Biographical Sketch

THE REVEREND LEWIS BRAXTON CAMERON, youngest of two children of John Lewis Cameron and the late Beth Etta Cameron, was born in Harnett County, North Carolina. He departed this life Sunday, morning October 12, 1980, while enroute to Lamberts Chapel Baptist Church, Siler City.

Reverend Cameron received his early education in Harnett County Public Schools, graduating from Shawtown High School, Lillington. He also attended Morris Hill College, Shaw University, and Campbell College.

He married Alvis Campbell on June 28, 1959, and from that union was born a son, Tony Braxton, in August, 1963.

Reverend Cameron is an ordained Baptist minister and has pastored in the following churches: Mount Olive Baptist Church, Moncure; Mount Moriah Baptist Church, Cameron; and Lamberts Chapel Baptist Church, Siler City,. He served for nearly 20 years as Clerk of the Deep River Missionary Baptist Association and more recently as Vice Moderator.

At the time of his death, Reverend Cameron was an employee of A & P Stores, Dunn, while serving as pastor of Mount Olive Baptist Church and Lamberts Chapel Baptist Church. He was active in religious and civic organizations in Lillington and Harnett County.

Surviving are his wife, Alvis, and son, Tony Braxton , of the home; his father, John Lewis Cameron of Lillington; a sister, Flora Barlett Olliver of Philadelphia; an aunt, Mrs. Margarett Smith of Lillington; an uncle, Burtis McNeal of Lillington; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

Another soldier gone
To get a great reward
You fought the fight and kept the faith
And now gone home to God.
