Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark.

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

OBITUARY

Lydia Rogers Marsh, the daughter of George and Louvenia Rogers, was born in Pittsboro, North Carolina on April 19, 1914. She was married to Ben Marsh on July 28, 1932. To them were born nine children. She was a devoted member of Evans Chapel AME Zion Church.

She was a loving and attentive mother, accomplishing her tasks and caring for her family quietly and without complaints. When she became ill several years ago, she worked at the job of getting well in her usual quiet manner. Her strength and determination were an inspiration to all of us. We realize that death is a necessary end of life, but we hoped to keep her with us. She lost her long fight for life on Sunday, October 15, 1972, at Memorial Hospital in New York, where she had been a patient for several months.

She leaves to mourn her passing: her husband, Ben Marsh of the home; her mother, Louvenia Rogers of Washington, D. C.; three sisters, Patricia Kennedy of Boston, Mass., Nellie Crawford and Cora Johnson of Washington, D. C.; a brother, Lacy Rogers of New York City; nine children, Ben Jr., of Omaha, Neb., Joseph, Irma, Jerry, and Mary of New York City, Frances Vittoro of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Frank, Helen, and Roger of Pittsboro, N. C.; five grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends.
