Miss Pender County Contest" at 7 p. m.

Major change in the revised premium list is opening of swine exhibits and beef cattle exhibits to adult farmers. This is desirable so top-quality purebred hogs and cattle produced in Pender County could be exhibited.

Another change in the premium, Holly declared, is in the girls' clothing department. Individual award money for first, second and third place exhibits has been increased.

Fair Association will again this year award trophies to schools earning most exhibit points. Trophies include a senior trophy to schools with both grammar and high school; junior trophy to schools having only elementary grades and a trophy to the Negro school with the most points.

Pender Fair Group Very Optimistic About Outlook For Festive Event

As the date of the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair draws near, members of the Pender Fair Association are optimistic about the outlook for the event. The fifth annual Fair is to be staged at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw and will open at 3:00 P. M. on Wednesday, October 9. It will continue on October 10, 11, and 12.

Speaking for the Association, President Howard Holly today said, "We regard our annual fair as essential to the normal growth and development of agriculture in Pender County. Income derived from the sale of farm products affects every citizen of the county. The fair is designed to teach better farming and homemaking practices and to promote good will and cooperation among all of our citizens. Boys and girls who will be showing outstanding exhibits look forward to the Fair. This event offers them the opportunity to show what they have done with their agricultural and homemaking projects. We believe that the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair will do all these things for our good people."

Directors' Meeting

At a recent meeting of the Fair Association directors held at the Courthouse in Burgaw on September 10, eleven were present as follows: Howard Holly, president; A. H. Page, vice-president; Mrs. Worth Rich, secretary; John A. Carraway, treasurer; J. N. Honeycutt, manager; Charles M. Harrell, Mrs. Herman Murray, Dr. John T. Dees, Edward Ferrell, George Spayd, Jr., and Charles Highsmith.

An opening prayer was offered by John Carraway, the minutes covering the previous meeting were approved. A financial report was explained by the treasurer, after which other officers rendered their reports.

Committee Reports

Committee summaries in detail were reported by the following chairmen: Grounds and Facilities, J. N. Honeycutt; Exhibits, Mrs. Herman Murray; Gate, Charles M. Harrell; Public Relations, John A. Carraway; Food Concessions, Charles Highsmith; Finance, Edward Ferrell and George Spayd, Jr.; and Program, Dr. John T. Dees.

Every report revealed that the various committees have been diligently working for the past several months in an effort to make this Fair a very successful one that will be a credit to the citizens of Pender County. Practically all of the major plans have been made, but several minor items need immediate attention by the respective committees.

Jaycee-Pender Fair To Feature "Family Day" On Saturday, Oct. 12; Special Features Being Planned!

Closing Day Program Different From Previous Years — Designed To Please Entire Family; Highlights Include Little Miss, Mr. Contests, Other Events

TWO-HOUR FOLK MUSIC FESTIVAL ON PROGRAM

Families From Pender And Neighboring Counties Cordially Invited!

"Family Day" at the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw in Saturday, October 12, will be an event that your entire family will long remember! The gates will open at 12:00 noon, and many thrilling and entertaining activities promise to delight every member of your family from then until the 11:00 P. M. closing hour of the fifth annual Fair.

Thousands of children of all ages expected to happily romp over the Fairgrounds and enjoy a last fling of amusement while their parents mingle with neighbors and friends in the fun and splendor of a delightful old-fashioned County Fair.

Features have been planned that will be of special interest to every person, whether young or old, on this last day of the 1957 fair. Countless numbers of beaming tots will enjoy the thrills that only a Midway can afford. Food concession stands plan to do their important bid to please the appetites and thirsts of the visitors.

The five Exhibit buildings and the well-arranged outside commercial and military exhibits will prove to be interesting sights for all fairgoers. Everybody will join in admiring the grandstand features that are planned especially for the final day of the fair and in honor of the families of Pender County and this area.

Emphasis on Family

Howard Holly, president of the Fair Association which is sponsoring the Fair, reported the Management and various committees had worked hard in arranging a day somewhat different from previous closing days of past fairs. As a result of the emphasis being placed on the entire family, the final day is expected to be perhaps the most outstanding day of the Fair.

A capacity crowd is expected throughout the day, and families are urged to come early, enjoy the afternoon and evening program and stay for supper.

Cattle and Poultry

To start the afternoon program, a Cattle Show has been planned for 2:00, and it will be under the direction of John Wynne, assistant County Farm Agent. An experience that many always look forward to is the cow-milking contest which follows the cattle show. Two prominent persons have been secured as participants in this thriller, Wynne stated.

The Poultry Show and Sale follows at 4:00. This portion of the program is sponsored by the Sears Foundation and will be supervised by W. T. Chaffin, Jr., assistant County Agent. The feature always draws a large crowd of interested spectators and buyers and will tend to stress the importance of the poultry industry in Pender County.

Penderlea Band

Penderlea's School Band, a pride of the Willard, Watha and Penderlea communities, will render a thirty-minute concert from 6:30 to 7:00. The twenty-five band members are directed by Mrs. Joyce Brown.

The Penderlea Band has made notable progress since it was organized just a few years ago. Many who have heard the band perform at previous events are delighted that fairgoers will have an opportunity to hear this outstanding group. A large number of the school's boosters and other friends are expected to be on hand for the stirring concert.

Little Miss and Mister

As a feature of the program for Saturday night, fair officials have arranged the annual Little Miss and Little Mister Pender County Contest which is expected to draw more than fifty contestants throughout the county. The time for the contest is from 7:00 to 8:00.

Any white child in Pender County between the ages of three through five is cordially invited to participate in the contest. The children may be dressed in any manner desired.

Parents are asked to contact either of the contest chairmen, Mrs. Grafton Bradshaw or Mrs. Charles Harrell, both of Burgaw, for the purpose of submitting entrants' names.

Lovely trophies will be presented to the top winners for 1958, and all contestants are to be remembered with a favor. Contestants are asked to assemble at the grandstand by 6:30 P. M. One parent accompany-

16,000 Visitors

More than 16,000 visitors are expected to attend the Jaycee-Pender Fair at Memorial Field in Burgaw during October 9-12 according to an estimate by Fair Association President Howard Holly.

Holly announced Charles M. Harrell, Gate Committee chairman, will be in charge of volunteer workers manning the entrance gate during the fifth annual fair.

Harrell explained the admission price as set by the Fair Directors was thirty-five cents for school children and seventy-five cents for adults. Non-transferable passes for exhibitors, advertisers, teachers, press members and Fair workers will be honored.

The chairman stated if a person pays admission on one day at the fair and finds it necessary to leave the fairgrounds to return later on the same day, the patron's hand will be stamped upon leaving. That will prevent the necessity of an additional admittance price being charged if he returns the same day.

Assisting Harrell as members of the Gate Committee are Allen Wilson, Arthur Batson, Mrs. Fred Foyles, Tom Chewning, Mrs. Paul Orr, Tony Comentale and Mrs. Frederick Simpson.

Clearance Of Streams Completed

A clearance program for the North Carolina coastal area that cost over $1.1 million has been completed by the Corps of Engineers.

The project cleared streams and waterways clogged with trees, snags, and other debris by the 1955 hurricanes.

Included were 19 counties: Bladen, Beaufort, Camden, Craven, Columbus, Duplin, Carteret, Martin, Pamlico, Washington, Hertford, Onslow, Brunswick, New Hanover, Tyrrell, Wilson, Bertie, Jones, and Pender.

Twenty-six counties have applied to the Federal Civil Defense Administration for additional stream clearance work.

Field crews are working on surveys of the counties in question, and action on the requests is expected at an early date.

Col. H. C. Rowland, Jr., district engineer with the Corps of Engineers' District office in Wilmington, said the just completed clearance program covered 412 miles of streams and waterways.

In Dare County, Col. Rowland said, four contractors are clearing and opening 45 miles of ditches in a combined health and mosquito control project.

This work is scheduled to be completed in late December.

Holly Speaks To Rotarians On 1957 Fair

Howard Holly, president of the Pender Agricultural Fair Association, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Burgaw Rotary Club last Thursday evening. The speaker outlined plans that have been made for the fifth annual Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair to be held at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw on October 9 - 12.

Holly pointed out that staging the fair is a tremendous undertaking and is made possible only by hard work and cooperation of many individuals and groups. He praised Fair Association members, County and Town officials, the Schools, Extension workers, Agricultural and Homemaking leaders, business firms, professional men and various clubs throughout the county for their efforts in helping sponsor the fair.

The Fair Association president briefly summarized the financial phase of the Fair and stated the County Commissioners, Burgaw Town Board and Fair Association were furnishing the $1300 in premium money.

Tracing the Fair's history to its beginning date in 1953 when it was sponsored by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce as only a two-day event which boasted of 6,500 persons in attendance, Holly reported the continuous growth and said the 1957 Fair covering four funpacked days would have facilities of two permanent buildings and three tents. Over 16,000 persons are expected to visit the Fairgrounds this year.

The speaker was presented by Warren Sanders, program chairman. Presiding over the meeting was R. W. Southerland, Club president.

Most SENCland crops have been harvested and its now celebration time throughout the area. In keeping with this happy season many festivals, fairs and Farmers days will be held during the next three weeks.

One of these celebrations will be held in Bladenboro Friday, October 11, with observance of Farmer's day. Sponsors of this event promise it will have everything ever held at similar celebrations, plus many extra attractions. The program will range from stunts, parade, beauty contest and the usual exhibits of livestock and canning exhibits to a street dance, featuring outstanding hillbilly string bands. One of the highlights will be the beauty contest to select a girl to reign as "Miss Bladenboro." The 1957 Onslow County Fair will be held Sept. 30 through Oct. 5. This event is jointly sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and Volunteer Fire department. They are anticipating the biggest and best Fair in the history of Onslow. The program will center around the agricultural and educational exhibits and colorful midway. The crowds at the Fair were so large last year it was decided to move the event to a better location this year. The new site on Gum Branch Road is being prepared for the fair.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

The Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce reports it is expecting the largest crowd ever to assemble at an agricultural event in SENCland during the Fifth Annual Jaycee Pender Agricultural Fair, in Burgaw Oct. 9-12. Guests expected to attend include Rep. Graham A. Barden, Third Congressional district; Connie Hobby, "Miss Dairy Princess of North Carolina;" Elaine Herndon, "Miss North Carolina 1958," and Jack Sharpe, president of the North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Final plans for the 10th annual Yam Festival, in Tabor City Oct. 10-12, are being made. Johnny Long's orchestra will play for the Queen ball on Friday, Oct. 11. The three-day celebration will begin Thursday, Oct. 11, with the special Education day. All the educational and agricultural exhibits will be opened then. Friday will be Entertainment day. A full program of events, featuring string bands, will be held throughout the day.

COMPETE FOR TITLE

The judging of beauty contestants competing for the title of "Miss Yam Festival" will be held Friday night, prior to the Coronation ball. The three-day Yam Festival will come to a climax Saturday afternoon when the colorful parade, featuring many attractive floats, military units and school bands, moves through the town. The nationally famous Winyah High School band, of Georgetown, will put on a half-hour precision drill after the parade. This band led the 1957 Miss America Pageant parade, down the boardwalk at Atlantic City, and holds three national championships.

Now that the final plans have been made for the celebrations, the sponsoring organizations, many of which wanted rain during the crop season, have their fingers crossed hoping that rains will stay away for awhile.

FAIR

Negro Day At Jaycee-Pender Fair Is Scheduled For Thursday, October 10

Negro Day at the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair has been scheduled for Thursday, October 10, at the Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw. This announcement was made during a recent meeting of the Pender Agricultural Fair Association, according to President Howard Holly.

This marks the fourth year that a special day for Negroes has been observed at the annual County Fair. During the past three Fairs outstanding programs of entertainment features have been held each year on Negro Day. Many remarkable exhibits are annually entered in the premium list for judging in the Negro Division.

A planning committee composed of Negro agricultural, homemaking and educational leaders, together with other citizens, have recently met to discuss some of the preliminary plans. This committee will make recommendations for Negro Day participation and will present them to the Fair Association's fifteen-member Board of Directors for approval.

Chairman

Heading up the committee for arranging Negro Day is Lester Moore, agriculture teacher at C. F. Pope High School in Burgaw. Moore is a native of Pender County, and in addition to his teaching activities he conducts a weekly radio program each Saturday afternoon over Station W. L. S. E. in Wallace. He will also serve as master of ceremonies for the program.

Co-chairman for Directing Exhibits is S. C. Anderson who for many years has been the vocational agriculture instructor at Pender County Training School in Rocky Point. Anderson was also in charge of exhibits during the 1956 Fair.

Department Directors

Department Directors for Exhibits in Livestock, Poultry, Field Crops, Horticulture, Arts and Crafts, Canned Goods, Homemaking and Miscellaneous include: V. T. Maultsby, Johnnie Stringfield, H. L. Ward, George Jaggers, Lizette Pearsall, H. J. McMillian, A. J. Johnson, W. T. Branch, Neitha Page, Bonnie Parker, Mary Barden and Carolina Fennell.

J. T. Daniel, principal of Pender County Training School, has been named to serve as publicity chairman for Negro Day. Chairman of the evening activities is R. J. Claybrook, eighth grade teacher at Pender County Training School.

Contests

Helen L. Goolsby, Home Economics teacher at C. F. Pope High School, is chairman of the high school Beauty Contest. The Tots Beauty Contest chairman is Lola M. Blackman, principal of Lee Elementary School near Maple Hill.

Highlights of Negro Day last year were an appearance by Willie Moore's Orchestra and the principal address which was delivered by Prof. J. C. McLaughlin of the Rural Sociology Department at A & T College in Greensboro.

A committee composed of V. T. Maultsby, Arvista W. Merrill and Mary L. Smith has been named to secure a speaker for the 1957 Negro Day.

Chairman Lester Moore has stated that many other teachers and patrons of the Negro schools in Pender County would be called upon to help in arranging this special day of activities at the Fair.

Holly — Bradshaw Barger

ADVERTISING FAIR — Howard Holly, president of the Jaycee-Pender County Agricultural Fair, to be held Oct. 8-12 in Burgaw, show some of the placcards to little Tommy Bradshaw and Miss Janis Barger. Holly personally made trips to nearby communities, including Wilmington, to invite a number of people to the fair, which he says will be "better than ever" this year.

LAST MINUTE DETAILS — Howard, president of the Pender County Fair Association, talks over last-minute details with Major H. V. Reid and Captain Carl W. Welker, staff assistants of the 252nd AAA Group and the 150th AAA Batallion of the North Carolina National Guard, concerning the big military displays to be exhibited at the Fifth Annual Jaycee-Pender Fair to be held in Burgaw October 9-12.

Takes Lots Of Hard Work To Get Ready For Fair

Yes sir-ee, it takes lots of hard work, and many long hours, from the planning which begins a year before the fair actually is staged, to the manual labor necessary for providing facilities. As can be seen in above photos, tents must be set up, concession stands, exhibit booths, platforms and other facilities must be erected on the fair ground. To the many Penderites who have so diligently worked to make the 1957 Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair a success, a great big "THANK YOU" is extended on behalf of the thousands of fair-goers.

Good Food

No visit to the annual Jaycee-Pender Fair in Burgaw during October 9-12 would be complete without a trip to the Food Concession Stand. It seems that in the midst of all the Fair activities food just tastes better at the fairgrounds.

The Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce doesn't want the ladies to miss any of the Fair by having to stay at home and prepare meals for hubby and the children. So they have made special arrangements to again handle the main Food Concession Stand just inside the entrance gate.

The Jaycees suggest that the food is to be better than ever before. To be offered at reasonable prices will be steaming hot dogs, hamburgers, barbecue plates, coffee and soft drinks along with many other items. The men and children will happily join in the ladies in welcoming an opportunity to "eat out" and enjoy such delicious food.

Charles Highsmith, second vice-president of the Burgaw Jaycees who also heads up the Fair Association's Food Concession committee, says all health regulations are to be fully observed and every bit of food served is promised to be in Grade A condition.

The Jaycees are delighted to render this assistance as a service to Pender fairgoers and invite everybody to come by and "get a delicious snack"! Meet your friends at the main Food Concession Stand just inside the gate during October 9-12!

Dear Jack,

The time draws near for your visit to Burgaw and the Fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agriculture Fair. We are looking forward to having you with us on this occasion. As you know, you are scheduled to be here Friday, October 11th. We have a dinner scheduled for 6:30 PM, which is intended primarily to allow the program committee and Fair officials to meet visiting dignitaries. No speeches are planned. If you and I can get from dinner to the fair-grounds by 7:15 I would like for you to present awards to the winner and runner-up of the VOD contest. We always have that contest during the fair and have contestants from each of the five high schools in the county.

At 8:15 the "Miss Pender County" contest will start, and it is here that you will be introduced officially to the good people of Pender County. I think about a five minute "greeting" will suffice. Following you, we will present Elaine Herndon for a few comments and then the beauty contest will get under way. I have told the ladies in charge of the contest that I felt sure you would serve as one of the five Judges. Judging will be on the basis of beauty and poise, with the contestants appearing in evening dresses only.

I would like to know as soon as possible when and how you plan to arrive, will Peggie be with you, and when you will have to return. Elaine plans to arrive by Piedmont airlines from Durham at 4:55 at Wilmington, and leave by plane Saturday morning to Winston-Salem on her way to Yadkinville. I want to try to have a small, informal reception after the Fair Friday night to allow the Jaycees to meet you and Miss North Carolina. Let me know what you think.

Our year is going along fine I think. I am working now trying to extend Wallace. Maybe I'll have something to report by the time you come.

My regards and best wishes to both you and Peggie.

Sincerely,

John Dees

Dear President Jack,

I want to thank you for your visit and appearance at the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Fair on October 11, 1957. Your coming here for this important event was greatly appreciated by our club and will be one of the high-lights of the year.

The fair proved a financial success and it will be good to have a little money in the bank again. Now, maybe, we can make a donation to the State Headquarters fund.

I plan to be in Elizabeth City next Saturday and Sunday and hope to see you then. Again, thank you so much for your visitation and appearance at the Fair. If I can help you in any way please call on me.

Sincerely

John Dees, M.D.,
President

Pender Theatre Leased To Carl Dobbins

Roy Rowe announced this week that the Pender Theatre is now under least to Mr. Carl Dobbins, who also operates the Colony Theatre in Wilmington.

Rowe says he feels the picture-going public is very fortunate in having the new manager and operator of the Pender, a man who is in close touch with the movie industry and who will be able to secure readily the latest and best pictures produced.

Dobbins has had years of experience in the theatre business and he is a likeable and folksy person who gets along well with the patrons. In taking over the Pender, he says he feels there is an opportunity for him to offer a real service both to his Colony patrons and to the Pender movie-goers. Being so near Burgaw with his two operations, he will be able to devote ample time to both places.

He is retaining the regular employees of the Pender Theatre to help him carry on an efficient and friendly management here. Rowe says this is the last of the onetime theatre chain he has operated in eastern Carolina for over 20 years and that he plans now to devote more time to his interests here.

Fame Of Pender Fair Spreads As Fifth Anniversary Looms; Much Work Behind Progress Of Event

Greetings From Ike!

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has extended greetings and best wishes to the people of Pender County on the occasion of the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair to be held in Burgaw, October 9-12.

In a recent letter from the White House to the Pender County Agricultural Fair Association, President Eisenhower stated he was highly pleased to learn of the Fair and knew it would be an important event for Pender County and the surrounding area. He continued by saying the Fair would demonstrate the products of the county's industry and skill and would be a splendid gathering for Pender farmers and their families.

The President closed his letter by congratulating all those who have a part in sponsoring the Fair and wishing it every success.

First Fair After 25 Years In 1953 Was Big Success, Led To Further Successes And Bigger Fairs

LOCAL FAIR RECOGNIZED AS TOPS IN ITS CLASS

Success Predicted Again For The 1957 Fair To Begin Soon

When the Pender County Agricultural Fair officially opens its gates for the 1957 season on Wednesday, October 9, another chapter will be added to what is perhaps the biggest success story to come out of Pender County in many years.

For, only five years ago, a Pender fair was virtually unheard of. Few residents could recall the last county fair, which transpired some 25 years prior to 1953, the date of the first of the present and highly successful fairs.

It was not until an active group of young men, Jaycees, conceived the idea of uniting the agricultural forces of the county through a county fair that the present series of successful fairs was begun. In the spring of 1953, this group decided that the proper way to pay tribute to the agricultural progress of our county, (on which its economic progress is heavily dependent) was to institute a county fair.

The idea was conceived, and plans put in motion by the Agricultural Committee of the Jaycees, under the direction of W. T. Chaffin, Jr., Assistant County Agent. It was a terrific undertaking for the group, but through cooperation and hard work the group was able to open the gates for the first Pender County fair on October 8, 1953.

Pender residents accepted with great enthusiasm the two-day events scheduled for the first county fair, paving a way for the bigger and better fairs which have followed in the three ensuing years. The thousand who attended and cheered seemed to uphold the belief of Chaffin and his co-workers that a fair could do much to unite the agricultural and civic forces of the county.

Following the success of the first fair, plans were made to make of it a permanent and annual institution. A permanent organization, the Pender County Fair Association was set up, comprised of members of various Agricultural agencies, Jaycees and other interested persons.

Burgaw Agriculture Teacher W. C. Blackmore was named head of the Association and served as Fair Manager for the next two years, succeeded the fourth year by Earl Myers with J. N. Honeycutt serving in like capacity this year.

Under the Fair Association's sponsorship, the fair has grown each year, adding new features annually. It now boasts a four-day calendar of events, including one full day of Negro events. Improvements and enlargements have been features each year also.

"Bigger and Better" is the trite, yet a true way of saying that the 1957 Jaycee-Pender County Agricultural Fair will offer many new features, an even larger amount in premium money (over $1300) and more nearly morrow the life of the county through extended and enlarged exhibits in nearly every department.

To house these exhibits is an additional new 24 x 60 foot permenant building, which has just recently been completed in time for the forthcoming fair. This pole-type building was built with the $1000 cash award presented to Pender County as being "The County of the Year in Rural Progress for 1956." Rules governing the use of this money stated that it must be used for project or projects that would be of lasting benefit to the rural people of Pender County. Thus, a committee, after careful study, decided upon the exhibit building which has now been erected on the Fair Association's land, adjacent to the Pender Memorial Field. Last year the first building, constructed with funds realized through the success of the fairs, was constructed on the land adjacent to the local memorial field.

Not once have the fairs lost money, enabling enlargement through sinking profits back into the fair efforts. The Fair Association is a non-profit group, using all funds made available from previous fairs for the enlargement of future fairs.

It is not only on the local scene

Red Devils Defeated By W-HR; Will Play Richlands Friday Night

Friday night's game brought forth one of the largest crowds of Burgaw ball fans as they journeyed to near-by Wallace by the droves to suport Coach Willis Johnson's local Red Devils' battle against the Wallace-Rose Hill Bulldogs.

The drop in temperature did not discourage fans, wrapped in overcoats and blankets, they cheered the Burgaw boys, supporting them right up to the end of the contest.

Even though the Red Devils were defeated 26-0, they demonstrated an excellent gridiron ability, showing a lot of determination and fighting back to the finish.

The Bulldogs did their scoring during the first three quarters.

Over 1200 State Fair Tickets To Pender Students

Over twelve hundred tickets to the North Carolina State Fair to be held in Raleigh October 15-19, have been received by T. T. Murphy, superintendent of Pender County schools for free distribution to students who wish to be guests of the fair management on either of the School Days, Tuesday, October 15, or Friday, October 18, when gate admission is free to them and when special school prices are in effect for the shows, rides and grandstand attractions.

These tickets are a part of the 280,000 being mailed this week to superintendents of all county and charter district school systems of the state.

Tuesday is known as Wake County Day and some 15,000 students and teachers from the county system and a like number of the Raleigh system are expected for the official opening ceremonies of the Fair and other special events planned for students. Friday is Young North Carolinian's Day, 4-H Club Day and Future Farmers Day. Tickets may be used for either day, but not for both.

In addition to the entertaining midway, the interesting exhibits, and the Folk Festival performances, these young fairgoers will see trotting races, both horse and pony; outstanding hippodrome and circus acts, plus other grandstand shows; famous TV and recording stars at the Arena shows, brilliant fireworks displays, and special events planned with their interest in mind.

..Spelling Bee To Feature Seven Pender Students

Among the first events to appear on the Pender County fair program on Friday, October 11th (School Day) will be the old fashioned "Spelling Bee," under the direction of W. M. Eubank of Scott's Hill, a member of the Topsail School Committee. This contest is scheduled to get underway at 6:00 P. M.

A total of seven students, one from each of the county's seven elementary schools, are to be contestants in the spelling bee. These students will come from the sixth through the eight grades.

The Fair Association will award cash prizes to the top spellers. Assisting Mr. Eubanks in arranging the contest is W. T. Batchelor, principal of Topsail School.

WELCOME TO THE FAIR!

The Pender County Agricultural Fair Association, Inc., takes great pleasure in sponsoring the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw, October 9-12. Much work has gone into preparing this educational and entertaining four-day event, and we urge each of you to participate in all phases of the 1957 Fair. At no other get-together in our area throughout the year will you see such a cross section of the life and economy of our people.

The Fair is recognized as a Pender County institution and is truly one of our best loved annual events. It brings our good people — both old and young — together for the basic purpose of making us better informed as to the progress being made in agriculture and homemaking. From the wide range of exhibits that will be displayed, visitors can readily discover how closely interwoven are all our lives and just how dependent upon one another we really are.

We wish to acknowledge with grateful appreciation the efforts of all those many groups and individuals who are helping in so many ways to make our Fair a reality and a great success. Thanks especially go to Fair Association members, County and Town officials, our schools, Agricultural and Homemaking Extension Agents and workers, Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, Home Demonstration Club members, other Clubs in the county, business firms who purchased advertising space either in the catalog or on the fairgrounds; press, radio and television representatives and countless other public-spirited citizens.

We feel confident the 1957 fair will be the best ever, and we cordially invite you, your family and friends to attend this outstanding fair. Join all Pender County citizens in saying, "It's Our Fair — and a good one, too!"

RURAL PROGRESS (Negro)

R.P.T.S. Holds First P.T.A. This Year

The first P. T. A. meeting of the year was held at Pender County Training School, September 16, at 8.00 P. M. In charge of the devotional was Mrs. Netha Paige and Rev. Willie Walker.

New teachers and parents were extended a welcome by the principal, John T. Daniel. Later in the evening a check of the parents revealed that more parents were present representing the 11th "B" grade, homeroom class of Mrs. Ida H. Jaggers, thus the attendance banner was presented to that class.

A check sheet was prepared on the various topics for discussion during the year and projects that the group plan to undertake for raising funds during the 1957-58 term. The program chairman felt that this would be of great benefit in setting up the year's program.

Officers named for the new year are: Nathaniel Clayton, President, Mrs. Eula Shiver, Vice-President; Mrs. Mary Faison, Secretary; Mrs. Lettie Graham, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. Lillie Howard, Treasurer; Mrs. M. Durham, Historian; Alfred Paige, Chaplain; Mrs. J. K. McCormick, Program Chairman; Mrs. Netha Paige, Social Chairman.

It was announced that Mrs. Georgia Barbee, Health Consultant, will conduct a P. T. A. workshop, Monday, October 7, at 8:00 P. M., at the Pender County Training School. Everyone is cordially invited.

Rev. Kessler To Begin Work With Presbyterians

Rev. Lawrence W. Kessler and family are expected to arrive in Burgaw today where he will assume duties as pastor of the Burgaw Presbyterian Church, and Hopewell Presbyterian Church, just north of Burgaw. Rev. Kessler replaces the Rev. M. G. Stimpson who resigned about a year ago to take over the pastorate of the Clarksville Presbyterian Church of Clarksville, Virginia, on November 15, 1956.

The new pastor comes to this area not as a stranger, as he is remembered by many as having pastored the Atkinson Presbyterian Church around 1935-1940. Members of the church and former friends are looking forward to having Rev. Kessler and his family as residents of this community.

Rev. and Mrs. Kessler have three children. The oldest, a 19-year-old daughter, Martha, is a sophomore at Flora MacDonald College. 14-year-old Susan, and 11-year-old Fred, are students at Burgaw School. They enrolled here earlier this year and have been residing with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hall of Watha until their parents could join them.

The new minister will be affiliated with the Wilmington Presbytery.

Rev. Jhon Staton
1736 Commonwealth Avenue
Charlotte, N. C.
September 25, 1957

Dear Sir:

Would you please put the enclosed clipping in your next paper. I am trying to contribute something to the world without any profit to myself or family, as I have no children and my home is willed to a college in their state.

I have already spent my savings and all my spare time going over cemeteries and records at my expense until I find it impossible to visit and locate all these people. There is reason to believe that there are a number of the STATON people who read your paper.

To you, I shall be forever grateful.

Sincerely,
Rev. John Staton

(Editor's Note: The article follows:)

Staton History

Rev. John Staton, of 3736 Commonwealth Ave., Charlotte, N. C., has been working for many years on the first history of the Statons. He has corresponded with the U. S. ambassadors at both Paris and London recently to document certain facts concerning a change in the original spelling around 1451. The book will be published within the next few months but before it goes to press, John desires that all Statons be included. This may be the only book of this type in our lifetime. Therefore please mail him immediately your name and wife or husband's name, date of birth, marriage date, and all your children's names, births, deaths, where married, and address if still living.

This will determine whether or not your name appears in the record, if you are a Staton, wife or child of a Staton, father or mother. This should have been done many years ago, as records are easily lost. Show this article to your relatives and send in for them if they show no interest. Please state your present address and phone number as further correspondence may be necessary. This does not cost you anything and the book will be a very good one because John is a college graduate, having taught school fifteen years, majored in history of Wingate College. He is also an ordained Baptist minister having supplied in Union, Anson and Mecklenburg counties since 1929. This is your history, please help make it the best family History ever published. Write today.

Negro Family Grateful For Aid Received

The James Williams family of Rocky Point, colored, have found Pender and surrounding counties as being warm-hearted and generous. Many will remember the loss that the Williams suffered last July when their home, automobile and all personal belongings were snuffed out by fire, while they were attending church services in Wilmington one Monday night.

An appeal was made through this newspaper for help for this family who had experienced this disaster. As a result, the Williams couple and their children have been provided shelter in a building in their community and both white and colored have responded to this appeal by contributing household furnishings, clothing, food and money. The people have been very generous and the Williams are indeed grateful.

The comparatively new frame house that lightning struck, causing the fire loss, has not been rebuilt, however, James and Ida Mae Williams are hopeful as to getting started toward that goal within the near future.

SAVE YOUR SOIL FROM THE GREEDY HAND OF EROSION

ENTER THE 1957-58 FINER FARMS PROGRAM

Keep the greedy hand of erosion from robbing your land of its valuable top soil. Years of experiment and research have developed and perfected today's effective methods of soil and water conservation. With the help of your locally elected Soil Conservation District Supervisor, put these methods to work on your farm.

To those communities which show the greatest progress in soil and water conservation until June 30, 1958, CP&L will present cash awards ranging from $350 to $50. In addition, $1000 will be presented to Boards of District Supervisors and to individual Supervisors.

These cash awards amounting to $2800 are offered to encourage an acceleration of soil and water conservation practices in the Carolinas. The real and lasting rewards will come to you as a participating farmer from greater productivity and more profit from the use of the land. Too, generations to come may profit by your efforts as your sons and daughters are taught the value of soil and water conservation practices.

If you live in one of the following North or South Carolina counties, see your Soil Conservation District Supervisor for the full details on entering your community in the 1957-58 Finer Farms Program.

3000 Exhibits At County Fair Expected To Be Viewed By Thousands

The three thousand individual exhibits at the Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw are expected to draw many favorable comments from the large number of Fairgoers who will view these notable displays. Thirteen hundred dollars in premium money will be offered at the fifth annual Fair which opens on Wednesday, October 9 and continues through Saturday, October 12.

The premium list which is published in this newspaper has been revised, and it is felt such a revision will result in many improvements in exhibits. A major change is the opening of swine exhibits and beef cattle exhibits to adult farmers. This change was desirable so the top quality purebred hogs and cattle being produced in Pender County could be placed on exhibit. The Livestock Building, constructed prior to last year's Fair, should be one of the main attractions at the 1957 Fair. The best exhibits of Angus and Hertford cattle; Duroc, Hampshire and Yorkshire hogs will each receive an award of fifteen dollars and a blue ribbon.

Junior exhibits of hogs was retained on the premium list, and several good exhibits are expected from school children.

New Items

Another important change in the premium list is in the girls' clothing department. Individual award money for first, second and third place exhibits has been increased. Some items provide an award of three dollars for first place. Several new items of clothing were added to the list this year.

Other minor adjustments have been made in the premium list. In almost all departments, items have been added that have been requested during previous Fairs. A few items appearing on the old premium list have been dropped due to no exhibits being received.

Group Exhibits

In Division III of the premium list, it has been announced that space for six special group exhibits will be provided for the following groups: 4-H Club (Boys' Work); 4-H Club (Girls' Work); Future Farmers of America; Future Homemakers of America; Home Demonstration Clubs; and Forest Service.

An award of ten dollars and a blue ribbon on a non-competitive basis is assured for each creditable exhibit.

New Division

A new division has also been added to the premium list this year. Division IV is a Special Group Educational Exhibit for Negroes. A $10.00 award and a blue ribbon will be offered for a creditable exhibit on the subject of Rural Progress.

Trophies

The Fair Association will again award trophies to the schools earning the most exhibit points under a point system. This point system has been changed this year to a system which should result in improved quality of exhibits. The change does not allow points for exhibits not winning a first, second or third placing. Otherwise the system is the same as last year - 10 points for blue ribbons, 7 points for red ribbons and 5 points for white ribbons.

Trophies to be awarded are: Senior trophy to schools with both grammar and high school departments; Junior trophy to schools having only grammar grades; and a trophy to the Negro school winning the most points under the same point system.

Much interest is already being manifested throughout the county as to which schools will score the sufficient number of exhibit points to capture the trophies that will be awarded.

Nine Departments

The individual exhibits will be classified in nine departments and one hundred thirty-six individual groups. The departments include: Livestock, Poultry, Field Crops, Horticulture, Handicrafts, Canned Goods, Clothing, Cooking and Miscellaneous.

The Exhibit Committee is composed of Mrs. Herman Murray, chairman; J. W. Sumner, Mrs. Milton Chadwick, Mrs Cecil Eakins, Mrs. Lee Wright, Mrs. Carlos Cockman, W. H. Robbins, Freeman Marshburn and C. R. Dillard.

Several other Fair Association members and interested helpers will assist in receiving and arranging the large number of exhibits that are to be entered.

Long Creek - Grady School News

Norkie Edgerton, Reporter

We have several new teachers on the faculty of Long Creek-Grady this year. They are: Mr. Alden Hicks, who teaches math and will coach the boys basketball team; Mrs. Zelma Thomasson, who teaches the eighth grade; and Miss Pauline Wooten, first grade teacher. We welcome them and hope that this school year will be a most enjoyable one for them.

We have three new bus drivers this year. They are: Thomas Nunalee, C. H. Harts, and Alfred Vernon. We hope that not only these but all of our drivers will strive to let their moto be "Safety First."

Monday was a day that was filled with excitement for the seniors, for their class rings arrived. They had been looking forward to this day for a good while.

The seniors have begun working on the senior play. The play which they have chosen to present is entitled "The Boarding House Reach." They hope to make the play a big success.

The Dramatics Club, under the leadership of Mr. A. B. Reeves, held its first meeting Monday, September 23. During the meeting the members elected the following officers for the year: Joyce Clark, President; Phyllis Rich, Vice-President; Judy Fennell, Secretary; Brenda Vernon, Treasurer; Elizabeth Hale, Reporter. The objectives decided upon by the Club members for the coming year are: (1) to present four one act plays, (2) to learn the art of applying make-up, and (3) to learn stage craft.

Sally Williams won the Spelling Contest at our school and will be our contestant in the Spelling Contest at the fair. We wish her the best of luck and know that she will make a fine representative for our school.

Holstein Cow Official Record Announced

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of an outstanding official production record by a registered Holstein cow owned by O. A. McEachern, Wilmington — milked twice daily for 294 days, Mcc Trixie Bessie 3130905 produced a total of 12,608 lbs. of milk and 422 lbs. of butterfat as a 3-year-old.

N. C. State College Department of Agriculture and Engineering working in close cooperation with the national Holstein organization, supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the Herd Improvement Registry program.

This official testing program, commonly referred to as HIR, provides continuing information and lifetime production records on every cow in participating registered Holstein herds.

Registered Holstein breeders in all 48 states are currently utilizing this basic information provided by their official records as a tool in the wise selection of individuals, families and bloodlines necessary to continued improvement of their herds.

Fame—

that the success of the Pender fairs have been noted. Pender's fair has been given statewide recognition as one of the best small county fairs in the state.

Just what goes into the production of a county fair? Few who attend the annual event realize the tremendous amount of preparation that is necessary for a well-intergrated program such as that of the Pender fair.

First a complete fair program must be outlined. This in itself is a big job, but only the first of many for the fair association. Committees must be set up to vocer various activities that comprise the event, such as youth competition in various fields of endeavor from beauty contests to homemaking, crop producing to speech-making. There are few fields in which the youth of our county may engage that are not covered in the fair calendar.

Other fields that must be covered by committee action include the securing of guests to appear during the fair, the securing of rides, concessions and fireworks, the actual assembly of the fairground, itself, and perhaps most important, the securing of funds to put the program into operation.

It is difficult for the outsider to comprehend how these many and varied activities can be organized and integrated into the united and rapid-paced entertainment that the fair provides.

A complete directory of the many key figures who have diligently worked during the past several months toward planning the spectacular event to be staged at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw October 9-12, is listed elsewhere in this edition. Each person listed therein are to be commended for his excellent work.

Local Ministers Invited To See Passion Play

Ministers of Pender County, along with those from Bladen, Brunswick, Carteret, Columbus, Duplin, New Hanover, Onslow and Sampson Counties have received complimentary tickets to attend the opening night's performance of the Original Black Hills Passion Play in Wilmington on Wednesday, October 16. Over 300 clergymen in Southeastern North Carolina have been invited by Rye B. Page, Publisher of the Star-News Newspapers. The famous drama is being sponsored by the newspapers as a public service.

The performance of Passion Play will be at Brodgen Hall, Wilmington, October 16, 17, 18 and 19. Tickets can now be secured by telephoning or by mail. Phone number is Wilmington RO 2-3311.

Now widely acclaimed as the most outstanding production of its type, the Black Hills Passion Play reconstructs faithfully the dramatic events of the seven last days of the Life of Christ on earth. Endowed with all the riches, splendor and pageantry of the Orient, this great play speaks eloquently of the love and fury of a people two thousand years ago; the Roman domination over Palestine; the devotion of the disciples and friends, and the supreme sacrifice of the Son of Man.

The play comes to Wilmington from Charlotte where it is sponsored by the Central Lions Club. Its only other appearance in the Carolinas this season will be in Charleston and Anderson.

60-yard gallop during the second quarter. This TD was called back when the Devils were penalized 5 yards.

The odds were against the Burgaw eleven Friday night when they tussled with a team which outclassed the Devils in weight, number, and experience.

Coach Johnson and his boys are not discouraged, and as was evident Friday night, they do not intend to "give up," but instead they will have renewed vigor with the expectation of breaking their present Conference rating when they encounter Richlands this coming Friday night in the Burgaw Homecoming game.

Last Friday night's support from ball fans was most encouraging. It is hoped that even more will attend this coming Friday night, lending support to your team, and enjoying the annual Homecoming program. Events for Homecoming include half-time ceremonies at which time the 1957 Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented. Ball players and their fathers will also receive special recognition, and the performance of the school band will be included in half-time ceremonies. A dance will follow the game at the American Legion Home. Make plans to attend. Support your school's team!

These three basement photographs show how a properly engineered heating system is streamlined to offer minimum friction to the high velocity flow of air. The main take-off (left), side take-off (center), and register take-off (right) are curved and banked like a streamlined highway.

The very best furnace, poorly installed, is like a car on a rocky road. It's a well-known fact that modern speed makes streamlined roads a must for motoring comfort.

With forced-air heating, the same is true. A new furnace can't produce comfort by itself. There must be streamlined highways of duct and pipe for the fast-moving air as it travels from your furnace to your rooms.

Your homes need a heating system designed by an expert comfort engineer. He'll choose the proper ducts and pipes, reduce air friction, to assure maximum comfort and economy.

BURGAW HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

CAROLYN COOPER
HATTI MAE HALL

Here we are again, reporting a few high-light happenings around Burgaw High.

Standing in the cold waiting to see the ballgame Friday night at Wallace were Teddy Karwoskie, Carol Gene Wood, Detrea Henderson, Gayle Newkirk, and Barbara Hall.

Sitting in the bleachers, all wrapped up in coats and blankets, yelling their heads off, were Betty Lou Powers, Betty Pridgen, Ann Elizabeth Jonkheer, Mary Ann Kraynick, Sonny Langston, Carolyn Cooper, Nat Wells, and Barbara Tokoly. Our red devil, Judy Futch, seemed to be having quite a time marching with the Wallace-Rose Hill band.

After the dance, a group of girls crowded into Paula Williams' station wagon and headed for Frances Allred's house for a P. J. party. Linda Sherman, Mary Ann Wolfe, Edith Ann Mallard, and Annette Blackmore could be heard until way into the night; and of all things, Carolyn Durner turned in at 1:00 A. M.

Even though Wallace beat us, our boys are still tops to us.

We are sorry to see Judy Meadows move to California, although we know she will enjoy it. Also, we miss Cecil Sasser, Charles Ruddell, and Bill Smith.

Penderlea School News

by Connie Johnson

Hi there! We're back with you after a long but not too pleasant week end. The sudden cold spell and the drenching rains are already giving us trouble. Some of the students have the sniffles while others have got what we call the "Common Cold". Before long, the "coughdrop kid" will be around. Then everyone will be serving coughdrops for refreshments. Well since it is time for everyone to catch "Mr. Common Cold", you had just as well put your feet in a pan of hot water and catch some news and gossip.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our teachers for their co-operation. We have had 100 per cent membership in the National Education Association, the North Carolina Educational Association and the local association for 11 years.

Band News - Last week the band bought a "Lighted Baton" which we are very proud of. Shirley Gurganus, the chief majorette will have the honor of using it. Shirley will make her first performance with the new baton on October 12, at the Pender County Fair. The lighted baton will also be featured in the Penderlea Halloween Carnival.

12th Grade News - We are very proud to say that Helena Gurganus is one of the girls who will represent our school in the "Miss Pender County Contest."

11th Grade News - Doris Southerland and Lois Howard are our contestants for the "Miss Pender County Contest."

We would like to congratulate them and to give them our best wishes.

10th Grade News - Rose English and Alma Garriss will represent our class and school in the "Miss Pender County Contest." We wish them the very best of luck.

9th Grade News - We are very glad to have Margie Ann Brown back with us after a brief illness.

Baseball News - We are very proud of our baseball team. They won over Atkinson 16 to 3. Our team has a record of 3 wins and 1 loss. Raeford Moore and Russel Rackley led their team with 3 hits each. Carl Ezzell pitched a very good game.

Basketball - Basketball will begin after the World Series.

"Gossip"

Sammy W. was it you who got a telephone call from Kay Whaley?

Hilda, did Raeford have anything to do with it being so cold at the football game Friday night?

Who discovered America, Kay? Edwin "Columbus" Brown, Jr.

Robert Mc, Marcelle was at the football game Friday night. Where were you?

Buzy, how long does it take you to go to Wallace on your Motorcycle?

Johnny Grimmer, how long should it take a boy to walk a girl to her door after a date? No! Not 3 minutes. Wilma, do you agree with Johnny or me? Johnny!

Sylvia, I heard you have a crush on "Butterbean" Moore. I think it's true.

Oscar, what were you and David doing at the ball game by yourselves?

Betty Sue Wood how was the party Saturday night? Was Turner there?

Betty M. and Alma G. where did I see you Friday night? No, it wasn't at the football game.

Shirley S. I heard you went with Earl Floyd the other night! What are you going to say about that? No comment.

Billy H. How are you and Barbara G. getting along?

Melvin, why don't you tell your secrets? "Girls"

Sara Nan, who's that boy who's been writing you?

Shirley G. I heard you have a crush on Billy B. Am I correct?

The truth is what hurts! SEE YOU NEXT WEEK, I hope!

Many Farmers Place Wheat In Soil Bank

The Signup under the wheat Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank Program has attracted many Tar Heel farmers, according to H. D. Godfrey State Administrative Officer for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee. Wheat farmers are now placing their acreage in the 1958 reserve program because of the fact that wheat planted for harvest next year is seeded this fall. The final date for signup under the 1958 Acreage Reserve Program on wheat is October 4, 1957.

Through September 20, 6,000 Tar Heel farmers had signed wheat under the 1958 reserve program. Agreements signed by these farmers covered 48,400 acres and will authorize a maximum payment of $1,185,000.

According to Godfrey, participation in wheat Acreage Reserve Program in North Carolina "stacks up" pretty well with participation for the nation. Through September 13, 1957, 56,231 agreements had been signed throughout the wheat producing area of the nation. These agreements had been signed throughout the wheat producing area of the nation. These agreements covered 1,511,000 acres and will make participating farmers eligible for payments totaling $30,527,000 if they comply with their agreements.

The Acreage Reserve phase of the Soil Bank Program, according to Godfrey, is aimed primarily at reducing surpluses of basic agricultural commodities. The program is available only to producers having acreage allotments. The date for the signup of other allotment crops has not been set. However, according to Godfrey, the signup will be some time next year at a date well before spring planting time.

Signup under the Conservation Reserve phase of the Soil Bank Program will begin the 15th of October. The Conservation Reserve Program, Godfrey explained, encourages the reduction of planting of cash crops and the conservation of our agricultural and wildlife resources.

Fair Association Fortunate In Having Many People To Work Long And Hard For Fair Success

Behind the fifth annual Jaycee - Pender Agricultural Fair, as behind every worthwhile and successful endeavor, there lies a commodity that is beyond monetary value that cannot be purchased no matter what the sum - people!

People who work tirelessly, who give willingly of leisure time toward the inspiration and entertainment that the Fair provides - these are the people who constitute the Pender County Fair Association. A non-professional group, they constantly turn out an ultraprofessional Fair, all without profit to themselves, other than the pride of seeing their ideas realized, the joy of watching happy people and the warmth of observing youngsters learn and develop worthy skills.

Who are some of these people? They are all neighbors, Pender County residents just like us all, united in this effort to produce the Fair each year. It is only fitting that the officers and directors of the Association be recognized in their own light as another, bigger Fair looms in the immediate future.

TRACTOR DRIVING CONTEST — Shown in above sketch is a map showing the course drivers will use in this contest on "School Day" at the Pender Fair, Friday, October 11. The contest, under the direction of W. B. Langston, principal of Long Creek-Grady School, will be held on the grounds at 2:00 p.m. Shown on the sketch is the starting point, direction contestants travel, designated points for attaching the implements, making turns, reverses, etc. Contestants, being Pender County High School students, will also be judged on speed in hooking up and detaching of the tractor implements. The contestants will probably have a choice of several different makes of tractors to drive in this contest. These will be furnished by local farm implement dealers of Pender and surrounding counties. In addition to this contest, Mr. Langston will also be in charge of the "Fifty-Yard Dash," "High Jump," "Broad Jump," "Greasy Pig" and other contests to be held during the same afternoon through 3:45 p.m. Awards will be presented after the contests. Students are encouraged to get in on the fun.

Pender Students Enter Speaking Contest

The Voice of Democracy Speaking Contest plans to be a big attraction on Friday, October 11, at 7:00 at the county fair here. The contest is a national Jaycee project and is under local sponsorship of the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce. Each high school of the county will have a representative in the speaking contest.

The five speakers will compose and deliver their individual talks not to exceed five minutes each on the subject: "I Speak For Democracy." Cash awards will be presented by the Burgaw Jaycees to the contest winners. The county winner is to be entered in state competition, and the four national winners are each to receive a valuable scholarship and a free trip to Washington, D. C.

Judges from New Hanover County have been aske dto select the county winner, according to Rev. C. Franklin Grill, Jaycee chairman of the project.

Enrollment Increase Seen At Chowan

Chowan College has experienced a 60 per cent enrollment increase in the past three years, according to a recent announcement made by John C. Gill, Jr., Director of College Relations.

The present student body of about 300 has grown from 186 in the fall of 1954. Over a longer period, it has increased over 200 per cent since 1949 when the enrollment was only 87

The college has also greatly expanded its facilities in that same eight-year period. New buildings include a gymnasium, a science building, a home for the president, a boys' dormitory, a new student center, and a graphic arts building which houses the widely-known Roy Parker School of Printing.

Enrollment at Chowan College is expected to follow the national trend, increasing steadily for the next five years. In 1962, according to the National Education Association, the number of students seeking admission to colleges will rise sharply, and will more than double by 1965.

1. The very best furnace, poorly installed, is like a car on a rocky road. It's a well-known fact that modern speed makes streamlined roads a must for motoring comfort.

2. With forced-air heating the same is true. A new furnace can't produce comfort by itself. There must be streamlined highways of ducts and pipes for the air as it moves from the furnace to your rooms.

3. Your home needs a heating system designed by an expert comfort engineer. He'll choose the proper ducts, reduce air friction, to assure maximum comfort and economy.

4. He'll make your furnace disappear, actually create an extra room for you at no extra cost. Your washday will be wonderful . . . no ducts to duck, no dirt to sweep.

Captain Howard To Serve Pender Episcopalians

Captain Henry Lee will be conducting the worship services at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Burgaw and St. Thomas' Church at Atkinson beginning this month.

Henry Lee Howard was commissioned a Captain in the Church Army at Emmanuel Church, Farmville, last February, and for the past twenty-one months has been serving churches at Deer Park, Swanston and Altamont in the Diocese of Maryland. He returned to this diocese the first of September to work for a year with the people of St. Mary's Church, Burgaw; St. Thomas, Atkinson; All Soul's, Northwest; and St. Philip's at Southport, where he and his family are residing.

The Church Army never sends a man into a field for a very long time, as the Church Army does not take the place of the regular ministry, rather the aim is to supplement and to complement the work of the regular ministry. The Church Army acts as a vanguard of the ordained ministry opening up new fields of missionary work and building up congregations that are without a priest; and then moving on to new fields when a priest takes over the work that they have established. Captain Howard turned over his work in the Diocese of Maryland to a priest before coming to East Carolina.

Captain Howard is married to the former Margaret Norman of Tarboro. They have two children, Henry Lee, Jr., and Ellen Dawn.

Worship service schedules for both the Burgaw and Atkinson Episcopal Churches are as follows: At St. Mary's, Burgaw, worship services will be held at 7:30 P. M. each first Sunday evening in the month. Morning worship services

Family Day At Jaycee-Pender Fair On Oct. 12 To Feature Big Folk Festival Of Country Music

Circle on your calendar now the dates of the fifth annual Jaycee - Pender Fair to be held at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw, October 9, 10, 11 and 12! Never in Pender County's history has such an elaborate affair been planned. Many attractions are to be featured daily, and no person should be satisfied to attend the Fair for just one day. Rather, you should make plans now to be on hand for the various activities slated each day. You will long remember the 1957 Fair, because the best has been arranged for your entertainment during the big four day event.

"Must"!

Certainly one of the "musts" on your entertainment schedule is the big two and one-half hour Folk Music Festival to be featured at the Fair on Family Day, Saturday, October 12. The Fair management has reported that Hayseed's Hilly-Billy Jubilee Team has been booked for this variety music festival. Hayseed's group is composed of a large number of outstanding musicians from several counties in southeastern North Carolina. These musicians who are currently performing on various radio and television programs in this area will entertain the large throng of Pender fairgoers expected on the closing night of the Fair. The Country Music Festival begins at 8:15 P. M. on Saturday, October 12 and will continue until 10:45 P. M.

Saturday night's program will feature many musicians, several vocalists and plenty of good comedy mixed with the absolute best in country-type and folk music.

Large Crowd

People from far and wide are expected to be in Burgaw to attend this music festival. Since the program has been scheduled as a highlight of Family Day at the Fair, all who attend are assured of a night of excellent entertainment plus the added opportunity to visit the thrilling Midway, food concession booths, the Exhibit buildings and outside military and commercial displays.

In addition to this good old-fashioned Music Festival, other events on Saturday night will include a thirty-minute concert beginning at 6:30 by Penderlea's Band, the annual contest to select Little Miss and Little Mister Pender County of 1958, and the presentation of Farm Youth Awards to for outstanding student leaders of the county.

The closing day of Pender's Fair is expected to be one of the best attended days of the Fair. More than 4,000 people - both old and young - are expected to pass through the main entrance gate during Saturday's events. Make your plans now to bring out the entire family for the final night of the Jaycee - Pender Fair in Burgaw on Saturday, October 12! All of you are assured of a wonderful time indeed!

Egg Producers Install Cooling Rooms

Egg producers in Pender county are sold on the use of egg cooling rooms, according to W. T. Chaffin, Assistant County Agent. Cool rooms have recently been installed on six farms. Half of the farms with 1,000 layers or over now have cooling facilities. The remaining half are expected to follow suit by the beginning of the next warm season.

High temperatures during the summer cause eggs to lose quality fast if they are not protected. The quality of eggs is denoted by grades AA, A, B, and C. Grades AA and A are recommended for table use and are the most popular with consumers. Grades B and C are recommended for cooking. Top grades are tasty and high in nutritive value and bring higher prices than lower grades.

The proper use of egg cooling rooms enables poultrymen to market practically 100 per cent A and AA eggs. For this reason, poultrymen interested in obtaining the highest returns from their flock are now using cooling facilities.

Rep. Barden Speaks

JENNINGS JARRETT GETS PENDER PRINCESS TITLE

BURGAW — The crowning of Miss Jennings Jarrett, 12, as "Miss Pender County Fair Princess" and an address by U. S. Rep. Graham A. Barden, were highlights of the opening day of the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair.

Rep. Barden, a former resident of Burgaw, told the audience that he was greatly thrilled when he learned that Pender County had been selected as the "Agricultural County of the Year" in North Carolina.

"The winning of this coveted award brought to the county only $1,000 in prize money but has resulted in a million dollars worth of good will as it has pointed out to the rest of the state that an area which was believed to be lagging behind for a long period was forging ahead and blazing a trail of wonderful progress," Barden said. He urged the people of Burgaw and Pender to keep the spirit alive which is so productive and is attracting so much state-wide attention.

Turning to the national scene, Barden pointed out that the strength of America depends on the people of all 48 states working together and not one section of the country running roughshod over the other.

"We are now facing a serious situation where cool heads and sound thinkers will eventually make a better solution to our problem than the present bayonet points.

"Never before in our history has it been that the first step taken to solve problems within a state was done with bayonet points instead of brains," he charged.

Barden declared that he has been criticized because he opposed the proposed federal aid to education program, and added that he would continue to oppose it as "it gives the federal government too much power over our schools."

The congressman warned that the federal government is cutting down every sources of state tax and it has now reached the point where the state must content itself with the leavings.

REP. GRAHAM BARDEN
Pender Fair Speaker

Immediately after Barden's address 21 young girls competed for the title Miss Pender County Fair Princess."

After carefully viewing the representatives from Pender's elementary schools the judges picked Jennings Jarrett.

Jennings, a student in the seventh grade at Long Creek-Grady School, is the daughter of Mrs. B. F. Williams of Currie.

The 21 contestants appeared in evening dresses. From this number 10 were selected. The field was then narrowed to five and from these five the finalist and two runners-up were selected.

Sherrie Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Phipps Sherman of Burgaw, was second place winner. Third place went to Janet Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt E. Blake of Burgaw.

Jennings received her crown and bouquet of red roses from Miss Connie Hobby, Miss North Carolina Dairy Princess, and a red ribbon bearing her title from Betty Rouse, last year's title holder.

Judges for the event were E. L. White of Wilmington, state highway commissioner; O. P. Johnson, superintendent of schools in Duplin County and Marion Ward, woman's editor of Wilmington Star.

FAIR

Fair Workers Busy With "Last Minute" Plans As Opening Nears

With the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Fair only two weeks away, Fair workers and committee members have stepped up their plans to make arrangements for an event which promises to be an outstanding one for Pender County and this area.

Various committees of the Fair Association have been making major plans since February. However, in recent months the committee members have turned their attention to some of the smaller details.

The committees are constantly busy looking after "last minute" arrangements, and the remaining two weeks prior to the Fair's opening in Burgaw on Wednesday, October 9 promise to be busy ones for Fair officials and workers.

Directors' Meeting

The Fair Association's Board of Directors are slated to hold their last meeting prior to the Fair on Monday, September 30 at 8:00 P. M., in the Courthouse at Burgaw. The President is urging every Director to be present with complete reports from the Association's nine standing committees and the special committees.

Committee reports will be presented on Program, Catalog, Rides, Public Relations, Gate, Finance, Food Concessions, Exhibits, Insurance, the New Exhibit Building and Grounds and Facilities.

Rides

Earl Myers, Rides Committee chairman, has stated Endy's Fun Fair Midway will move into the Fairgrounds on Monday, October 7. Within a few hours from then, that area will be a small city of tents, trailers, rides, shows and concession stands.

Myers reported that in accordance with terms of the contract signed by the Fair management and Endy's Shows, the Midway will open for business on Tuesday, October 8, which is one day prior to the Fair's opening date on Wednesday, October 9.

No admission will be charged at the entrance gate for those who desire to visit the Midway on Tuesday night.

Myers and his Rides Committee members are now arranging a list of volunteers to sell tickets to the various amusement attractions.

Other members of the committee are Haywood Page, Maxie J. Lanier, John English, Dr. Harold Peedin and Charles E. Sparkman.

Program

Dr. John T. Dees and Mrs. Emily C. Johnson, co-chairmen of the Program Committee, report their group is preparing a detailed timetable schedule of all Fair program activities.

This complete schedule will be mailed to those participating on the program as contestants, beauty contest judges, platform guests, supper guests, other judges and those who are assisting with the program.

The copies will be very helpful as they will contain all necessary information which outlines in detail the various events that are scheduled.

Mrs. Worth Rich, A. H. Page, W. T. Batchelor, Mrs. Herman Murray and the Rev. C. F. Grill are the remaining members of the Program Committee.

Public Relations

A very busy group is the Public Relations Committee, composed of John A. Carraway, chairman; W. C. Blackmore, vice-chairman; Gene Brown and Mrs. Frederick Coville.

The committee and other helpers are now distributing advertising material such as posters, cards, signs and bumper strips throughout the county and area. Contact has also been made with radio and television stations in southeastern North Carolina as well as the newspapers in an effort to publicize the many attractions of the 1957 Fair.

These workers are assisting in the special Fair edition of "The Pender Chronicle" that is to be published next week. Boxholder circulars outlining in full the Fair schedule of events are to be sent throughout Pender County.

Finances

Edward Ferrell and George Spayd, Jr., co-chairmen of Finances, report almost half of the commercial spaces in the tent had been sold and their committee was still busy contacting additional business firms to sell the remaining spaces. Commercial spaces inside the tent sell for twenty-five dollars and outside spaces are priced at fifteen dollars each.

Interested business establishments are asked to contact Ferrell or Spayd at once. A large number of both inside and outside commercial spaces are expected to attract the attention of the large throngs of Fairgoers who visit the Fairgrounds.

In addition to Ferrell and Spayd, others serving on the Finance Committee include P. L. Sparkman of Burgaw, Mrs. J. S. Newkirk of Watha and Mrs. Bennie Lanier of Maple Hill.

NEGRO SPEAKER—John A. Spaulding, Dist. Agent for the Southeastern District, and well known throughout the state for his outstanding work as District Extension Agent, will be the principal speaker at the Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair here on Negro Day, Thursday, October 10th. The speaker will be introduced by J. T. Daniels following the presentation of platform guests, and greetings from town and county officials at 7:00 p.m. Immediately following the address will be Negro Beauty Contest and the presentation of cash awards.

Herring will bring brief greetings to the thousands of Pender County students and their parents who are expected to be on hand during School Day. The fair begins at Pender Memorial Field on Wednesday, October 9, and continues for four days through Saturday, Oct. 12. October 12.

Letter Box

Dear Mr. Oswald:

The Pender County Agricultural Fair Association wishes to express appreciation to you and others on the Pender Chronicle staff for the outstanding and helpful spirit of cooperation which was so evident during our recent Jaycee Pender Agricultural Fair in Burgaw on October 9-12.

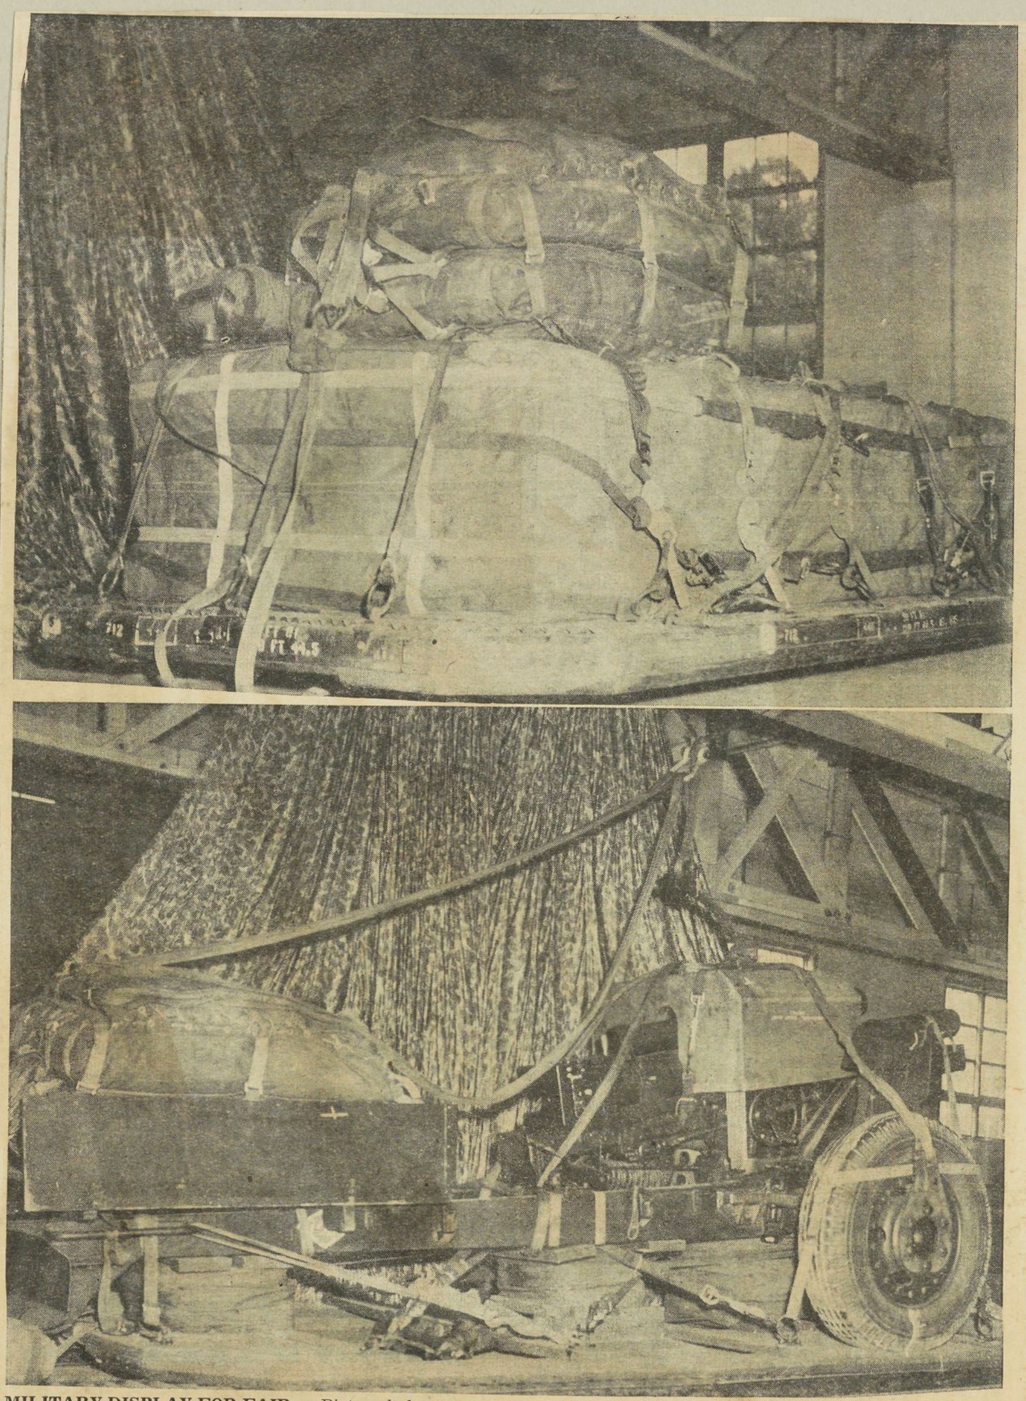
The Pender Chronicle provided excellent coverage not only during the Fair but for quite sometime previous to the opening. Especially do we commend you for the nice Fair edition on October 2 and the summarized coverage in today's paper. We certainly feel that the genuine spirit of helpfulness received from your newspaper was directly responsible for much of the Fair's great success.

Please accept our heartfelt gratitude for helping us with this important county and area agricultural event. Too, we are always grateful for the help received from you friends in publicizing any worthy project that will benefit the good people of Pender County.

The Chronicle continues to render an outstanding public service to all of our folks. May we pause to congratulate you on such successful efforts.

It's excellent to work with such a splendid newspaper staff, and all of us greatly enjoy having the Pender Chronicle in our midst! Keep the good work up!

Cordially,
Pender Co. Agricultural Fair Association
Howard Holly, Pres.



MILITARY DISPLAY FOR FAIR — Pictured above are parts of a military display to be exhibited during the Fifth Annual Jaycee-Pender Fair at Pender Memorial Field in Burgaw, October 9-12. The display is being arranged by Camp LeJeune's Second Air Delivery Platoon. Shown are two sample loads that the platoon supplies from their R4Q Aircraft (known as a Flying Box Car) to various field units. Loads to be displayed at the fairgrounds under the demonstration of five enlisted Marines are a 105 MM Howitzer and a platform of dummy ammunition for the gun. The display will be featured on a flat-bed trailer simulating the floor of a R4Q Aircraft with rollers used to eject the load. This exhibit should prove to be of great interest to thousands of fairgoers.

THOUGHTLESS SMOKERS

Oct 9, 1957

Along The Cape Fear

FIRE — Among the releases on Fire Prevention Week (this week) received from Fire Chief J. A. West of Wilmington is one that starts off "Match heads and cigarettes have no brains" and it adds "the same can be said for the 200,000 smokers in this country who persist in setting our homes and forests on fire each year." Thoughtless smokers cause these fires, Chief West said, and among the most thoughtless acts is smoking in bed. There are others, but plenty of men smokers know that what the fire chief says is all too true — because they've not only set fire to beds but have set fire to themselves at the same time. In his Rotary Club talk Tuesday he also urged year-around fire prevention and that indeed was a sound suggestion for all of us.

FAIRS AND WARMER — There'll be plenty of fairs this week and happily all indications point to warmer weather, too, which is welcome news everywhere in SENCland. The big Pender County Agricultural Fair will open today in Burgaw and U. S. Rep. Graham Barden will be the principal speaker. This fair ends Saturday but one of the events will be the beauty contest Friday night. Bladenboro's annual event is in progress now and at Tabor City the Yam Festival opens Thursday.

SHALLOTTE LIONS — The Shallotte Lions Club really put on a show the other night when one of their members, Dr. M. H. Rourk, was installed as governor of District 31-H, Lions International. It was one of the largest gathering of Lions for a district meeting ever held, an informant told us. Jack Stickley of Charlotte, immediate past president of Lions International, was on hand for the affair and was in Wilmington briefly, arriving here by plane, to continue the trip by automobile. The Shallotte Lions are to be commended for their interest in not only this event but in many other worthwhile activities.

SAMPSON COUNTY YEARBOOK — Cape Fear acknowledges with thanks and appreciation a copy of "The Sampson County Yearbook," received from the author, Mrs. Taft Bass of Clinton. Mrs. Bass' book is a highly valuable compendium of information about Sampson County, the various organizations, points of historical interest and the like. It makes a very valuable reference work. Mrs. Bass is currently serving her second term as president of the Sampson County Historical Society and also is a member of other societies and associations. — CHARLES HURST.

AT PENDER FAIR

Barden Raps Bayonet Rule

By TROY WILLIAMS
Star Staff Writer

BURGAW, Oct. 9 — An address by U. S. Rep. Graham A. Barden, Third Congressional District and the crowning of 12-year-old Jennings Jarrett as "Miss Pender County Fair Princess" were the highlights of the opening day of the fifth annual Jaycee-Pender Agricultural Fair.

Congressman Barden, a former resident of Burgaw, told the audience that he was greatly thrilled when he learned that Pender County had been selected as the "Agricultural County of the Year" in North Carolina.

"The winning of this coveted award brought to the county only $1,000 in prize money but has resulted in a million dollars worth of good will as it has pointed out to the rest of the state that an area which was believed to be lagging behind for a long period was forging ahead and blazing a trail of wonderful progress," Barden said. He urged the people of Burgaw and Pender to keep the spirit alive which is so productive and is attracting so much state-wide attention.

Turning to the national scene, Barden pointed out that the strength of America depends on the people of all 48 states working together and not one section of the country running roughshod over the other.

"We are now facing a serious situation where cool heads and sound thinkers will eventually make a better solution to our problem than the present bayonet points." (This was in obvious reference to Little Rock, Ark., where President Eisenhower has federal troops enforcing integration in the schools.)

"Never before in our history has it been that the first step taken to solve problems within a state was done with bayonet points instead of brains," he charged.

Barden declared that he has been criticized because he opposed the proposed federal aid to education program, and added that he would continue to oppose it as "it gives the federal government too much power over our schools."

The Congressman warned that the federal government is cutting down every sources of state tax and it has now reached the point where the state must content itself with the leavings.

Immediately after Barden's address 21 young girls competed for the title Miss Pender County Fair Princess."

After carefully viewing the representatives from Pender's elementary schools the judges picked Jennings Jarrett.

Jennings, a student in the seventh grade at Long Creek-Grady School, is the daughter og Mrs. B. F. Williams of Currie.

The 21 contestants appeared in evening dresses. From this number 10 were selected. The field was then narrowed to five and from these five the finalist and two runners-up were selected.

Sherrie Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Phipps Sherman of Burgaw, was second place winner. Third place went to Janet Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt E. Blake of Burgaw.

Jennings received her crown and bouquet of red roses from Miss Connie Hobby, Miss North Carolina Dairy Princess, and a red ribbon bearing her title from Betty Rouse, last year's title holder.

Judges for the event were E. L. White of Wilmington, state highway commissioner; O. P. Johnson, superintendent of schools in Duplin County and Marion Ward, woman's editor of Wilmington Star.

SCHOOL WINNERS — Maple Hill Elementary School and Burgaw High School were the winners in the exhibits at the 1957 Jaycee Pender Agriculture Fair held here last week. Mrs. Norman Wooten of Maple Hill, member of the Fair Association, accepted the trophy for the Maple Hill School in the absence of Mrs. L. L. Harvin, principal. Howard Holly, center, president of the Pender Fair Association, is shown as he presents the trophy to E. M. Thompson, Burgaw High School principal.

By MARION WARD, Star Woman's Editor

Today marks the opening of the Burgaw Fair. For weeks this event has been foremost in most people's minds — and especially the Burgaw Jaycees.

Although the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors the fair, the work is done by everybody. It is a community project and is treated as such.

A contest tonight to select "Miss Pender County Fair Princess" will be held at 8:45. A special guest will be Miss Connie Hobby, "Miss Dairy Princess of North Carolina."

Six of the seven elementary schools in Pender County will be represented in this contest. They are Burgaw, Maple Hill, Atkinson, Penderlea, Topsail and Rocky Point. Three girls from each will be competing for the honored title.

All sorts of entertainment, exhibits, rides and shows have been planned for the four-day event. However, contests ,and especially if it features local girls, it is always popular.

MORE ON FRIDAY

On Friday night there will be another contest. This time to select "Miss Pender County."

Miss Elaine Herndon, "Miss North Carolina," will be the "extra special" guest that night.

Lovely Miss Herndon is scheduled to arrive at Wilmington's Bluethenthal Airport about 5 p. m. Friday. She will be met by Burgaw Jaycees, which means Howard Holly, and escorted to a special dinner in her honor in Burgaw. This will procede her appearance at the fair.

In Friday's competition the five high schools in the county will be represented — Burgaw, Long Creek-Grady, Atkinson, Topsail and Penderlea. Approximately 25 young ladies are entered in the competition.

Other important people such as Congressman Graham A. Barden of New Bern and Washington, D. C. will be at the fair. But Congressman Barden will have stiff competition Wednesday in the form of Connie Hobby.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER

O. Y. F.

OUTSTANDING FARMER — As a result of the outstanding progress which Stanley Walker has made on his Willard dairy farm the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce recently named him Pender County's Young Farmer of the Year. Walker went into the dairy business in 1957. — Staff Photo.

Pender Choses Farmer Of Year

WILLARD — The success 34-year-old Stanley Walker enjoyed during his first year operation in the dairy business led to his recent selection as Pender County's Young Farmer of the Year. This annual award is presented by the Burgaw Junior Camber of Commerce to Pender County young farmer making the most progress during the year.

Walker, a veteran textile worker, went into the fulltime dairy business in 1957 and very quickly established a reputation as one of the best milk producers in the county.

Assistant County Agent John Wynn describes Walker as one of the hardest working farmers in Pender County and the type of milk producer which dairies would like to have hundreds more like.

At the present time Walker has 18 milkers and six heifers on his dairy farm. He averages about 10-gallons of milk per-day. He construced his six stall electric milking parlor and refrigerated milk room last year.

The purchase of five additional milkers is included among his future plans.

Walker was born and reared in Pender County and attended Burgaw and Penderlea schools. He served in the U. S. Navy, in both the Pacific and Atlantic theatres, during World War II.

After receiving his discharge from the Navy in Dec. 1943, Walker purchased 46 acres of land and added an additional 42 acres in 1956.

Walker now has his 3.1 acres tobacco allotment in the Soil Bank. "This allows me extra time to devote to my cows," he explains. He grows all the grain used for silage on his farm.

Mrs. Walker is the former Wilma Sholar of Mapel Hill. The family includes Johnny, their three and a half year old adopted son.

PENDER'S FARMER OF YEAR — Stanley C. Walker of Willard, left, is shown in above photo, just after he received the award for being selected Pender County's Young Farmer of the Year. The 34-year-old dairy farmer was selected from among many names submitted from throughout the county. The project is sponsored annually by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce. Reading left to right: Mr. Walker, Dr. John Dees, president of the Jaycees, Mrs. Stanley Walker, and his mother, Mrs. George Walker, also of Willard, Haywood Page, chairman of the project, and Mr. Walker, father of the young farmer.

NEXT WEDNESDAY will be "Poultry Day" in Pender County.

Several big events have been lined up for the day. Starting at 10 a. m. there will be a special "Poultry Day" program—the first of its kind in North Carolina—for Future Farmers of America members from throughout the county.

At 1 p.m. the Future Farmers and their guests will go to the C. F. Mallard farm at Six Forks for a Chick-N-Que.

And at 7:30 that night a March Egg Month supper will be held in the Burgaw school cafeteria with State Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine as principal speaker.

Sponsors of the events are the Pender Poultry Cooperative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, with financial support from feed dealers, hatcheries, and poultry supply dealers.

The FFA program, to be moderated by Burgaw Agriculture Teacher W. C. Blackmore, is designed to present opportunities available in all phases of poultry production in the county, and also to point out opportunities available to agricultural graduates of N. C. State College. Speakers include E. W. Glazener, C. F. Parrish, C. P. Libeau, and H. W. Garren, all of State College; William J. Jasper, a senior in poultry science at the college, and W. T. Chaffin Jr., assistant county agent, who will handle a question and answer period.

Toastmaster for the Egg Month supper will be C. F. Mallard Jr. Attending will be members of the poultry co-op and the Burgaw Jaycees, town and county officials, and other special guests, along with their wives.

The poultry industry continues to expand rapidly in Pender. This is especially true of egg and broiler production. The county's gross farm income from poultry this year is expected to exceed two million dollars. A poultry processing plant and another hatchery are expected to open in the area soon.

CHICK-N-QUE LUNCH for FFA members will open the season in Pender County for this "new and different" way to serve chicken.

Assistant Agent Chaffin says Chick-N-Que "fits in" with the modern trend toward outdoor eating. Several different types of barbecue pits can be used to prepare it. Complete information is given in Extension Folder No. 116, available at county agents' offices.

"Everyone in the Pender area," says Mr. Chaffin, "will find it good business to promote Chick-N-Que, which in turn will increase the consumption of broilers." He hopes other counties will begin similar activities to make the broiler promotion effort areawide in scope.

MARCH EGG MONTH

The FARM OBSERVER

By Bill Humphries

NEXT WEDNESDAY will be "Poultry Day" in Pender County.

Several big events have been lined up for the day. Starting at 10 a. m. there will be a special "Poultry Day" program—the first of its kind in North Carolina—for Future Farmers of America members from throughout the county.

At 1 p.m. the Future Farmers and their guests will go to the C. F. Mallard farm at Six Forks for a Chick-N-Que.

And at 7.30 that night a March Egg Month supper will be held in the Burgaw school cafeteria with State Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine as principal speaker.

Sponsors of the events are the Pender Poultry Cooperative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, with financial support from feed dealers, hatcheries, and poultry supply dealers.

The FFA program, to be moderated by Burgaw Agriculture Teacher W. C. Blackmore, is designed to present opportunities available in all phases of poultry production in the county, and also to point out opportunities available to agricultural graduates of N. C. State College. Speakers include E. W. Glazener, C. F. Parrish, C. P. Libeau, and H. W. Garren, all of State College; William J. Jasper, a senior in poultry science at the college, and W. T. Chaffin Jr., assistant county agent, who will handle a question and answer period.

Toastmaster for the Egg Month supper will be C. F. Mallard Jr. Attending will be members of the poultry co-op and the Burgaw Jaycees, town and county officials, and other special guests, along with their wives.

The poultry industry continues to expand rapidly in Pender. This is especially true of egg and broiler production. The county's gross farm income from poultry this year is expected to exceed two million dollars. A poultry processing plant and another hatchery are expected to open in the area soon.

CHICK-N-QUE LUNCH for FFA members will open the season in Pender County for this "new and different" way to serve chicken.

Assistant Agent Chaffin says Chick-N-Que "fits in" with the modern trend toward outdoor eating. Several different types of barbecue pits can be used to prepare it. Complete information is given in Extension Folder No. 116, available at county agents' offices.

"Everyone in the Pender area," says Mr. Chaffin, "will find it good business to promote Chick-N-Que, which in turn will increase the consumption of broilers." He hopes other counties will begin similar activities to make the broiler promotion effort areawide in scope.

diversification, encouraging farmers not to depend too heavily on tobacco as the single cash crop, many farms have placed new emphasis on chickens and egg production.

The success of the effort is illustrated in Pender County where the 1958 income from poultry is expected to total approximately $2 million.

Even with that growth, the processing companies are demanding even greater volumes of products.

And the county has announced plans for the construction of a new processing plant and another hatchery.

In line with the future of poultry production in the state, the Poultry Day will be designed to interest youthful farmers in the advantages of raising poultry.

Already, the evidence of interest by young farmers seems to guarantee for North Carolina and its Southeastern area a continually growing reputation as a leader in the poultry field.

N. C. Poultry Day Planned In Pender

It is only fitting that North Carolina's first "Poultry Day" should be held in Pender county.

The Future Farmers of America, with the cooperation of the Pender Poultry Cooperative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, have completed arrangements for such a day in Burgaw March 19.

It has only been in recent years that North Carolina has built a name as a poultry-producing state, and most of the credit for the reputation belongs to Pender and other Southeastern North Carolina counties.

Poultry Day Set For Pender FFA

BURGAW — The Future Farmers of America will hold North Carolinas first poultry day here March 19.

It will be held at Burgaw High School and all FFA boys in Pender County will attend.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Pender Poultry Co-operative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce The program will be conducted by the teaching, research, and extension staff of the Poultry Science Department of North Carolina State College.

The purpose of the Poultry Day is to present opportunities available in all phases of poultry production in Pender County, and also to point out opportunities available to graduates of the School of Agriculture at N. C State College.

Many FFA boys will stay in Pender County and continue to farm. Others will probably pursue further studies at some educational institution. The "Poultry Day" program has been designed to emphasize the need for many more trained people in the poultry field on the farm, in industry, and in educational agencies. The results of the program will be of great importance to the future of the poultry industry in Pender County and the entire state.

This meeting is very "timely." The poultry industry in Pender County especially egg and broiler production, continues to expand rapidly. Gross farm income in Pender County from all kinds of poultry production is expected to exceed $2,000,000 in 1958. Companies and individuals engaged in marketing these products want more volume.

A poultry processing plant is expected to locate in the area soon. Another hatchery for the area that will need 500 to 1,000 cases of eggs per week is expected to be in operation within a few weeks.

All arrangements for the Poultry Day has been handled by a special "planning committee." This committee is composed of representatives of the Pender Poultry Co-operative, the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Vocational Agriculture Teachers, and the County Agents office.

Feed dealers, hatcheries, and poultry supply dealers are supporting the project financially. Cooperation among all groups concerned has been excellent.

The program for the "Poultry Day" will begin at 10 a. m. on March 19, in the auditorium of Burgaw High School. W. C. Blackmore, Vocational Agriculture Teacher at Burgaw, will preside.

N.C. State Poultry Department Staff On Pender Program

By TROY WILLIAMS
Star SENCland Reporter

BURGAW, Feb. 27 —The entire staff of the Poultry Department of North Carolina State College will take part in the Poultry Day program to be held at Burgaw High School, March 19.

This program, held in honor of all Pender County Future Farmers of America members, marks the first time that such an event has been held in North Carolina. The event is being sponsored by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, vocational agricultural teachers, county agents and Pender County Poultry Association.

Bill Chaffin, assistant county agent, said the county was surprised and pleased at being able to obtain the department staff. "This will be an excellent time for farmers who are already engaged in a poultry enterprise or who plan to go into the poultry business in the future to receive first-hand an account of the latest scientific developments." he added.

The purpose of this meeting, Chaffin said, is to inform FFA members of the importance of educational training in modern-day farming. "We want to reach the boy who will stay on the farm as well as those who plan to further their education," he said.

Dr. Brooks James, director of instruction, will outline the advantages offered through a career in agriculture. Dr. E. W. Glazner, head of the poultry department, will be in charge of the program.

At 1 p. m. the FFA members will be the guests at a barbecue chicken feast to be held on the farm of C. F. Mallard Jr., at Six Forks.

Pender Jaycees, Poultrymen Sponsor Dinner Observing March Egg Month

The Jaycees and the Poultrymen of Pender County enjoyed a delicious "Egg and Ham" Dinner on Friday, March 22, in observance of March Egg Month. The meeting was held at 7:00 P. M. in the Burgaw School Cafeteria and the meal was prepared by Mrs. Eloise Ivey.

C. F. Mallard, Jr., a local broiler grower, served as Toastmaster. Ed Ferrell, President of the Jaycees, gave the welcome address. Speakers for the occasion were Miss Jo Anne Longacre of the New Hanover Health Department and Dr. E. W. Glazener, Head of the Poultry Science Department at North Carolina State College.

Miss Longacre spoke on the Nutritive value of Eggs. She pointed out that eggs are one of Nature's most perfect foods, high in vitamins, minerals, proteins and other important Nutrients. "Since eggs are low in calories, they are an important part of low, fat diets. Two eggs daily supply a large percentage of the daily minimum vitamin requirements for an adult," she stated. Miss Longacre pointed out that eggs are an important food for both children and adults, and especially young children.

Dr. Glazener spoke on Merchandizing Eggs and pointed out that the egg business in Pender County and throughout North Carolina is an important source of income for many farmers. He stated that the gross income from poultry was 120 million dollars in North Carolina in 1956. He also stated that Poultry Industry supported many allied industries and businesses, such as feed mills, hatcheries, equipment dealers and processing plants. Dr. Glazener stated that there are over 300 feed mills and 130 processing plants in the state. He showed the group several different types of egg cartons and discussed the advantages of each. He also congratulated the Poultry Association and the Jaycees for taking part in the promotion of

FFA Members Start 1958 Season With Chick-N-Q On "Poultry Day"

The Chick-N-Que that will be prepared for those attending the F. F. A. Poultry Day on March 19th, should serve to remind everyone that the 1958 Chick-N-Que season is just "around the corner."

Everyone in the Pender area will find it good business to promote Chick-N-Que, which in turn will increase the consumption of broilers. The sale of broilers and broiler-type hatching eggs will make up a large part of the $2,000,000 poultry income Pender County will receive in 1958. Since every citizen will benefit directly or indirectly from this business everyone will be interested in its continued progressive growth.

The Pender Poultry Co-operative, the Burgaw Jaycees, local feed dealers, and hatcheries are supporting 1958 Chick-N-Que promotion through their representatives in the over-all "planning committee" that arranged the March 19th meeting. Perhaps other counties will start similar activities tha will make the effort "area-wide." All efforts should include plans to influence individuals to serve Chick-N-Que at small family gatherings as well s meetings involving large groups.

Chick-N-Que is new and different. It "fits in" with the modern trend in outdoor eating. Many different types of barbecue pits can be used to prepare Chick-N-Que. Those that are interested in making portable home-built pits will find the following information helpful. Chick-N-Que pits can be made from 35 and 55 gallon steel drums. Each drum is cut length wise to make two portable units. 8-inch lengths of 1-2 inch steel reinforcing rod are welded to each corner. 3p-inch lengths of 1-2 inch galvanized piee are used as legs. Screens for the top of the half drum are made from reinforced rods and welded wire. The frame of the screen is made of reinfocing rods and the welded wire is attached to the inside of the frame by using No. 3 hog rings. These units will handle 10 to 15 halves of chicken.

Complete details on broiler barbecues for small or large groups can be found in Extension Folder No. 116. Callat your County Agent's Office for this information.

Bill Chaffin, assistant county agent, said the county was surprised and pleased at being able to obtain the department staff. "This wil be an excellent time for farmers who are already engaged in a poultry enterprise or who plan to go into the poultry business in the future to receive first-hand an account of the lastest scientific developments." he added.

The purpose of this meeting, Chaffin said, is to inform FFA members of the importance of educational training in modern-day farming. "We want to reach the boy who will stay on the farm as well as those who plan to further their education," he said.

GREAT FUTURE IN PENDER

Poultry Production Possibilities Told

By TROY WILLIAMS
Star SENCland Reporter

BURGAW — Four members of the department of Poultry Science at N. C. State College explained to the Future Farmers of America attending the Pender County Poultry High School day at Burgaw School Wednesday, the opportunities available in all phases of poultry production in Pender County.

Dr. E. W. Glazener, head of the department, spoke of "Careers in Agriculture and Poultry Science". "Commercial Poultry Opportunities in North Carolina and in Pender County," was the subject of the talk made by C. F. Parrish, head of State College's Poultry Extension. C. P. Libeau, poultry marketing specialist, spoke on "Contracts in Poultry Farming. H. W. Garren, associate professor, spoke on the formation of the egg and showed a movie depicting the various stages of egg development.

The meeting was sponsored by the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with county offices of state, county and local organizations.

William J. Jasper of Burgaw, a senior in poultry science at State College, told of the opportunities offered at the College.

Dr. Glazener reported that at the present time there are approximately 15 job opportunities openings for every graduate from North Carolina State College.

"Poultry industry value now exceeds 135 million dollars annually in North Carolina," Dr. Glazener said. He explained that the poultry field includes production and marketing in chicks, hatching eggs, market eggs, broilers and turkeys and added that knowledge in general poultry hushandry is an essential background in all these industries.

"The curriculum in Poultry Science at State College is designed to train students to orient into employment in various phases of the poultry industry," Dr. Glazener said.

While speaking of the commercial poultry opportunities in Pender County and North Carolina, Parrish told of "good paying jobs" with hatcheries, processing plant, feed companies, equipment and supply dealers, poultry marketing with organization and associations managers of specialty departments, educational and regulatory positions with governmental agencies, poultry production for governmental agencies, private ranches, operation of own egg producing, broiler and turkey production farms.

Libeau predicted that poultry production in Pender and Duplin counties would "probably reach the $10,000,000 mark this year" and double that within the next two years. He said the contract method of doing farm business is given the farmer a chance to do what other forms of business have been doing for hundreds of years. "The contract method of farming is putting the farmer on a business-like basis", he said.

He is in charge of the poultry program conducted through the Pender County Agent's office and has served in this capacity since 1949.

POULTRY INDUSTRY CONTRIBUTES MUCH

Pender County's fast-growing poultry industry contributes much to Pender's economic welfare.

Pender County is predominately rural and the income received from poultry and eggs is helping to boost the otherwise sagging farm income. A major portion of this poultry income is spent here in the county. In addition, Pender's poultry business represents purchases of many hundreds of thousands of dollars for supplies including feed, building materials, labor and other necessary expenses.

Farm income from layers, broilers, and turkeys in Pender County may reach $2,000,000 this year, according to W. T. Chaffin, Jr., Assistant County Agent. The growing poultry industry has already proven to be a "shot in the arm" for the economy of the area. Opportunities in poultry production have been a "bright spot" in the Pender farm picture for several years.

In 1957 the sale of hatching eggs, market eggs, broilers, and turkeys brought in approximately $1,000,000. Present indications are that this income will probably be doubled this year. New flocks of poultry are being started in almost every community of the county. Some farmers are starting in the business for the first time. Other experienced poultrymen are expanding their present flocks. New markets, new sources of financing, and need for additional farm income are mainly responsible for the increase.

More than 12 feed dealers are doing business with Pender County poultrymen. Fourteen different firms and individuals buy and sell or haul poultry products to market. There are seven wholesale markets for market eggs and six markets for hatching eggs. Five contractors deal in broilers and four deal in turkeys. All buyers are in position to increase their volume. At the present time the greatest demand is for market eggs and hatching eggs. Recently buyers have contacted the County Agents' office searching for an additional 1,600 cases of eggs per week.

As the poultry industry of the area increases in size and strength more and more farmers are using local banks, the Production Credit Association, Farmers Home Administration, and the Federal Land Bank to fin-

FIRST FFA POULTRY DAY IN PENDER

The first "Poultry Day" for Future Farmers of America to be held in North Carolina has been set for March 19th, at Burgaw High School. All FFA boys in Pender County will attend. The meeting is being sponsored by the Pender Poultry Cooperative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce. The program will be conducted by the teaching, research, and extension staff of the Poultry Science Department of North Carolina State College.

The purpose of the Poultry Day is to present opportunities available in all phases of poultry production in Pender County, and also to point out opportunities available to graduates of the School of Agriculture at N. C. State College.

Many FFA boys will stay in Pender County and continue to farm. Others will probably pursue further studies at some educational institution. The "Poultry Day" program has been designed to emphasize the need for many more trained people in the poultry field on the farm, in industry, and in educational agencies. The results of the program will be of great importance to the future of the poultry industry in Pender County and the entire state.

This meeting is very "timely." The poultry industry in Pender County, especially egg and broiler production, continues to expand rapidly. Gross farm income in Pender County from all kinds of poultry production is expected to exceed $2,000,000 in 1958. Companies and individuals engaged in marketing these products want more volume. A poultry processing plant is expected to locate in the area soon. Another hatchery for the area that will need 500 to 1,000 cases of eggs per week is expected to be in operation within a few weeks.

All arrangements for the Poultry Day has been handled by a special "planning committee." This committee is composed of representatives of the Pender Poultry Co-operative, the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Vocational Agriculture teachers, and the County Agents' office. Feed dealers, hatcheries, and poultry supply dealers are supporting the project financially. Cooperation among all groups concerned has been excellent.

The program for the "Poultry Day" will begin at 10 a.m. on March 19, in the auditorium of Burgaw High School. W. C. Blackmore, vocational agriculture teacher at Burgaw, will preside. The schedule of the program is as follows:

10:00 - 10:35 — Careers in Agriculture and Poultry Science, Dr. E. W. Glazener, head, Department of Poultry Science, N. C. State College.

10:35 - 11:10 — Commercial Poultry Opportunities in North Carolina and in Pender County, C. F. Parrish, in charge of poultry extension.

11:10 - 11:45 — Contracts in poultry farming, Dr. C. P. Libeau, poultry marketing specialist.

11:45 - 12:00 — Recess.

12:00 - 21:30—Movie and comments on the formation of the egg, Dr. H. W. Garren, associate professor, Poultry Science.

12:30 - 12:40 — Experiences impressions of State College, William J. Jasper, Senior in Poultry Science, N. C. State College.

12:40 - 1:00 — Questions and answers, W. T. Chaffin, Jr., Assistant County Agent, Pender County.

1:00 — Lunch.

At 1 p.m. everyone will go to the C. F. Mallard farm at Six Forks for a Chick-N-Que. Mallard, a recognized Chick-N-Que expert, will prepare the chickens. He will be assisted by members of the planning committee.

Commendations are in order for everyone that has assisted with the "Poultry Day." This is a good example of people working together to help themselves in promoting an industry we already have. This spirit of cooperation is good insurance that the poultry industry in Pender County will continue to grow and prosper.

More than 250 FFA boys, poultrymen, and feed dealers will attend the program. Many of the speakers are nationally known experts in their respective fields.

This will be very good opportunity for those in attendance to have their questions answered by the best qualified people available.

C. State has well justified his selection for this scholarship.

After graduation William plans to return to Pender and join his father in the poultry business.

MARCH EGG MONTH SUPPER

The Pender Poultry Cooperative and the Burgaw Junior Chamber of Commerce have completed plans for the annual March Egg Month supper. Similar meetings are being held all over the nation to stimulate the consumption of eggs. Governor Hodges started the campaign in North Carolina with a speech in Raleigh on March 5th.

The meeting will be held at the Burgaw School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 19th. C. F. Mallard, Jr., chairman of the arrangements committee, will serve as toastmaster. The speaker for the occasion will be the Honorable L. Y. Ballentine, commissioner of agriculture for North Carolina.

The meeting promises to be both interesting and educational. A spokesman for the join planning committee of the two sponsors said, "The purpose of the meeting is to promote the consumption of eggs, publicize facts regarding nutritive value and egg quality, and point out the economic importance of egg production in Pender County." The menu will include several tasty dishes prepared with eggs. The dinner is being prepared by the staff of the Burgaw school cafeteria and will be served by the Burgaw Senior 4-H Club girls. Feed dealers and hatcheries doing business with Pender County poultrymen are lending financial support to the project.

POULTRY INDUSTRY CONTRIBUTES MUCH

Pender County's fast-growing poultry industry contributes much to Pender's economic welfare.

Pender County is predominately rural and the income received from poultry and eggs is helping to boost the otherwise sagging farm income. A major portion of this poultry income is spent here in the county. In addition, Pender's poultry business represents purchases of many hundreds of thousands of dollars for supplies including feed, building materials, labor and other necessary expenses.

Farm income from layers, broilers, and turkeys in Pender County may reach $2,000,000 this year, according to W. T. Chaffin, Jr., Assistant County Agent. The growing poultry industry has already proven to be a "shot in the arm" for the economy of the area. Opportunities in poultry production have been a "bright spot" in the Pender farm picture for several years.
