Transportation Plans

Society Chairman Carolyn Parlato recently appointed Ann Reed to serve as Chairman of a committee to study traffic problems within the Historic District. The committee will report its findings to the Board and will prepare recommendations to the City of Raleigh. Ms. Reed suggested at a recent Board Meeting that a preliminary analysis has revealed the following problems, goals and means:

A. Problems

1. Excessive traffic noise
2. Dangerous streets & intersections
3. Vibrations caused by large trucks

B. Goals

1. The goal of the committee is to promote Oakwood as a quiet and peaceful residential community with a village atmosphere.

C. Means

1. A 25 m.p.h. speed limit
2. 4-way stops at all streets except Person Street
3. Ban on thru traffic for trucks
4. Convert Jones & Lane Streets to two-way streets within the District

Ms. Reed further stated that Oakwood has qualities peculiar to it which make necessary certain distinctions from general residential traffic laws. These differences include the following facts;

1. Residential districts normally are not so near a major business area and thus do not have the excess of through traffic experienced in Oakwood.
2. Residential districts normally have wide streets without excessive on-street parking.

3. Residential districts normally do not have old homes constructed from materials which are affected by excessive vibrations from heavy and fast traffic as are found in Oakwood.

4. Residential districts normally do not have excessive traffic of large trucks as experienced in Oakwood.

5. Residential districts normally include houses which are farther from the streets, in contemplation of traffic noise unlike Oakwood, which was constructed in an era when transportation was less noisy.

6. Oakwood is, unlike other residential areas, designated as historic in an attempt to save an inner-city residential district, and thus aids in the revitalization of downtown Raleigh. Certain distinctions must be allowed to achieve the image of Oakwood as a peaceful district in which to maintain a residence.

Neighbor Park

From a vacant lot to a neighborhood park! Plans are underway to develop the small lot on Oakwood Avenue at Linden Avenue directly in front of the entrance to Oakwood Cemetery. The Society for the Preservation of Historic Oakwood and the Oakwood Garden Club will share in the development of the park, which will be done in stages. The first phase is to erect a picket fence around three sides of the lot. This work will start within a few days and the fence should be completed in a couple of weeks. Shade and flowering trees will be placed later along with native shrubs and blooming plants. Walkways will also be placed for the enjoyment of residents in the area. This will be another attraction to add to the Oakwood Walking Tour.
