THE Charlotte Female Institute

THE CHARLOTTE FEMALE INSTITUTE was established as a Boarding School for young ladies in 1857, and has been under the management of the present principal since 1878. During these years, under the present administration, more than $10 000 have been expended by the principal in improving the comfort and convenience of the building, as a home for its boarders. It is supplied throughout with gas; has water from the city water works on every floor; has perfect sanitary arrangements; is heated by a Gurney Hot Water Heater, and it is confidently affirmed that it is the most comfortably heated boarding school in the State, and second to none in the South in this respect.

The Principal, his whole family and the teachers all eat at the same table, and there has never been any dissatisfaction with the fare.

The distinctive character of this school appears in the rule concerning the selection of teachers, viz.: that no young and inexperienced teacher is ever employed; respect is had wholly to excellence and well-merited reputation.

THE MUSIC AND ART DEPARTMENT

Are always kept up to the highest standard of taste and culture. It is the Principal's desire and aim to do even more in this direction than has been done in the past, and to give the city of Charlotte an Institute equal to the best of the same grade North or South.

THE FALL SESSION

Commences the first Wednesday in September and closes the Saturday after the third Wednesday in January. The Spring Session commences the Monday after the third Wednesday in January and closes in the 20th week afterwards, about the first week in June.

PREFACE

This Directory is presented to our subscribers, advertisers and the public, in the hope that it may be of daily service as a book of reference on matters pertaining to the city.

It is the result of a considerable amount of laborious and careful work, and we honestly believe it to be what we have endeavored to make it, the most complete and accurate book of the kind ever published in this city.

If its reception be as cordial as we hope, it is intended to make it an annual publication.

We trust that its merits may be sufficient to ensure a kindly forbearance for its defects.

Charlotte, N. C., Introductory.

THIS city, the County seat of Mecklenburg, lies a little nearer the western than the eastern boundary of the State of North Carolina, and about ten miles from the southern boundary. Its location is high, between the valleys of the Catawba and Yadkin rivers, it is a short distance from the foot of the Blue Ridge range of mountains, and there is no disease incident to the climate.

The surrounding country is fertile, abounds in fine timber and is rich in mineral deposits. Gold has been mined extensively in this neighborhood for many years, and lately, especially, the amount of bullion purchased at the United States assay office located here is considerable, reaching during the year 1888 the sum of $285,000, and the receipts are growing larger every month. This, however, does not represent nearly the products of the gold region of which Charlotte is the centre, both ore and bullion being shipped abroad and to the North to a considerable value. The famous Rudisill and St. Catherine Gold Mines are almost within the corporate limits of the city, neither being a distance of two miles from the Court House.

The advantages offered by the numerous railroads centering here have had and must continue to have a great influence on the growth and prosperity of Charlotte, which to-day is looked upon as the most lively and vigorous city in the State.

The staple industry at present is the traffic in cotton, the amount brought into the city from the surrounding country during the season 1888-9 being about 45,000 bales, keeping busily employed the immense new compress erected in the fall of 1888.

But Charlotte has within the past few years directed her attention largely towards manufacturing, and factories are springing up as by magic. There are now here four cotton factories (three built during 1888), affording employment to 1500 hands; one large knitting mill (built in 1888); an extensive furniture factory, quite recently established, but shipping immense quantities of goods to points both North and South; a spoke and handle factory, which within two years has built up a magnificent business, doing a large home and export trade; two foundries and machine shops, manufacturing engines, saw mills, cotton presses, mining machinery, etc., and employing hundreds of hands; cotton seed oil mills, with a capacity for crushing and extracting the oil from seventy tons of seed daily; several clothing factories, turning out thousands of garments monthly and employing nearly five hundred hands; two steam flouring mills, three large planing mills, several sash and blind factories, and, as will be observed in our classified business directory, many other smaller industrial establishments. An abundance of raw material to supply these factories lies within reach of this fortunate city, and her future as an important manufacturing centre is assured.

The favored position of Charlotte in the matter of railroad facilities has led to its becoming of considerable importance as a distributing point, and as a wholesale centre it stands first of any city in the State. Numerous prosperous concerns here have constantly on the road a large number of

Y. M. C. A. HALL, CHARLOTTE.

“drummers” beating up trade throughout the South, and in the busy seasons these establishments present a lively appearance, and the streets are crowded with drays conveying goods to and from the various freight depots.

The retail stores of Charlotte present a businesslike appearance, their handsome plate glass windows filled with goods of utility and ornament displayed in tempting array giving the city a metropolitan aspect. Prices generally here compare very favorably with those of any city in the union. The stores are well supplied not only with the necessities, but also with the luxuries of life, evidencing in an unmistakable manner the general prosperity and refined tastes of this community.

The city has excellent accommodation in the way of hotels, the most prominent being the Central and the Buford, which in their equipment and management are unsurpassed by any in the South.

All the leading christian denominations have handsome church structures, several being illustrated by engravings, and a complete list being given in its proper place in this book.

Charlotte is well provided with schools both private and public, which offer advantages unsurpassed by any schools in the country.

Four excellent newspapers are published here, two daily and two weekly, having an extensive circulation in the city and surrounding country.

The Chamber of Commerce of Charlotte is an especially enterprising and progressive body. Its membership includes nearly all the leading business men of the city, and the wonderful growth of Charlotte during the past few years is largely due to the enlightened and enterprising spirit of this association.

The Banks, three in number, are on a sound financial basis, and represent an aggregate capital of $875,000.

Charlotte is governed by a mayor and twelve aldermen, three from each of the four wards into which the city is divided. These officials are elected by the people, and serve a two-years' term.

The police force, under the control of the board of aldermen, is very efficient, and the general order of the city is remarkably good, the number of arrests being few, and serious offences very rare.

A paid fire department, well supplied with necessary equipments, including electric alarms, adds materially to the safety of life and property.

The city is beautifully laid out, its streets are wide and well cared for, many of them overarched with noble shade trees. The magnificent residences of its wealthier citizens, with their extensive grounds, and the numerous charming homes of a less pretentious character, coupled with its fine churches and handsome public buildings, strikingly impress a stranger with the beauty of Charlotte.

Added to the foregoing the city has ample waterworks, gas and electric lights, street railways, free postal delivery, and in short is well equipped with the appointments necessary in these days of progress for the home of an intelligent and refined community, and all this in a climate delightful in the extreme.

COMPLETE CENSUS.

This table shows the population of the city in detail, giving the number of white and colored inhabitants of each ward, male and female.

The immediate suburbs have an aggregate population of about one thousand, thus bringing the number up to 12,610. The figures within the boundary line have been arrived at by careful and thorough canvas, and may be relied upon as correct.

Signals on Bells and Gongs.

- 1 Blow for test of line.
- 5 Blows after an alarm—Put on more water pressure.
- 2—2—2 Blows—Call for reserve Engines.
- 3 Blows for "Fire Out".
- 10 Blows repeated 3 times—General alarm.

To Key Holders.

Key holders will be particular to observe the following rules, as they will be responsible for Alarms given with their key.

Upon positive information of a fire near your Signal Box, unlock the door and PUSH the Button and then close the door; don't try to remove your key; it will be returned to you on the arrival of an officer of the Fire Department.

Never open the door except in case of a fire.

Never give an alarm except from the box nearest the fire.

Never give an alarm from your box if the fire bell or the small bell in the box is striking, as that indicates an alarm has already been given.

Never let the key go out of your possession unless to some responsible person for the purpose of giving an alarm.

How To Locate Alarms.

If the alarm is sounded from box 14, the alarm bells will strike ONE, then pause five seconds and strike FOUR thus: I—IIII; indicating fire in the neighborhood of No. 14 box. If sounded at No. 47 Box, the Alarm Bell strikes IIII—IIIIIIII. Every alarm is repeated four times at intervals of 20 seconds.

The number of the box signaling the fire will be struck upon the bells of the engine houses the water works, together with the bell upon the tower.

Keys to open signal boxes will be placed in the corner houses at the boxes.

O. F. ASBURY, Fire Marshal.

CHARLOTTE FEMALE INSTITUTE
REV. WM. R. ATKINSON, Principal

CHARLOTTE, January 14, 1889.

GURNEY HOT WATER HEATER CO., BOSTON, MASS:

Gentlemen:—I have a Gurney Hot Water Heater now heating the Charlotte Female Institute, instead of five hot air furnaces, and it makes it the most comfortably heated school building in the state at three-fourths the expense and one-tenth the trouble I formerly had.

The Heater could not be bought out of my Institute for twice what it cost

Yours very truly,

WM. R. ATKINSON.

N. B.—The Rev. W. R. Atkinson has very kindly allowed us to refer any parties interested to him.

THE LEADING DAILY IN NORTH CAROLINA

Everybody in Western North Carolina who can read, and who has a daily mail, reads THE CHRONICLE. Its market reports are the latest and freshest. Its local reports are accurate, bright, graphic and complete. Its telegraphic service is not equalled by any paper in North Carolina, or by any paper between Washington and Atlanta on the Piedmont Air Line.

TERMS OF THE DAILY CHRONICLE: One year, $7; Six Months, $3.75; Three Months, $2.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE, eight pages, published semi-weekly, $1.50.

No subscription entered on the books without the money accompany the order.

THE CHARLOTTE CHRONICLE PUB. CO., ROBERT HAYDEN, Manager.

JOB PRINTING: If you want Fine Job Work give the Chronicle a call. The Chronicle has secured the services of an artistic job printer, who has been foreman for ten years of one of the very finest job printing establishments in the East. The beauty and style of The Chronicle as a newspaper, and the beauty and style of its set advertisements, are due to the taste and skill of an expert foreman.

Matthews, North Carolina.

The town of Matthews, situated on the Carolina Central Railroad, eleven miles east of Charlotte is a thriving town of 400 inhabitants, and is surrounded by some of the best farm and mineral lands to be found in the State. Churches of various denominations, good schools, public and private, and a progressive community made up of people of refined tastes, make Matthews one of the most attractive little towns in the South. Land is very cheap, and those seeking opportunities to invest capital in farm lands or manufacturing enterprises would do well to address any of the merchants whose cards are to be found on this and the following page.

Mt. Holly, North Carolina.

On the western bank of the Catawba river and on the line of the Carolina Central Railroad, eleven miles west of Charlotte, lies Mt. Holly, one of the prettiest towns to be found in the South. Its growth has been rapid, having increased in population from 200 to 700 during the past two years. The town is composed in great part of northern settlers of the best class; it has unlimited advantages for manufacturing and farming enterprises; it has good schools, churches of various denominations, and there is now in course of erection one of the finest seminary buildings in the State. The land surrounding Mt. Holly is adapted not only to farming interests, but a considerable portion abounds in mineral formations, and timber lands. The river affords splendid fishing, and the surrounding country contains a plentiful supply of game. A refined and generous people are located here, and what with the rich and cheap lands, water powers, and other advantages, Mt. Holly is destined to become in the near future one of the leading towns of the State.

PRINTING

It is now nearly seven years since the HIRST PRINTING COMPANY was established in this city. At that time it undoubtedly "filled a long-felt want," and from its advent dates a most decided improvement in the standard of work produced here. Its success was great, and appreciation of its work general, and the class of printing that had previously been considered good enough would no longer be endured by the progressive citizens of the Charlotte of to-day.

This improvement in taste, inaugurated and fostered by this house, has continued and developed, so that a printer in this community must keep abreast of the times to satisfy the present demands of a highly critical public.

The Hirst Printing Company from its establishment was accorded the first place in its line, and quickly gained a reputation, of which it is justly proud, for the most tasteful work at uniformly reasonable prices.

This position it still maintains, and now has a more completely equipped office than any city of similar size in the South.

No work comes amiss. While proud of its reputation for artistic work, its rapid presses of latest construction and its other advantages give facilities for the production of large quantities at prices that cause surprise to those unacquainted with the "how to do it,"

By aid of the process of stereotyping—a complete foundry being included in the outfit of this establishment—orders for large quantities of work can be turned out in a marvellously short time, it being no unusual matter to deliver ten thousand handbills or programmes in three hours after receiving the order.

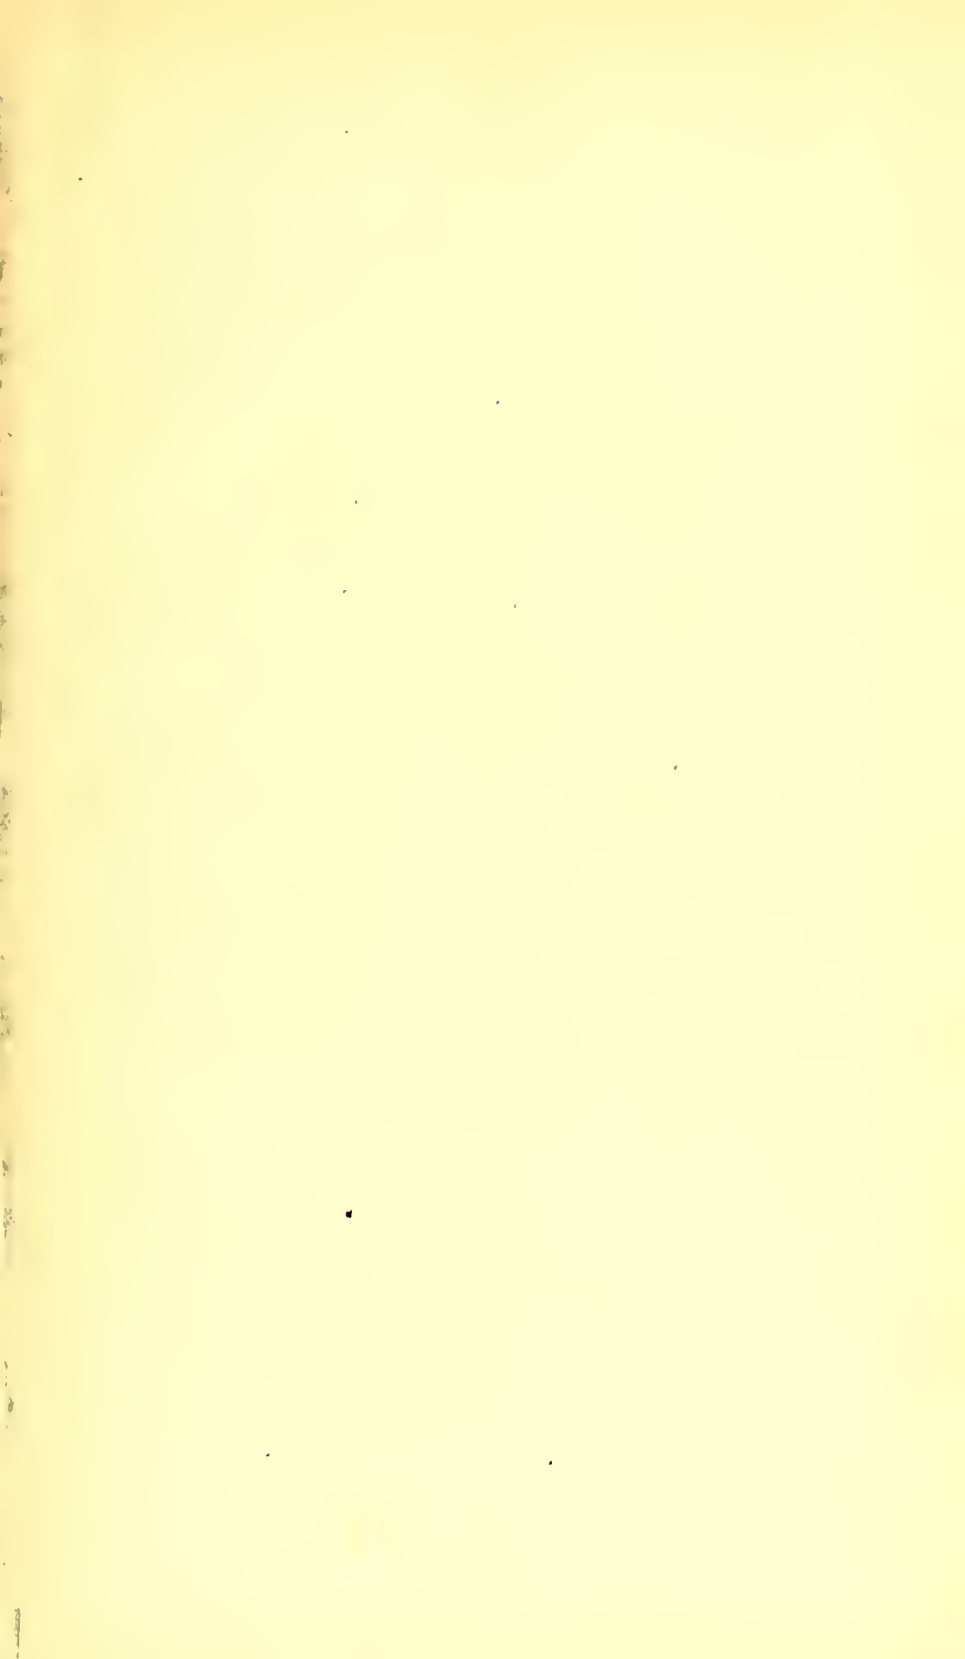

The range of work produced in this office is wide, embracing not only commercial work of every kind, such as bill heads, letter heads, cards, checks, receipts, circulars, etc., but also book and catalogue work, which is carefully handled by skilled and experienced workmen and revised by trained proof readers.

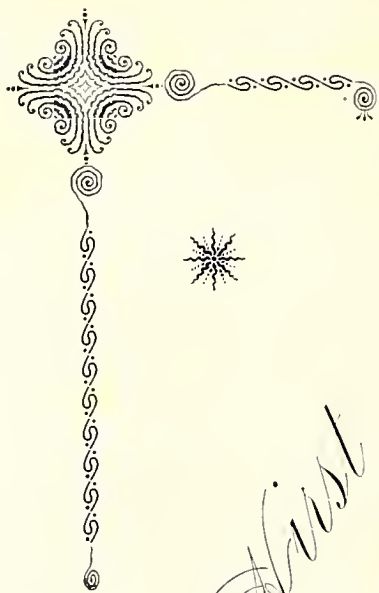

Orders, either personal or by mail, receive careful attention, and all in need of any class of printing will find it to their advantage to write or call upon this house.
