OBITUARY

On the seventeenth day of April, 1998, Walter Lee Cheek was called to his glorious home with the Lord.

Walter was blessed with eighty-one Christian-filled years of life. Because the church was the venue of his life, he served as lay-man speaker, Sunday School Superintendent, and a choir member.

He retired from Boling Chair with thirty-one years of servitude. He was also employed with the town of Siler City, as a crossing guard, for an additional twelve years.

Walter is survived by the following: his devoted loving wife of 59 years, Merrial Cheek of the home; daughters Betty Rogers and Jean Mason of Siler City, N.C.; eight sisters, Georgiana Beasley, and Margaret Edwards of Siler City, N.C., Celia Brown of Coleridge, N.C., Beatrice Wilkerson and Mahalia Parker of New Jersey, Pauline Hardy of Wilson, N.C., Sylvia Herring of Dudley, Callie Waddell of Sanford, N.C.; one brother, James Cheek of Pittsboro, N.C.; five grandchildren, Kenneth Cheek of Pittsboro, N.C., Michael Cheek of Franklinville, N.C., Pandora and James Mason of Siler City, N.C., Eddie Mason of Tampa, Fla.; four great-grandchildren, Chelsey, Coty, Desmond and Rasheed; daughters-in-law, Marjorie Cheek, Stephanie Cheek and Sonya Mason.

We all know that Brother Cheek is in a better place, because all he spoke about was "going home". Now we all can relax and think about our brother up in heaven, singing in the heavenly choir.
