

ANTHONY, the days that we shared your inner feelings and thoughts, your being ready to meet your maker. When we prayed, He promised you would be in a better place. God knows your heart, and so do we.

I remember the times we worked together in the yards, the fields, the fun we shared over the little things. Aunt Azzara you know how I feel and what to do, just pray with me and I'll get through.

Lord, give us strength to go the miles ahead and watch over your children always.

YOUR GODMOTHER,

Aunt Azzara

 Tribute Honoring Our Loved Ones

Someone close and very dear has gone away and left us here children are like roses God blesses us with their strength and beauty to enhance our lives.

It's our charge to nourish groom, love and direct those gifts 'til they are full grown.

Anthony, our rose so beautiful and strong full of life, love and courage always ready to continue on. Accommodating and respectful of his fellowman no matter what befalls him he would always lend a helping hand.

*A baby, I remember, so tender and true so trusting and wanting to be what God knew~ bless him Father for this I know is a kind heart and gentle Soul, a man.
 I will love you; Anthony always.*

Obituary

On September 3, 2000, Our Lord called to our beloved Anthony to come home.

Anthony Waddell Cheek (Ant) son of Virginia Bittle Cheek and Johnny Waddell Cheek, was born July 22, 1962 in Randolph County.

He joined Edwards Grove Missionary Baptist Church early in life, answering the call of his heart.

He leaves to mourn, his mother Virginia Bittle Cheek, of the home; father Johnny Waddell Cheek of Ramseur, North Carolina; brother Grant Bernard Cheek of the home;
 brother Tracey Bryant Cheek, and sister Sonji Siler both of Ramseur, North Carolina; one beloved late sister Veronia Cheek.

Anthony's love for his family sustained him but, God's call for him to come home was stronger. Awaiting his triumphant homecoming are late grandparents: Mrs. Letha Mae Bittle, Mr. Grant Odell and Mrs. Leona Waddell Cheek; his beloved sister Veronia Cheek. May heaven rejoice upon their Reunion.
