The Junior League

THE JUNIOR LEAGUE is an organization dedicated to the development of social consciousness in the individual member, and to the training of the member to use her head as well as her heart and hands in dealing with the social problems of which her League experience has made her aware.

It represents in general a serious endeavor on the part of the young woman of leisure to become an active and constructive factor in the activities of the community in which she lives and, in particular, an effort on her part to fit herself, through training and active work, to become an intelligent citizen and to bring the advantages of her education and leisure to bear on raising community standards and promoting human welfare.

It was in 1901 that the first Junior League was organized in New York. At that time Mary Harriman (Mrs. Charles Carey Rumsey) and Nathalie Henderson (Mrs. Joseph Swan) with great foresight realized the potentialities of guiding the energies of the young women of America into constructive channels. Their idea was to arouse the interest and enlist the services of the New York debutantes in some form of active service in their own neighborhoods through the settlement houses and other organizations in existence at the time. League members chose the kind of work that interested them most, and they were assigned to the districts in which they lived. In the original plan, the debutantes of each year were to give their time and energies to the raising of money through annual entertainments, and the older members were to devote their time to practical civic work. Through serving as volunteers, members were given an opportunity to learn more about their city, how it was administered, the needs of its hospitals, its schools and its other social agencies.

In 1907, Boston debutantes decided to start a Junior League in their own city. Gradually Leagues began to spring up all over the country. In 1910, Brooklyn and Portland, Oregon, joined the ranks and early in 1912, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Chicago swelled the list.

In the spring of 1912, the first national Junior League conference was held in New York with the six existing Leagues in attendance. At this time the Cleveland, Montreal and San Francisco Leagues were recognized. This was the beginning of the conferences which have taken place annually since 1917. Every year two delegates from each League gather in a city for the purpose of sharing experiences, gaining knowledge from experts for their various activities, determining Junior League policies, and adopting necessary constitutional changes. At present, technical welfare and children's theatre conferences are also held at three-year intervals.

Until 1921 the Leagues had been isolated organizations meeting to discuss their work, but with no central tie. In the spring of 1921, the Association of the Junior Leagues of America, Inc., was founded by the thirty Leagues then in existence. Mrs. Willard Straight (Mrs. Leonard K. Elmhirst) was elected president and a board of directors was appointed.

Gradually the Leagues realized that a benevolent "doing for others" was not enough, that they must form a partnership with professional community workers to effect the improvement of conditions. To do this it took knowledge. Consequently, in 1921, the first course for provisional members was established.

Up to 1930, the Association functioned chiefly as a clearing house of information about the member Leagues and made arrangements for their annual conference. At the end of this ten-year period a self-critical attitude on the part of some Leagues prompted them to seek expert guidance in their welfare activities from the Association. This in turn led to the establishment of the Welfare Department headed by a trained social worker. Field service from the department followed, for it was recognized that only by knowing a community first-hand could the Association be helpful to a League. By 1932 two field secretaries, also professional social workers, were visiting Leagues to study the local situations and give advice based on this study.

Through contacts made by the field workers with all types of agencies, the Leagues began to see more clearly the community as a whole, and their own welfare projects in proper perspective as a part of the community picture. Inevitably the result of this was a broadened interest which manifested itself by the giving of volunteer service to many community agencies instead of in one or two League-sponsored projects. From such volunteer service there grew up among League members the wish to know more about the underlying causes of social problems, the reasons for agencies, and so on. To meet these queries the Association instituted courses, given in some cases by the staff of the Welfare Department, which now numbers five, and in others by local social workers.

The success of welfare field visits led, in 1933, to field service in three other departments of the Association—Children's Theatre, Arts, and Ways and Means.

In 1940 the Community Service Department was established under the leadership of the Secretary of the former Welfare Department, incorporating the three program departments of Arts, Children's Theatre and Welfare. This was done in order to clarify and strengthen League thinking in terms of a community service program with volunteer service and education in community affairs as an "over all", and Children's Theatre and Cultural Activities as technical specialties of the whole. This department is set up with staffs for Welfare, Childrens Theatre and Cultural Activities making available to the Leagues the same services formerly given by the three separate departments but with greater co-ordination of planning.

The two additional departments which afford service to the Junior Leagues are the Junior League Magazine and the Publicity Department. The Junior League Magazine, published by the Association from September through June, circulated to the entire membership, reflects the activities of the Association and of many Junior Leagues and their members. It affords all Junior Leaguers an opportunity for expression and for exchange of opinion.

Besides interpreting the Association and its program to the public by means of newspaper, magazine, radio and motion picture publicity, the Publicity Department's cooperation is available to all League publicity chairmen to help in interpreting the Leagues' programs.

At the 1941 Conference in St. Louis, emphasis was placed on the contribution which the Association and the members could make to national defense in furthering community services, giving additional service to new programs connected with defense, and working for local co-ordination of all types of volunteer service.

The Association has had a rapid growth. At the present time there are 153 Junior Leagues, 145 of them scattered through the United States, 6 in Canada, one in Hawaii, one in Mexico, with a total membership of 35,000.

The Winston-Salem Junior League

The local chapter was organized in 1923 by about forty of the girls and young women of Winston-Salem with Mrs. Thurmond Chatham as president. We were the 46th League to be admitted to the Association, and the first in North Carolina.

During the second year, under the presidency of Mrs. Paul Montague, our League adopted the point system, and sponsored a pre-natal clinic, which, at the time, was the only one of its kind in North Carolina.

In 1925, with Mrs. Kenneth Mountcastle as president, we brought Will Rogers and de Reschke quartet to town, opened a gift shop, and began a training course for provisional members.

During Mrs. Fay Huntley Spencer's (now Mrs. Edwards) administration we undertook the financing of our Hospital for Incurables.

In March, 1928 Mrs. Charles Long become president and on the fifteenth of that month we opened a Beauty Parlor. On May fifteenth we had Paper Day. In this same year the Arts and Interests and Children's Play Committee was formed.

In 1929 Mrs. Ralph Hanes was elected president and was instrumental in starting our monthly News Sheet with Miss Dell Norfleet as its first editor.

In 1930-31, under Mrs. Elsie Hines Norfleet's (now Mrs. Chas. Siewers) leadership, we became more nationally minded with respect to the Junior Leagues of America, and began to take more active part in community affairs as well. We helped to organize the Civic Music Association, began our yearly assistance to the Community Chest Drive, opened a Rag Market (later the Thrift Shop), and initiated Occupational Therapy classes in our Hospital.

With Mrs. James Hanes as president in 1932, work began on a placement system, and under Mrs. Linville Martin in 1933, we put the system into effect.

From 1934 to '35, with Mrs. James Hanes serving her second term as president, the League's most important work was the continued operation of the Hospital for Incurables.

In 1935, under Mrs. W. H. Sprunt's presidency, the Winston-Salem Play Group was chosen to represent the medium-sized Leagues at the Children's Theatre Conference in Baltimore.

In March, 1936, Mrs. W. K. Hoyt was elected president. During her term of office we employed a Professional Placement Secretary, and the League as a whole became much more familiar with the needs of the community. On June 1, 1937, after the opening of the Forsyth County Hospital and the satisfactory placing of all our patients, the Hospital for Incurables was closed.

In the spring of 1937, we assisted in the organization of the Mental Hygiene Society of Winston-Salem. This society asked the League to finance a Child Guidance Clinic for a demonstration period, and on November 1, the Clinic was opened. Through professional Placement secretaries we were able to give specialized training to our volunteers.

In 1938, Miss Aurelia Plumly was elected president. The League continued to sponsor and finance the Child Guidance Clinic under the supervision of the Mental Hygiene Society. Our projects included assistance at the Christmas Exchange, the new Hall of History, and the presentation by Jr. Programs, Inc. which we brought to town. The chief undertaking, however, was the bringing to the community of four New York Dramas of the Contemporary Theatre Series.

With Mrs. A. S. Johnson as president in 1940, the Child Guidance Clinic was moved to new quarters, reorganized and became affiliated, through its director, with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in this city. The play group was most active and received national acclaim for its excellent work. Acting on advice from Mrs. Dingman, Secretary of Ways and Means of A. J. L. A., our budget was revised and a plan worked out for conservative spending of the surplus over and above a contingency fund.

In March, 1941, Mrs. Linville Martin was elected to serve as Director of this Region for the next two years.

We are now closing our eighteenth year of existence and hope that our usefulness to the community may continue and grow.

Reports of Officers

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

The eighteenth year of the Junior League of Winston-Salem has been successfully concluded. The reports of the officers and chairmen which follow will explain in full the broad scope and the many accomplishments of the various committees during the past year. Junior League members in every phase of volunteer work have given willingly and ably of their time and of their energies to be of service to their community.

The four main fields into which the League program has been divided are: Welfare, Culture, Education, and Finance. In the Welfare field the Child Guidance Clinic, our main project, was moved to new quarters and reorganized in February, 1941. It is now affiliated through its new director, with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in this city and is rapidly gaining in recognition throughout the state. Junior League members are giving service in this project as well as in many other social agencies in Winston-Salem. In addition, we are beginning to receive calls for more volunteers in connection with the defense program, and many sustaining members and active ones are giving supplementary aid in clinics, work-rooms, case-work, etc. The Junior League is also very much interested in the development of the Central Volunteer Bureau which is now being organized in the city.

In the field of Culture the Arts Committee, the News Sheet Staff, the City Editor, and the Scribblers Group have had well planned programs during the year, and they have contributed not only to the A. J. L. A. and to the local League, but to the community as well. The Play Group, in conjunction with the Children's Theatre Board has been most active and has received national acclaim for its excellent work. The response to the Junior League plays continues to be most gratifying, and this year the play group performed before the largest audiences in its history.

The work of the Education Committee has been to acquaint the League as far as possible with various phases of League work. Programs have been presented at five League meetings and a monthly Current Events Class has been conducted. Eleven new members were accepted as Provisionals and the Provisional Course was given by the head of a local social agency under the supervision of the Education Committee.

The financial picture of our League was greatly clarified by a visit in December, 1940 from Mrs. Robert Dingman, Secretary of Ways and Means of the A. J. L. A. Mrs. Dingman analyzed our three shops, the Junior League Gift Shop, the Junior League Thrift Shop, the Junior League Beauty Parlor, which are our chief sources of financial support, and she gave us most helpful suggestions for their improvement. As a result, the profits from these shops have risen perceptibly and the League found that it was not necessary to undertake any other Ways and Means project during the year. Mrs. Dingman also recommended that our budget be revised and that a financial statement be published, both of which recommendations were executed. At Mrs. Dingman's suggestion a plan was worked out for the conservative spending of the surplus over and above a contingency fund, and the League voted to spend a definite part of the surplus for the coming fiscal year, 1941-42.

Additional activities have included the Junior League file which has been moved to the hotel and which has been set up to meet the Association requirements. An index of all members has been completed and tabulated. A straw vote for new officers was taken prior to the report of the Nominating Committee. A party was given by the Board for the new Provisionals and the annual League banquet was held in February. Plans are now being made for our first Junior League Day in June.

The League sent two representatives to the Association Conference in Seattle, Washington in May, 1940 and two official delegates and one unofficial delegate attended the annual Conference in St. Louis, Missouri in January, 1941. The Winston-Salem League presented the name of Mrs. Linville Martin to the Regional Nominating Committee for Director of Region V and Mrs. Martin was elected in March, 1941 to serve as Director of this Region for two years.

It is with sincerest wishes and the highest expectations for the continued success of the Winston-Salem Junior League that I close this report. I have esteemed it an honor and a privilege to serve as your President during the past year. May I express my deepest appreciation to the officers, the committee chairmen, and to every member of the League for their loyal support, their friendly co-operation, and their splendid work.

Respectfully submitted,

ELEANOR W. JOHNSON

President.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY

During the past year the Junior League has held eight general meetings in the Robert E. Lee Hotel. The Executive Board has met nine times with three call meetings.

The first meeting of the fiscal year was held in April at which time the officers for 1940-41 were elected.

In May the committee for the Child Guidance Clinic recommended that the Clinic be reorganized and that it become affiliated with the Bowman Gray School of Medicine. This recommendation was accepted. Dr. C. C. Carpenter, Dean of the new Bowman Gray School of Medicine, spoke to the League. The new Executive Board of the League was read.

At the June meeting a draft of the contract between the Junior League and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine was presented. Miss Cora Rowzee spoke on the local social work program.

At the first fall meeting in October the contract between the Junior League and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine was read and accepted. Mrs. W. L. Wharton explained the organization of the new Children's Theatre Board with which the League is associated. The nominating committee was elected.

In November two delegates were elected to attend the Association Conference. The League voted to have a Junior League Day in connection with the Annual Meeting in June, and to continue to have the Provisional Banquet held in February. The League also voted to have a Thrift Shop drive in the early spring as a Ways and Means project. There was a discussion of their projects by the chairmen of the Newssheet and of the Junior League Magazine.

The president welcomed as active members the provisionals of 1940 in December and the provisionals for 1941 were announced.

Mrs. Linville K. Martin was nominated from Winston-Salem to serve as A. J. L. A. Regional Director.

The finance committee presented a skit interpreting the financial set-up of the League in January. The motion to have the Thrift Shop Drive was rescinded.

In February the new provisionals were entertained at the Forsyth Country Club, and a patriotic motif was used. The provisional skit was postponed until March.

On March 4 a straw vote was taken for new officers and a brief talk about Central Volunteer Bureaus was given by Mrs. Linville Martin.

At the April meeting the treasurer explained the 1941-42 budget. It was announced that Mrs. Linville Martin had been elected Regional Director. Officers for the coming year were elected.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGIA G. SAUNDERS

Reports of Standing Committees

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Finance Committee's chief task is the making of the yearly budget. In addition to this job the Finance Committee has the responsibility of recommending to the Executive Board any change in financial policy.

In the fiscal year 1940-41 the Finance Committee met with Mrs. Robert Dingman, A. J. L. A. Ways and Means Secretary, and discussed exhaustively the wisdom of a planned spending of surplus. After a thorough study of the situation from all possible angles the committee, with the sanction of the Board, presented this prospective change in policy to the January general meeting. The presentation was in the form of a skit. Questions were asked afterwards and the League seemed to have a better grasp of the financial set-up.

Beginning the end of February the Finance Committee began work on the budget. The completed budget was presented at the April meeting. Each member was given a mimeographed copy with explanation attached. The budget follows the new policy of a planned expenditure of surplus rather than an approach to a sympathetic but constantly called-on public.

There follows a list of investments in stocks. All securities are listed at cost price.

REPORT OF THE PLACEMENT CHAIRMAN

In this year when there were so many calls for services in connection with the defense program, Junior League volunteers have given generously of their time in keeping the record for the Red Cross Sewing Rooms, sewing and soliciting for the British War Relief, taking an active part in the annual Red Cross Roll Call, raising money for a British ambulance, taking part in the campaign for Red Cross War Relief Fund, and by forming the membership for two Red Cross classes for the study of home hygiene and care of the sick. This work was in addition to the regular Junior League volunteer program and also in addition to co-operating with other community projects such as the Christmas Cheer Committee and its Toy Bureau, the City Drama Tournament, the Civic Music Association Drive for new members, the Garden Pilgrimage, and others.

The League projects fall under 5 heads:

Cultural

I. Art Committee—Mrs. Claude Glenn, Chairman.

3 girls assisted in a poster contest held in the city schools by the city library.

10 girls assisted in the transportation of underprivileged children through the Wachovia Historical Society Museum.

5 assisted in the annual exhibit of the Community Art School.

2 girls made exhibits for the Child Guidance Clinic.

6 acted as guides in the Museum during garden week.

Total 26.

II. Children's Theatre—Mrs. Joe Rice, Chairman.

The play "Cinderella" was trouped to 11 schools in October and the following volunteers were used: Director and General Chairmen 2, Cast 7, Scenery 5, Costumes 4, Publicity 5, Business Manager 1, Properties 2, Total 26.

In April a big play "Snow White" was given in Reynolds Auditorium. The following volunteers were used: Cast 24, Costumes 10, Scenery 11, Properties 3, Publicity 3, Make-up 4, Buses 1, Ushers afternoon and evening 10, Total 66.

City Children's Theatre Board

Besides "Cinderella" the Children's Theatre Board sponsored the Michigan Little Symphony Orchestra and Junior Program's production of "Robin Hood." 8 volunteers helped with the tickets, buses and acted as ushers.

Welfare

- I. The Junior League Child Guidance Clinic—Mrs. Tom Rice, Chairman.

The clinic used the following volunteers:

House and Grounds, 1 girl.

Chauffeuring, 1 girl until January 1.

Remedial Reading, 1 girl.

Decorating new clinic building, 11 volunteers.

Clinic receptionists whose duties are to answer the telephone and meet the patients while the psychiatrist is giving dictation from 9 to 12 each morning, 14 girls.

- II. County Welfare—Mrs. Gaither Jenkins, Chairman.

The County Welfare volunteers work with neglected and dependent children under the direction of Miss Clara Dowdy, case worker for the Welfare Department. The volunteers visit and report periodically on certain city children placed in approved boarding homes in the county. They care for these children by bringing them to the Health Center, the Child Guidance Clinic, the dentist, by checking their school progress and buying clothes for them when so instructed. The League volunteers also perform services for children at the Juvenile Relief Home. At Christmas time, two girls bought and tied up Christmas packages for all of the Forsyth County girls at Samarcand Manor, a corrective school for delinquent girls. Volunteers used, 6.

- III. School Visitors—Mrs. H. B. McCorkle, Chairman.

Since the re-organization of the city and county welfare departments, the County Welfare has checked the attendance in the city schools this past year. At the first of the year a conference was held with this department to find how the Visiting Teacher group could be of most service to the schools and the community. Several times during the year the girls have helped the Welfare Department check the attendance. The Volunteer Visiting Teacher group kept its own identity since there is a vast difference between an attendance officer and a visiting teacher. Under the supervision of Miss Mary Elizabeth Judy the group has worked in three schools this past year—two elementary schools and one high school. Monthly meetings have been held with Miss Judy to discuss individual and group problems.

The most significant accomplishment of the Volunteer Visiting Teacher group has been a study course this spring under the direction of Miss Judy. The group met weekly for nearly two months and each volunteer had access to and used the text The Visiting Teacher at Work by Jane F. Culbert. Five girls participated in the study. The thinking of the group was definitely clarified as to what the real job of the Visiting Teacher should be. The text and the discussions brought out many practical points that will be of value to the members of the group.

One talk has been made to a Parent Teacher Association on what a Visiting Teacher program could do for our schools.

Mr. John Moore, Superintendent of the City Schools, wrote a note of appreciation to the group thanking the volunteers in behalf of the teachers, principals, and the school system for what the group has done this year and in the past years. Volunteers, 4.

IV. County Hospital—Mrs. E. M. Shepherd, Chairman.

The volunteers go to the home to visit, take magazines and oftentimes personal gifts requested by the patients, such as sewing material, bedroom shoes, men's hats, playing cards, a radio, etc. Two radios have been given the county home by the Kiwanis Club at the request of the chairman of this group; the other articles have been donated by members of the League or outside friends. Last Christmas each of the 67 patients in the home was remembered with gifts by the chairman and another interested League girl. Volunteers, 3.

V. Family Service Agency of the Associated Charities.

Every month 2 girls indicate on a map the sections of the city in which the cases are located. Later a study is to be made of these sections.

4 League girls sit on a case committee which meets monthly to study special cases. The chairman of the board of this agency and the chairman of the case committee are Junior League girls.

VI. Maternal Health Clinic—Miss Elizabeth Magie, Chairman.

Two League girls work here regularly. The clinic is held every other week and generally has between 10 and 12 patients, about half coming from the county and half from the city. The volunteers meet the patients, take records and case histories and assist the nurses and doctors in every way possible. The clinic is one of three in North Carolina recognized by the Birth Control Federation of America.

VII. Junior Red Cross—Mrs. Phin Horton Jr., Chairman.

Junior Red Cross, the children's division of the American Red Cross, has increased in both enrollment and interest during the past year.

Near the close of school in 1940 all Winston-Salem schools contributed substantially to the War Relief Fund, through the Junior Red Cross, adding to the quota which our city had been asked to raise. The children's fund was kept separate and used to establish homes for children under five years of age in rural areas in England.

As usual, about September 1, the Junior Red Cross Committee, composed of three Junior League girls, and one city school teacher, met with Mrs. Winifred Black, executive secretary, sitting in, and planned the work for the school year of 1940-41. Every school in Winston-Salem and in the four counties of Forsyth, Yadkin, Stokes and Davie was invited to enroll, or re-enroll, and send a representative, called a teacher sponsor, to a Junior Red Cross meeting. Their enthusiasm resulted in a most successful year, with greatest advancement in rural sections.

Perhaps the most outstanding accomplishments of the children are the following: gifts for fifty veterans at Fayetteville Government Hospital at each holiday season fifty menu covers used at Christmas dinner aboard the U. S. S. Seal; ten covers for some Braille books sent to School for Blind in Raleigh; gifts to children at the Orthopaedic Hospital at Gastonia; complete layette sent to Britain; gifts and books for children in wards at local hospitals; gifts for inmates at various local institutions; plays written and acted as chapel programs, stressing safety and health. All of these things are correlated with regular class room work.

In Charlotte recently a Red Cross Institute was held and the Junior Committee attended, getting up-to-the minute data on Junior Red Cross. Volunteers, 3.

Character Building Agencies

I. Scouts—Mrs. Julian Lowe, Chairman.

There are 34 Junior League girls volunteering in Girl Scout Work. 14 of these are members of the Scout Council who serve on the administrative committees such as program, organization, training and camp. One council member took a special training course at Southern Pines.

14 League girls are scout leaders and have troops or Brownie packs; 2 volunteers are program consultants, assisting in dancing and dramatics; 4 are members of troop committees and offer advice to scout leaders on their programs and problems.

II. Y. W. C. A.—

As chairmen and members of standing committees:

There are 22 girls serving on Y. W. C. A. committees such as Industrial Girls' Committee, Camp Committee, the Nominating Committee, the Girl Reserve Committee, and the House Furnishings Committee.

As leaders of Girl Reserves:

The work of a volunteer in the Girl Reserve Department of the Y. W. C. A. consists in acting as an adviser in one of the nine clubs in which there are approximately 914 girls between the ages of 12 and 17. All Advisers are volunteers, many of them high school teachers, four are Junior League girls.

As advisers they help carry out the idea of the girls in all their club programs, including their meetings, parties, trips to camp or their interclub events during the year. They help the girls with research and program planning. It is mainly creative work, growing out of the needs of the girls themselves and the variety means always that the volunteer work is interesting as well as instructive.

Money-Making

I. Gift Shop—Mrs. Bowman Gray, Chairman.

The duties of the girls who work at the shop are to wait on customers, see that the shop is clean, rearrange the goods, help mark new stock, deliver, decorate the windows, etc. A girl must work three hours a week for nine months to complete her year's work. Volunteers, 24.

II. Thrift Shop—Mrs. Tom Follin, Chairman.

The volunteers at the Thrift Shop collect and price the rummage, keep the shop looking attractive and wait on customers. The girls sign up for a three hour period one day a week for a month and must work nine months out of the year. Volunteers, 13.

III. Beauty Parlor—Mrs. Thomas Moore, Chairman.

9 girls assisted the chairman in work at the beauty parlor, redecorating, selling cosmetics at Christmas, planning for Emile's fashion show, etc.

IV. Fashion Show Modeling. Volunteers, 21.

Educational

Newsheet—Mrs. Marcus Wilkinson, Chairman.

REPORT OF WAYS AND MEANS

Since the Contemporary Theatre Series was discontinued and no other series of plays was available, the Ways and Means Committee investigated the possibility of bringing a single play or group of single plays to Winston-Salem. However, any contracts offered by booking agents in New York were so unfavorable and prospects so limited that this was immediately rejected. The committee then presented the Board with the possibility of sponsoring the United States Marine Band; and it was decided that rather than go before the public with a project of this kind, it would be more advisable to hold a Thrift Shop Drive in the early spring. This was voted on and accepted by the League and plans were made accordingly. In December, however, Mrs. Dingman, Secretary of Ways and Means of the A. J. L. A., advised us to withhold any specific project inasmuch as the Shops' profits and a limited expenditure of surplus could meet the budget for the year.

Respectfully submitted,

JANE C. GRAY,
 Chairman.

JUNIOR LEAGUE BEAUTY PARLOR

During the year closing April 1, 1941, the following changes were made in the beauty parlor:

$523.00 was spent on new equipment; such as dryers, shampoo chairs and various other equipment.

14 new items of supplies were purchased and used. Among these were 4 new types of permanents.

An advertising campaign was conducted in the newspapers, over the radio and by sending out cards and letters to all customers and prospective customers. Posters were placed in the Robert E. Lee Hotel.

The services of Emile of New York were secured in order to improve the efficiency of the operators, stimulate business, and arrange coiffures for the models in the fashion show which was sponsored by the beauty parlor.

3 new operators were employed. The staff of operators was increased to 6 which is the largest number of operators ever employed at the shop at any one time.

A bookkeeper was also employed in order that the Shop Manager could have more time to devote to customers, supervision of operators, and sale of merchandise.

The shop was completely redecorated during the past year.

A new line of cosmetics was installed, resulting in the increase of the volume of sales.

Arrangements were made for a resort shop to be opened in the hotel at Roaring Gap, North Carolina, during the summer months.

The net income from services increased $1,114.96 during the year.

150 new customers were gained.

Respectfully submitted,

ROSALIE H. MOORE,

Chairman Beauty Parlor Committee.

REPORT OF JUNIOR LEAGUE GIFT SHOP

The Gift Shop used during the past year an average of ten volunteers per week, each volunteer earning $1.00 per day or a total of approximately $500.00 for the clinic.

Our Christmas business was better than it has been for the past several years and with an extra paid worker and extra rent for additional space, our net profit showed an increase of $475.00 over last year.

We are carrying a more complete stock of china and crystal, including Royal Doulton, Royal Worcester, and Castleton China and 10 complete sets of stemware and samples of eleven others. Williamsburg Arts and Crafts have agreed to let us carry all reproductions of the Williamsburg Galleries—glass, china, old locks and hinges and light fixtures. We are no longer carrying silver on a consignment basis, but buying it outright instead.

The entire shop will be redecorated and additional display cabinets installed during the summer when it will interfere least with normal business.

The shop committee feels that the outlook for business during the coming year is better than it has ever been.

REPORT OF THE THRIFT SHOP

In the year 1940-41 the Thrift Shop committee, realizing a need to obtain more rummage than the $15 quota per member, sponsored two fashion shows, the admission a bundle of rummage. The response was more than gratifying.

The May fashion show sponsored by Sosniks carried us through a very profitable summer. For the October show sponsored by Montaldo's the pleas were made for bundles for Britain as well as for rummage for our Thrift Shop.

New shelves and other equipment have been added in the shop to take care of the large increase in rummage from the shows.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC REPORT

The first six months the clinic was staffed with Dr. Richie as director and Mrs. Florence Ryan as social worker. The next four months Mrs. Ryan spent in either closing the active cases or getting them ready for transfer.

The source of referrals changed slightly from the previous year when they were divided about equally among agencies, schools, and private referrals. This time the agencies represent three-fifths of the total, while the private referrals were more than twice that of the schools. The increase in the agency referrals can be explained by the special consultation service given to the social agencies by the director.

During the spring the director completed his study series for the teachers on "Mental Hygiene in the Classroom." At the same time, Mrs. Ryan concluded her meetings with the Negro NYA recreational group.

In the first ten months Mrs. Ryan gave talks on child guidance to four different classes at Salem, two groups at Reynolds High, and one group of negro social work students. She also spoke on mental hygiene topics to the Modern Mothers' group and to the Junior Service League of High Point.

Mrs. Ryan attended a number of state meetings — Dr. Groves conference in April, the annual meeting of the Charlotte Mental Hygiene Society in May, a session of the Public Welfare Institute in Chapel Hill in October, and a meeting on Mental Hygiene sponsored jointly by the State Mental Hygiene Society and the State Department of Public Welfare in Greensboro in November.

A contract between the Bowman Gray School of Medicine and the Junior League was voted on and accepted by the Junior League at the 1940 June meeting. A copy of the contract has been mimeographed to be mailed to each member with her year book.

In anticipation of the new Clinic set-up, all of the cases were closed in January with the exception of those where the mothers indicated they expected to continue Clinic treatment.

The Clinic was not open to receive applications during the month of February. The director, Dr. John A. Rose, who arrived February first and members of the League were occupied with the move to 216 Lockland Ave. Dr. Rose met and talked with several professional and lay individuals who were interested in knowing about the clinic or from whom he wished to know some aspects of other parts of the community.

The social worker, Miss Dorothy Hankins, arrived March first and the new clinic was ready for the referrals of cases. They are few in number but more than had been anticipated for the first month. The greater part of the activity of both the director and the social worker has been in acquainting the community with the existence and work of the present clinic. By invitation, speeches or talks were made to the combined staffs of the City and County Department of Public Welfare and W.P.A.; to the staff of the Family Service Agency; to the local group of the American Association of Social Workers; to the Pilot Club; to all the white elementary school teachers; to a Current Events Club; to the leaders of the Girl Reserves, to a mother's club at the Y. W. C. A.; to the Parent's Council at Summit School, etc. In addition the social worker visited the superintendent of the schools, met the supervisor of elementary education, and by her invitation visited twelve public schools, met and talked with the principals. This report does not include the many steps taken during February and March by the staff to get in touch with individual doctors, teachers, social workers, etc. in and outside of Winston-Salem, who might be expected to have an interest in the clinic. It is expected that considerable community work of an interpretative nature will be needed throughout at least the first year of the clinic's existence and that this will be needed in Greensboro, High Point, and other towns, as well as in Winston-Salem.

MARY LOUISE RICE.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE YEARLY REPORT

A Children Theatre Board, composed of local civic and educational group representatives and dedicated to the purpose of offering to the children of the community the best in cultural entertainment at a minimum cost was organized in Winston-Salem in the Fall of 1940. The Junior League had three representatives on the Board: Miss Aurealia Plumly, assistant treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Bergman and Mrs. Joe R. Rice in charge of publicity. Other members include representatives from the Parent Teachers Association; principals of elementary schools; the Little Theatre and the Junior Woman's Club. The board sponsored three programs for the first season: "Robin Hood," a ballet produced by Junior Programs of New York on November 21; a symphony for children by the Michigan Little Symphony under the direction of Thor Johnson on February 7; and "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a three-act play by the Junior League Players on April 4.

Having pioneered in the field of Children's Theatre in Winston-Salem, the Junior League felt a keen interest and pride in the organization of the Children's Theatre Board. The play group, during thirteen year's work had pointed the way to and laid the ground work for an expansive cultural program for the youth of the city. It is the play group's most outstanding performance in a good supporting role which turned out to be a "natural." As most seasoned troupers will tell you, unexpected dividends come from any sincere performance and in this case the Junior League has profited as well as the children of the community. We have an understanding of and new friendships with a number of civic groups—a harmony that comes of shoulder to shoulder work in a worthy community effort.

Beginning October 18 through October 25, the play group trouped eleven performances of "Cinderella" to the grammar schools of the city. This was our broadest Fall program, including a performance at every elementary school in the city and reaching a total audience of 5,000 children. It was so well received that the county schools offered to make any necessary arrangements to be included on our schedule and many of the schools requested a repeat performance.

On April 4 in the Reynolds Auditorium the play group presented an extravaganza, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a three-act play by Jessie Braham White. The auditorium was filled beyond capacity with all available standing room being taken. This year we successfully tested our wings in two new ventures: This was the first time League actors had undertaken this professional version of "Snow White." We gave two performances of the play—matinee and evening—rather than the usual afternoon performance. From the standpoint of scenery, costuming, acting and audience appeal we feel we have never staged a more polished or successful play. Seventy-five League volunteers and several "outside" assistants were used to produce "Snow White" and the cost of production was less than the average cost of Junior League three-act plays.

We have had an editorial and an article about the play group in the newsheet this year and will have a feature article about the play group and Children's Theatre Board in the June issue of the Junior League Magazine.

There is no finer piece of work being done in the Junior League than that being done by your Children's Theatre Department—and we are getting better every year. As our volunteer service will be given more and more to the national defense program, Children's Theatre looms in even greater importance to keep the clear perspective demanded of Americans; in this of all times, we must see that our youth has a balanced childhood, both emotionally and mentally. The play group will continue to do its part by bringing laughter and beauty into the lives of the children in this community.

Respectfully submitted,

VIRGINIA DUNKLEE RICE.

REPORT OF THE NEWS SHEET

For the year 1940-1941 nine issues of The Junior League News were published—seven 12-page issues and two 16-page issues. Our news organ is wholly financed from the sale of advertising.

In selecting material to be used the staff endeavored to publish news, opinions, and information of current League, Local, and National activities of interest to every League member.

Some of the topics used for the lead articles were: Reorganization of the Welfare Agencies in our city and county, A Central Volunteer Bureau, St. Louis Conference, the Provisional Course, and the League's Budget for 1941-42. From the editorial columns one read discussions on The Children's Theatre Board, the Provisional, Reading Ads, Total Defense, A Central Volunteer Bureau, and All Out Volunteer Service. The informative articles covered such subjects as: Placement Opportunities, The Red Cross, The Play Group, the Arts Program in the schools; three issues carried information of the Child Guidance Clinic, three articles informed us of our financial set-up and problems, the April issue was a Non-Resident issue, and "Hi-Society" appeared every time we went to print.

This year the Executive Board appropriated funds for the binding of the copies of the Newsheet for the years 1931 through 1940. This has been done and they have been placed in the League file.

On the Exchange Mailing List were the other North Carolina Leagues, one League in each State of Region V, and at least one League in every other Region of the A. J. L. A. Also at some time during this year every League in the National Association has been sent a copy of "The Junior League News."

REPORT OF PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN

All phases of Junior League work have been presented to the public through the medium of the Journal and the Sentinel and it has been the effort of the committee to acquaint the public with the wide field in which the League works.

Monthly meetings have been fully reported and any special speaker or program spotlighted. Pictures of provisional members were used as a Sunday front page Woman's Page feature and later in the year fashion show models were used as a full page Sunday feature.

The provisional course was reported more fully than it has ever been as one of the provisionals gave a well-written and comprehensive daily writeup during the entire course. The same provisional, Mary Garber, also wrote a number of articles on the visiting teacher course taken by a group of League girls. The Red Cross training course, taken by League members, was covered by several news stories and pictures.

Publicity sent from headquarters concerning Mrs. Robert Dingman's visit to our League in December was used in full and during her visit the Journal carried a staff photo of Mrs. Dingman and Mrs. Johnson with an interview with Mrs. Dingman written by Dorothy Nicholson.

A picture of Dr. Rose and an interview was published giving the set up and aims of the Child Guidance Clinic. When Miss Dorothy Hankins came the Journal carried a picture and a feature story, again giving a very clear picture of the set up of the clinic.

All social activities have been covered. The plays have received wide publicity, introduced by a story on the Children's Theatre Bureau. A feature story and a whole page layout of pictures showed the different phases of work in connection with the production of "Snow White" and told the number of volunteer workers used. Pictures taken at the dress rehearsal were featured in both newspapers.

Feature stories were also published when Mrs. Linville Martin was named director of region five—one coming from headquarters. An interview with Mrs. Martin concerning the board meeting was published.

It has been a pleasure to work with the League members as publicity chairman and special thanks are due many League members who have so graciously had their pictures made and who have helped in compiling information for news stories.

The staffs of both papers have been very co-operative and generous in every way.

Respectfully submitted,

MIRIAM V. DuBOSE,
Chairman of Publicity.

ARTS COMMITTEE

The Arts Committee aided Carnegie Public Library during National Book Week in November, by sponsoring a poster contest throughout the third grades of the elementary schools; the posters to illustrate any book or book character the child chose, all work to be entirely original. The purpose of the contest was to stimulate an interest in National Book Week in co-operation with the Library and to make the children of the city aware of the benefits of the library. Nine schools entered the contest. The first prize was an illustrated book,* the second prize a box of paints. The judges were Mr. Richard Lofton of the Community Art School, Miss Janet Berkeley, Librarian, and one member of the Arts Committee.

In observance of the 175th anniversary of the founding of Salem, and to co-operate with the Wachovia Museum Board, 60 children from the 5th grade of Skyland School were taken to the Museum. None of these children knew the Museum existed and many expressed a desire to return. The principal and teachers felt the information received helpful to the children in their study of history and in the historical background of their city as the Museum is composed of furniture, china, and relics donated by descendants of the early Moravian settlers.

Two members of the Arts Committee made miniature exhibits for the Child Guidance Clinic to be used in connection with their publicity.

In March the Committee assisted the Community Art School with their annual exhibition held at the Robert E. Lee Hotel. Cards of invitation were typed and members acted as hostesses during the three days of the exhibit.

The state garden pilgrimage was held in Winston-Salem in April. Sixteen girls assisted the local garden club as hostesses in private houses or at the Wachovia Museum. Those stationed at the Wachovia Museum wore Moravian costumes and acted as guides.

We did not bring an art exhibit here during the past year but confined our work to opportunities within the community. Several members of the Arts Committee are now serving on committees of the Wachovia Historical Society, one member of the Arts Committee is on the board of the Society and one member on the board of the Community Art School.

Respectfully submitted,

GENEVIEVE T. GLENN.

REPORT OF THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The Education Committee met twice during the year, in the fall to plan the year's program, and immediately after the provisional course to consider the results of that course.

Programs at League meetings:

May—Dr. C. C. Carpenter discussed the tie-up between the Child Guidance Clinic and The Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

November—A program on the News Sheet and the Junior League Magazine was given by the committees in charge of each. The Scribblers group presented their plan for the year.

January—To follow up Mrs. Dingman's visit in December, a skit was presented showing the financial set-up of the Winston-Salem League.

March—The provisionals gave their skit which had to be postponed from the banquet.

Provisional Course:

The Provisional Course was given during the last three weeks in January. We were fortunate in having the help and advice of Miss Mary Elizabeth Judy, Executive Secretary of the Family Service Agency of the Associated Charities, both in the planning and execution of the course. It consisted of nine morning sessions and three field trips.

At the first meeting, the President of the League and the Placement and Education chairman presented to the provisionals the purpose and philosophy of the Junior League, its placement system, and the reason for the provisional course. The subsequent seven meetings were conducted by Miss Judy who led a series of discussions on community orientation with particular reference to the local set-up. Special aspects of Junior League participation in community activities were described by members of the League. The ninth meeting was devoted to an examination covering the material just presented. The field trips included visits to the W. P. A. center, Bethlehem House, The Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, and a general tour of the city.

In addition, each provisional was asked to read "What Is Social Case Work?" by Mary Richmond, and "The Art of Helping People Out of Trouble" by Karl de Schweinitz.

The course was attended by 12 provisionals, 4 transfer members, and several board members.

Study groups:

In October a Current Events Discussion Group was formed which has met once a month starting in November. The group has used the outlines, maps, and test sent out by the "Time" Club Bureau. Twenty-one members have participated in the monthly meetings, and twenty-five took part in the "Time" Current Affairs contest in February.

The Red Cross offered members of the League a course in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. Forty members enrolled and twenty-eight received certificates for successfully completing the course.

A group of five Junior Leaguers interested in visiting teaching have meet monthly with Miss Judy for study and discussion. For a period of seven weeks they met weekly for more intensive study.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH B. GRAHAM.

REPORT OF SCRIBBLER'S CLUB, 1940-41

Our Scribbler's Club was reorganized in September 1940 after a year of inactivity. Eighteen girls were in the group: Louise Beard, Mary Belo Carlyle, Cokey Creech, Miriam DuBose, Marguerite Gorrell, Jane Gray, Mary Creech, Eleanor Johnson, Ruth Lemly, Mary Catharine Mauzy, Dot Nicholson, Virginia Pleasants, Reby Randolph, Poli Key Rogers, Tippy Ruffin, Anna Shaffner, Dot Snavelly, and Dorris Wilkinson. We had four meetings in the fall, and two in the spring, with an average attendance at each meeting of about eight girls.

With the $60 allotted the Scribbler's Club in the educational fund of the yearly budget, we were fortunate to secure Mr. Ernest Starr as our very able critic and instructor. In addition to his interesting series of lectures on the art and technique of writing, he very kindly gave much outside time to the criticism of each manuscript that was handed in. The assignments this year were mostly short stories, but several articles, two radio scripts, and some essay were also written.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY CATHARINE MAUZY,

Chairman.

REPORT OF THE MAGAZINE CHAIRMAN OF THE JUNIOR LEAGUE, 1940-41

In addition to Tidings notes the following material has been sent to the Junior League Magazine from September 1940 through May, 1941: seven articles, four short stories, one book review, two radio scripts, and fifty-five pictures. Out of this, only two pictures have been published so far, but the editors are holding several manuscripts and photographs for possible use in the near future. Mrs. Dingman is using excerpts from the articles on the Winston-Salem Thrift Shop and Gift Shop in the June Magazine. The January issue ran an article on Region V which included a snapshot of our president, Eleanor Johnson, and a paragraph explaining our League's major interests and activities.

The manuscripts submitted to the Magazine were all excellent, and I would like to thank the following girls for heir effort and co-operation in contributing material: Claire Follin, Anna Shaffner, Louise Beard, Ruth Lemly, Virginia Rice, Miriam DuBose, and Mary Garber. Exceptionally good pictures, both candid shots and posed, were submitted by Mary Lou Weeks, Marguerite Gorrrell, Susan Walker, Courtland Creech, and Lucie Walker. The Journal and Sentinel newspapers, through our publicity chairman, Miriam DuBose, have been very gracious in allowing us to use any of their pictures of League girls and League activities, and the two pictures published in the May issue under Tidings were Journal-Sentinel staff photographs.

I have kept a file of all correspondence with the Magazine editors, a list of all material sent in this year, and the 1940-41 issues of the Magazine.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY CATHARINE MAUZY,

City Editor.

The hospitality chairman together with the Junior League President called on all members transferred from other Leagues.

MARY BELO CARLYLE,
Hospitality Chairman.

REPORT OF THE CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE

The Constitution Committee suggested two changes in the Junior League Constitution and five in the By-Laws during the year.

Constitutional Changes were as follows:

ARTICLE III, Section 2, 1.

Provisional Members—those not eligible to active membership until they have complied with the requirements of the League through its twelve months training course and its volunteer system of service.

Changed to read: those not eligible to active membership until they have complied with the requirements of the League's provisional training course and its volunteer system of service.

This change draws a distinction between all volunteer service during the provisional year and the series of lectures followed by an examination held in January or February for provisional members. Adopted at the June meeting by vote of the League.

ARTICLE III, 2, 6.

. . . Sustaining members are required to pay regular dues.

Changed to read: Sustaining members are required to pay regular dues, and contribute the regular Thrift Shop quota.

The Thrift Shop Committee requested this change, explaining that if sustaining members would contribute rummage as active members do, it would mean an increase of more than $600 in value of salable stock. Adopted by vote of the League at the June meeting.

Changes in the By-Laws were as follows:

ARTICLE V., Section III, A.

Fines.—Any member who at the end of the fiscal year, running from April 1 to March 31, who has not paid her dues is given three months in which to pay them. If not paid by then, the dues are automatically doubled. If not paid by the end of six months, the delinquent member shall be automatically dropped from the roll. The only acceptable excuse is financial disability.

The change suggested involved the dropping of the last sentence in this By-Law and substituting the following:

The only acceptable excuse for non-payment of dues will be a plea of financial disability made to the Treasurer on or before the expiration of the three months' period of grace, July 1.

Adopted by the League at the November meeting.

ARTICLE I., Section I, A, 1.

(b) In the case of unexcused absense from meetings, the delinquent member shall be fined fifty cents.

Changed to read: . . . shall be fined fifty cents, except in the case of the Annual Meeting, when unexcused absentees shall be fined $1.00.

Adopted by the League at the May meeting.

ARTICLE II., Section IV., C, 1.

The board shall vote (on the slate of candidates for provisional membership presented by the Admissions Committee) by secret ballot and a three-fourths majority vote of those present at the Board meetng shall be necessary for election.

Changed to read: The entire Board shall vote by secret ballot and a three-fourths majority shall be necessary for election.

The Constitution Committee recommended here the use of absentee ballots from Board members unable to be present at the meeting.

Adopted by the League at the May meeting.

ARTICLE III., Section II., B.

Duties of Standing Committees

Changed to read: Duties of Standing Committees—All standing Committees (except the following: Nominating, Education, Finance, Children's Theatre, and Ways and Means) shall have regular monthly meetings.

In order to acquaint all committees with Board meeting procedures and discussions, as well as to facilitate the ordinary work of the committees, this change was recommended.

Adopted by the League at the May meeting.

ARTICLE V., Section III, B.

There will be a fine of fifty cents imposed upon any active or provisional member for unexcused absences from regular meetings.

Added to read: . . . regular meetings, and a fine of $1.00 imposed for unexcused absences from the Annual Meeting in June.

Adopted by the League at the May meeting.

ARTICLE VI., Section II, A.

At the completion of the training course, an examination shall be given to each candidate.

Added to read: The Education Committee shall review the papers and pass on the merit of each paper. Any candidate who fails to present a satisfactory paper shall be required to repeat the course and examination the next year.

Heretofore no person or committee has been empowered to pass on the merit of provisionals' examination papers. This change in the by-law gives this function to the Education Committee, and provides penalty for failure.

Adopted by the League at the May meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
